

Quick: Your ranch is under attack...

What do you do?

Dear Rancher,

Invasive weeds are lurking in a field near you and they're waiting to mess you up.

Non-native plants such as downy brome, leafy spurge, toadflax, ox-eye daisy and dozens more have few natural predators and are very hard to kill. Meanwhile, they're wrecking your valuable pasture and forage stands.

Soon I'll reveal 3 ways to reduce the risk of these money-burning weeds showing up on your land, but if you want 7 more I'll send them to you FREE. I'll also send them to you when you subscribe to Canadian Cattlemen magazine.

Canadian Cattlemen is like no other cattle magazine in the country. 12 times a year Canadian Cattlemen delivers money-making (and saving) know-how from the smartest cattle people in the business.

You'll find out:

- * How to shave thousands of dollars a year off of your feeding costs by tweaking your grazing system and boosting the productivity of your pastures.
- * Vet advice that gets down to business and zeros in on not just common existing conditions, but nasty animal health challenges that may be on their way here from other countries and what to do to get ready (As Mark Twain said, "History doesn't repeat itself, but it rhymes.")
- * Animal handling equipment projects that reduce stress – for you AND your valuable cattle.
- * How to finish cattle with the most profitable mix of grains – regardless of where each is on the market cycle at any given time (get your calculator handy)
- * How to safely shave your feed bill by breeding heifers at a lighter weight
- * What to do when your new bull just won't "git 'er done!" (again, no .30-30 Winchester necessary.)

PLUS:

- * How to raise healthier calves ... including an annual jumbo-sized "Calving Special" loaded with the latest calving tips
- * Marketing and financial articles that sniff out opportunities even in the midst of volatile markets
- * A calendar of upcoming sales in your area plus an annual auction market special
- * A monthly packer update that fills the gap between your operation and what's happening on supermarket shelves.

And as promised...tips on forages and how to protect them from deadly pests.
(See enclosed pasture protection card.)
