A Word From The Board President

To the staff, clients, supporters and everyone who has given their time and energy to help the vision of Angel of God Resource Center, Inc., thank you!

LOOKING Back: The year 2025 has been an amazing year. On June 19, 2025 our Juneteenth celebration was different from the last two years, as we celebrated this awesome holiday. This year we incorporated "1865 Boots On The Ground". A celebration of our Colored Troops from,

Dr. Betty Coleman Board President

General Order No.3 in Galveston. Texas, announcing all enslaved people were free. VFW Color Guard 2024 posted the colors before the program began. Ms. Margie Hollins a retired journalist and historian did an amazing documentary on the 1865 Boots on the Ground. Our M.C. Ms Toy Ann McCray did an outstanding job keeping our young students moving through their historic speeches on the Untied States Constitution, The Gettysburg Address and The Six Triple Eight. Marshall and Phillips High school and Hazel Crest Park District students recited the famous and historic speeches from the Civil war area. The 22nd District Police station participated in a role call and prayer to open up the Juneteenth celebration. Ald. Ronnie Mosley and his staff was on hand for the early morning role call.

Our goal was to have 1, 865 people attend the Juneteenth celebration across the city through live streaming with our partners, Christian Covenant Baptist Church, Mt. Vernon Foundation & JLM Abundant Life Center, and Agape Community Center. CBS TV Station channel 2 reporter interviewed our very own Executive Officer Ms. Annie Smith about the day's celebration. Agape Community Center came out in great numbers with their staff and students, bringing with them games food and fun for all. On the main lot we had fifty vendors who sat up tables and displayed their wears, Blaq Ice productions supplied the music and took videos of all who passed the camera. There was plenty of food, snow cones and water. The line dance "Boots on the Ground was taught by Ms. Belynda Head.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS: Our non for profit organization is proud to announce a major milestone in our mission to serve the community.-the successful purchase last year of two new building. This achievement marks a significant step forward in our commitment to creating safe, inclusive, and empowering spaces for all. One of the buildings is currently undergoing renovation and is being transformed into a vibrant community center that will offer educational programs, job training, youth development, wellness services and more. This center will serve as a hub of hope, growth, and opportunity, reflecting our ongoing dedication to uplifting the community we proudly serve. WE are still in phase one of the renovations. We are looking forward to having our Winter Award Celebration on December 19, 2025 at the new Angel of God Community Center.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE: With innovation and collaboration at the heart of our efforts for 2026, we will meet today's needs while shaping a better tomorrow. At our core, we believe that every individual has the potential to rise above limitations and soar toward a brighter future. Through mentorship, education, and community empowerment, our non for profit is committed to breaking barriers and building bridges. USE OF AFRICAN AMERICANS Soldiers in the Civil War

The use of Black Soldiers in the Civil War evolved from the Militia Act of 1862, and The Emancipation Proclamation of 1863 which officially allowed Black men to enlist in the Union Army. This shift was driven by a combination of factors: including the Union's need for manpower, and a desire of African Americans to fight for their freedom and equality. In response to the Emancipation Proclamation, and the need for organization, the War Department established the Bureau of Colored Troops May 22, 1863, which oversaw the recruitment, training, and deployment of Black Soldiers.

Frederick Douglass, a prominent abolitionist, passionately argued for the enlistment of African American men in the Union Army during the Civil War. Douglass believed it was a crucial step towards ending slavery and achieving true freedom and equality for African Americans. He argued that Black men could not only prove their loyalty, and courage on the battlefield, but also gain the right to citizenship and self-respect. Frederick Douglass also recognized that the Confederacy has already enlisted Black men as laborers and that the Union needed to utilize this manpower effectively.

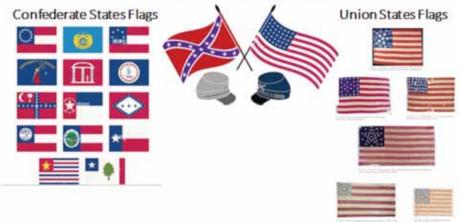

Frederick Douglass wrote: "Once let the Black man get upon his person the brass letters U.S.; let him get an eagle on his button, and a musket on his shoulder, and bullets in his pocket, and there is no power on the earth or under the earth which can deny that he has earned the right of citizenship in the United States".

Medal of Honor: 18 United States Colored Troops soldiers earned the Medal of Honor, the nation's highest award for service. Sgt. Williams Harvey Carney (54th Massachusetts Regiment) was one of the first to receive the Medal of Honor. 14 African Americans including Sgt. Maj. Christian Fleetwood, Sgt. Alfred B. Hilton, during the Battle of New Market Heights on September 29, 1864. This recognition was given for their valorous actions during a charge against Confederate defense.

Andrew Jackson Smith (54th Massachusetts Regiment), received the Butler Award. In the Army, (When Slaves escaped to Butler's line - he refused to return them to the Confederacy under the Fugitive Slave Act of 1850). - The Butler Award in USCT refers to the Butler Medal, a Military decoration created by Major General Benjamin F. Butler to honor African American soldiers in the USCT for bravery and service.

