Bio:

Amy Shannon, (1972-Present). American Writer. Storyteller. Living in upstate New York, where she grew up. She juggles being a mother, writer, storyteller, and student, 24 hours a day. She shares the stories in her head by putting them on paper (virtual or real), and most of her stories focus on the strength of women. Her first story, "Unwritten Life" celebrates 10 years and since then, she has continued to write and grow her stories. (The Sars Springs Saga has 62 volumes divided up between 6 series, and 2 more series of 3 books each that are related to the story). Even though the story ended, Amy promises there will be more to come in a different series.
