Hi, my name is Marty and I'm here to help you unlock the doors to your dream home! As a member of our Morganville, NJ team, I'm proud to offer the expertise and resources of America's #1 Retail Mortgage Lender to make that happen. Over the last 20 years in the mortgage industry, I've helped thousands of families buy their first homes or refinance their current homes. I'm excited to be part of CrossCountry Mortgage, with our innovative approaches and dedicated support. From advanced mortgage technology to personalized service, I can't wait to show you the difference! I'll guide you through the right decisions, whether purchasing a primary home, second home, or investment property. My expertise covers all types of loans, including conventional, FHA, VA, and jumbo loans. My support doesn't end at closing – I'm always available for questions before, during, and after the process. I look forward to helping you on your homeownership journey! On a personal note, I'm married, have two daughters, and five grandkids who are my life.

ABOUT EDISON

Edison was originally known as Raritan Township and was settled in the late 1600s. It was renamed Edison in 1954 to honor Thomas Edison and avoid confusion with other Raritan townships.

One of the town's most important historical features is the Thomas A. Edison Memorial Tower and Museum at Menlo Park, where Edison developed many of his inventions like the light bulb and phonograph in his original laboratory site.

Education

Edison has a large and diverse public school system — the Edison Township Public Schools — serving around 17,000 students across 20 schools from pre-K through high school.

The district includes multiple elementary, middle, and high schools, including J.P. Stevens High School and Edison High School, both well-known in the region.

Lifestyle & Community

Edison offers a suburban environment with:

- Strong schools
- Diverse dining and cultural experiences
- Plenty of parks and family-friendly amenities

It's a popular choice for families, professionals, and those looking for strong community ties within commuting distance of New York City.