The American Civil War involved a total of 34 States. 23 states in the Union included Maine, New York, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kansas, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, California, Nevada, and Oregon. The 11 States in the Confederacy included: South Carolina, North Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Texas, Virginia, Arkansas, and Tennessee. Border States included: Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, Kentucky, and Missouri. The Confederacy recognized 13 states. Despite their acceptance of slavery, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, and Missouri did not fight in the Civil War.

After President Lincoln's issuance of the Emancipation Proclamation, states were officially allowed to create all Black regiments. Led by Colonel Robert Gould Shaw, the 54th was comprised mostly of free Blacks, and former slaves. The regiment saw action in several battles, most notably at Fort Wagner, where Shaw as killed.

Leadership

Dr. Grace Beacham - Director of Fiscal Services: I am deeply honored and grateful to join the Executive Team at Angel of God Resource Center. Thank you for entrusting me with this opportunity to serve alongside such passionate and purpose-driven leaders. I look forward to contributing my experience and dedication to furthering our mission of hope, healing, and empowerment. Together, may we continue to be a light in the lives of those we serve.

Leadership con't

Oteesah Johnson - Project Director: As Project Director at Angel of God Resource Center it is invaluable when fostering meaningful connections and growth within the community. By working with both youth and adults, I have the unique opportunity to build intergenerational bridges, nurture potential, and equip individuals with the skills and support needed to thrive, impacting not just their lives, but the entire community's well-being.

Taura Bronson - Project Direcor: I enjoy helping young people discover their potential and watching their confidence grow. It's fulfilling for me to create a safe and supportive space where young people feel heard and valued, so often they don't have that space. So, every day with the youth is a new opportunity for me to guide, mentor, and learn from them in return. Seeing youth progress both personally and professionally is one of the most rewarding parts of my job.

Cecilia Horn - Director of Quality Assurance/Marketing: Despite the cuts in grant funding this past year, our agency has continued to rise to the occasion and remain steadfast in our mission. The dedication of our team, the resilience of our clients, and the unwavering support of our partners have carried us through challenges. Each success, big or small, reminds us that the work we do changes lives. Together, we will keep moving forward, stronger and more determined than ever.

Lisa Campbell - Office Manager: Knowing that work contributes to something bigger is a great feeling. Serving the community through Angel of God Resource Centers initiatives is a constant source of joy and purpose. It's amazing to be part of a team that doesn't just focus on the bottom line but truly makes a difference in the community. Volunteering and Serving really reminds us why we do what we do.

Angel DeJesus - MIS: To the incredible team at Angel of God Resource Center, the opportunity to work alongside each team member is genuinely appreciated. It's an honor to contribute to Angel of God's important mission, enhancing the ability to serve our community and improve our outreach efforts. The dedication and passion witnessed from everyone here, whether serving clients, managing programs, or maintaining smooth operations, is truly inspiring. As part of MIS, it's been observed how collective efforts impact the community served. The commitment to helping others overcome challenges and build a better future is evident in all activities.

Shanna Pierce - TeenREACH Program Director: Working with youth in Teen REACH is a truly rewarding experience, offering the chance to inspire young minds and foster their personal growth. It's incredibly fulfilling to witness their curiosity and creativity flourish in a supportive and engaging environment. Every day brings new opportunities to build strong connections and make a positive impact on the next generation's future.

Fred Eaton - TeenREACH Program Director: One truly has to have patience and understanding during these turbulent times. Working with today's generation of teens is a different and difficult task. However, it gives me a great sense of satisfaction knowing that I have played a major role in developing a generation of young minds.

Phillips Wilkes - TeenREACH Program Director: AOG has assisted us by providing the necessary financial resources to expand our programs & reach a larger number of youth in need of additional support. This has allowed us to have extra time with them to assist with homework, focus on reading, and help ensure access to equitable opportunities. Furthermore, they have become more active citizens in our communities by assisting with our village's food drive and satisfy our service & learning initiatives. Because of AOG we have also been able to purchase essential supplies and engage in a wider range of activities. All in all, we have been able to expand our reach, strengthen our programs, & make a positive impact in the lives of the youth & community we serve.

Alfred Rodriguez - Director of HR/Compliance: In light of the disproportionate threats to our population of focus posed by the current administration's Project 2025 agenda—including cuts to essential social programs, civil rights rollbacks, and the dismantling of DEI efforts—our work to provide culturally responsive and community-rooted services is more critical than ever. I am honored to stand with Angel of God Resource Center in the capacity of Director of HR & Compliance in defending equity, dignity, and opportunity for our vulnerable communities during this pivotal time.

Dominique Mingo - Case Manager: Working with the youth in the IYIP has been a joy, allowing the youth to find the right career path. It has been a life-changing experience for me and the youth that I work with. Being able to help them at least have something to think about as far as their future is concerned is making a difference. The youth in our programs, as well as all programs, are the future of this country, and knowing my guidance could help one of our clients become the next anything is my pleasure.

Thank you!
