

From 'Vision to Provision in Health and Social Care'

Successful Learner – who enjoys learning, making at least good progress and achieving

To be a successful learner in Health and Social Care:

Pupils will know what the different mark bands and how they can use these to achieve their potentials. Pupils will be able to identify their own strengths and weaknesses which encourages them to be more independent with their own learning. Pupils will be reflective with their own learning and are able to use PCS to help support with their learning. Pupils will be enthusiastic about the different topics and practical activities which allows them to enjoy their learning and gains rewards on making progress.

Confident Individual – who is able to live a safe, healthy and fulfilled life

To be a confident individual in Health and Social Care:

Pupils will be able to work within groups to lead different sessions and activities to clients down at Castle Street Centre. Pupils should be confident to share their own experiences of events and share these with other pupils within the group. They will be confident to look after babies as part of their virtual baby programme to make sure the baby lives a safe and healthy life over a weekend. Some pupils may need to come out of their own comfort zones and challenge themselves to be confident when completing first aid situations.

Responsible Citizen – who makes a positive contribution to society

To be a responsible citizen in Health and Social Care:

Pupils should all take part in the Castle Street Project – working with older clients. They should attend the revision classes after school to allow them to meet the deadlines of the coursework and in preparation for the year 11 examinations. All pupils should show respect to other students within the lesson when others are giving views and opinions. Pupils will be able to appreciate others cultures and customs when visiting local nurseries. Pupil complete the babysitting qualification in which they can then make a positive contribution to helping others in society.
