Yes, I am comfortable speaking and sharing my ideas in class. The teacher does not put pressure on anyone and allows us to express ourselves freely. In addition, we have the opportunity to work in small groups with a partner that we are comfortable with, which makes it easier to participate and share ideas.

I find our classroom as a welcoming space where I can freely share my thoughts without worrying about making mistakes. The supportive atmosphere really encourages me to participate actively. I appreciate that you and my groupmates are always ready to offer guidance and constructive feedback, which helps me grow and learn. This sense of community makes me feel confident in expressing my ideas and contributes to my overall enjoyment of the learning process.
