EGNOS Submissions

The APPG for Aviation is campaigning for the reinstatement of EGNOS for the UK, the following actions have been undertaken to encourage the UK Government to enter negotiations with the EU

September 2026

- Publication of the Oxera Report
  The conclusion of the 2026 report is reaffirmed: a temporary reinstatement of EGNOS would deliver high value for money to the UK public. With a benefit-cost ratio of 2.63, driven by reduced airline disruption costs, avoided passenger delay, improved flight safety through reduced CFIT risk, and improved patient access to NHS care, the economic case for reinstatement remains robust. With a UK alternative system appearing unlikely to be progressing or expected for many years, the case for reinstating EGNOS remains solid

- Joint presentation (APPG for Aviation and APPG Air Ambulance UK) in Portcullis House promoting the benefits of rejoining EGNOS to MPs and Lords

October 2026

- Written Question by Lord Berkeley tabled on 20th October 2026
  Question:
  To ask His Majesty's Government what discussions they have had in the last year with the European Union about the UK rejoining the European Geostationary Navigation Overlay Service Safety of Life service for aviation. (HL4297)
  Answer:
  Lord Hendy of Richmond Hill:
  The department is currently undertaking a review of the transport case and practicalities of rejoining the European Geostationary Navigation Overlay System (EGNOS). The aim is for a decision to be made by the end of the year following this review. Any negotiations with the European Union would be subject to the outcome of this review and as such, no formal discussions with the European Union have yet begun.
