

Vexa Terms of Service

Effective Date: May 27, 2026

1. Acceptance of Terms

By inviting, installing, or using Vexa ("the Bot"), you agree to comply with these Terms of Service.

2. Description of Service

Vexa provides Discord moderation, automation, embeds, giveaways, sticky messages, role systems, and server utility tools.

3. User Responsibilities

Users may not abuse, exploit, spam, or use the Bot for illegal or malicious purposes.

4. Permissions

Some features require elevated Discord permissions. Server administrators are responsible for configuring permissions safely.

5. Data Usage

Vexa may store operational Discord data necessary for functionality including IDs, configurations, logs, and automation data.

6. Availability

The Bot is provided "as is" without guarantees of uptime or uninterrupted availability.

7. Limitation of Liability

The developer is not responsible for damages, moderation actions, data loss, or disruptions caused by use of the Bot.

8. Abuse & Termination

Access to Vexa may be restricted or revoked for abuse, exploitation, or malicious behavior.

9. Third-Party Services

Vexa relies on Discord and other third-party infrastructure providers.

10. Changes to Terms

These Terms may be updated at any time without prior notice.

11. Contact

For support or legal inquiries, contact the Vexa support server or developer.
