WHY CHOOSE AUTISM AWARENESS?

Know what legislation and guidance exists to support autistic children and adults in Great Britain

Understand what we mean by 'social communication' and how this challenge can impact on autistic people

Understand what we mean by the 'autism spectrum'

Understand why autistic individuals might display rigid and repetitive behaviours and what part sensory differences play

Be aware of how we came to our understanding of autism today and what we continue to research

Gain an insight into distressed behaviours and how person-centred support can benefit autistic people

"As the father of an autistic child and being autistic myself I know the importance of not only training courses but good, accurate ones. In my work as an autistic speaker I come across many courses where the information is inaccurate or outdated and created without input from autistic adults. Fortunately this is not the case with this programme from Living Autism. I can happily recommend and endorse it and the excellent work that they do."
