ACCESS GRANTED: YOUR GATEWAY TO SECURITY INSIGHTS

VOCAL LANTERNS: A COLLECTION OF VOICES TO UNITE, INSPIRE, AND CREATE BRIGHTER PATHWAYS FOR WOMEN IN SECURITY

Lanterns guide us when the path blurs and remind us we are never alone. Vocal Lanterns gathers voices across the security field to share candid stories, practical advice, and hard-won lessons, illuminating the path forward for women in the security industry. You'll hear from women protecting CEOs, blocking cyber threats, guarding corporate assets, and launching bold security start-ups, along with allies who have taken the torch to light the way for new voices. Proceeds from this book support Girl Security, a nonprofit organization that prepares the next generation of women in security through mentorship, training, and career opportunities. Edited and contributions provided by local chapter members and beyond – click on the title to get your copy today!

The Kindness Games

Created in September 2020 by Tim Wenzel and Lee Oughton #TheKindnessGames was started as a way to counter the disruption, hate, and discontent that has engulfed our world during the COVID-19 Pandemic and the ensuing spike of racial tensions and civil unrest. We aim to heal our relationships and communities through targeted #kindness. Get your copy of the book here today and join your Chapter Chairs to spreading a little more kindness!

AFTER THE THEFT: WHY CAMERA UPGRADES SHOULD BEGIN WITH A RISK ASSESSMENT

When thieves stole more than $80 million in jewels from the Louvre in Paris, they didn't exploit a total absence of security but rather gaps in the museum's broader security program, encompassing both aging systems and situational awareness, according to early reports. The museum's director later confirmed that the balcony used in the break-in wasn't covered by a functioning external camera; the only camera nearby faced the wrong direction. Meanwhile, French senators have questioned how a truck with an extendable lift could park the wrong way on a major road beside the museum, up against the wall, for two hours without anyone challenging it.

Security by Design: Enhancing Human Judgment in an AI-Enabled World

Every day, our brains are processing tens of thousands of sensory cues, whether we're walking down the street or working in a high-stakes environment such as an airport checkpoint, cargo terminal, or border crossing.

The Promise and Peril of How K-12 Schools Approach Behavioral Threat Assessments

A new research report found that nearly every public K-12 school in the United States used a behavioral threat assessment management (BTAM) team, or something similar, in the 2024-2025 school year. However, the report calls out plenty of areas that can be improved.

Is Your Company Culture Inhibiting Effective Workplace Safety Training?

Organizations and workforces regularly clash over the meaning of quality training as it relates to workplace security. Employers often do not understand workplace violence prevention strategies, and that lack of understanding turns into a lack of support. Managers' disinterest unintentionally sabotages their commitment to workplace safety training, and their lackluster commitment results in employees believing that management does not care about their safety.

PLATINUM SPONSOR SPOTLIGHT | VIGILANT INTEGRATED SECURITY

In an era of evolving threats and rising expectations, businesses and institutions need security that's proactive, adaptive, and smart. That's precisely what Vigilant Integrated Security (VIS) brings to the table.

Who They Are & What Drives Them

At the heart of VIS lies a compelling mission:

"In a world filled with threats, we are dedicated to vigilant observation and a seamless, integrated approach that ensures maximum security."

They don't believe in one size fits all protection. Instead, they tailor their solutions to the unique demands of each client, whether it's a high-end residential development, a Class A commercial tower, or an automotive campus.

Core Solutions: From Fixed to Mobile to Intelligence

Fixed Solutions: These are the "always on," anchor security systems – cameras, sensors, access control – built for durability, reliability, and integration with existing infrastructure. Their approach ensures continuity across daily operations.

Mobile Solutions: Designed for dynamic environments like construction sites, events, or high-risk projects, their mobile deployment systems are fast, flexible, and complaint. These services help clients minimize exposure during transitional and challenging phases.

Security Operations Center (SOC) Solutions: The crown jewel of their offering, VIS designs, builds, and operates world-class SOCs. From concept through completion, they deliver full-stack solutions to monitor, analyze, and respond to threats in real time.

The Edge: AI & Smart Analytics

VIS doesn't just deploy hardware, they harness the power of Artificial Intelligence whether cloud-hosted or on-premises. Their AI driven platform optimizes video streams, surfaces actionable insights, and seamlessly integrates into your broader security stack. The ultimate goal? More intelligence, fewer blind spots, faster responses.

Reach Out & Stay Protected

If your facility demands more than just cameras and guards - if you want intelligence, responsive, future-forwarded security - Vigilant Integrated Security is standing by.

CHAPTER NOTE FROM LEADERSHIP

As we enter the final stretch of 2025, the ASIS Greater Charlotte Chapter continues to thrive — thanks to the commitment and engagement of our 212 active members who make our community strong, relevant, and forward-looking.

First and foremost, a friendly reminder: while ASIS International now renews memberships one year from your join or renewal date, 157 of our members are set to expire on December 31, 2025. If you're among them, don't let your membership lapse — renew now to ensure uninterrupted access to all the benefits ASIS has to offer. And if your membership has already expired, the good news is that you can renew at any time; your membership will be active for one full year from your renewal or join date.

Why stay connected? Because ASIS International continues to set the standard for professional excellence in the security industry. Members gain access to globally recognized certifications (CPP, PSP, PCI, and APP), ongoing professional development, exclusive industry research, and continually updated publications—including both digital and print editions of Standards, Guidelines, security industry books, and the cornerstone Protection of Assets (POA) Manual.

Here in Charlotte, our local chapter adds another layer of value:

- In-person and virtual networking opportunities that connect you with professionals from law enforcement, corporate security, investigations, and more.
- Chapter events featuring expert guest speakers and regional security leaders.
- A welcoming community that supports both new and seasoned professionals as they navigate career transitions, certifications, and leadership development.

ASIS International has expanded member access to select on-demand webinars and training bundles at no additional cost—an excellent way to stay current on emerging security technologies and leadership topics. In addition, ASIS offers a variety of resources to help advance your career, including a mentorship program, certificate courses, job opportunities, and more.

Our chapter's growth this year is a testament to your involvement — from attending events and mentoring new members to spreading the word about the value of ASIS. If you know a colleague who could benefit from joining, please direct them to www.asisonline.org.

Questions about membership or renewal? Reach out anytime — I'm always glad to help.
