

商务汉语课程介绍

Business Chinese (Fall-501) Introduction

- For Whom: Chinese proficiency at least HSK5 level or above, mastering about 2,500 vocabulary or more than 280 hours of Chinese learning, over the age of 16. Those who are interested in related fields such as finance, economics, and markets.
- Learning content: Learn how to do market research and discuss and analyze its results; how to write a plan, resume, master interview skills, adapt to new jobs and other business-related information and develop learning-related professional talent management skills.
- Learning method: Adopt Chinese-based teaching and English assisted teaching methods. Simulate a real business environment and be task-oriented to acquire relevant language knowledge and skills.