Michael did all day defense in last year's Unit lecture. His emphasis this year will include declarer play, whether to draw trump or not, and negative doubles. Join us for this fun training that will be informative for all levels.

Michael tells his life story through bridge every month in the ACBL Bulletin. His funny, instructive columns show how he has often learned important lessons the hard way. He is passionate about bridge and has worked in the bridge world writing, directing, and teaching. Michael learned from the very best: his parents, both of whom are world champions. His clear instruction allows students to make concrete steps forward without getting lost in pursuit of perfection. In addition to teaching for Bridge with Larry Cohen, Michael is the Program Chair for the ACBL Education Foundation, a non-profit organization working to promote bridge for all. He now lives in Salt Lake City with his wife, Emily, and dog Yeti.
