Rome's serial killer has a way with the ladies...first he wines and dines them, then he carves and plasters them—alive. Preying on the brilliant, voluptuous grad students of Rome's universities, the Sculptor excises and molds their finest features for his personal gallery. The Sculptor, Italy's most notorious serial killer, has confounded Rome's police force. Their slew of suspects is growing as fast as their list of victims. Mara Silvestri is a saucy female grad student seeking to shed her past. When she discovers that the Sculptor is stalking her in a twisted game of cat and mouse, she becomes wary of her relationships with fellow students, art professors, her business mentor, and Jesse, a sexy lothario and colleague. Barely thwarting the Sculptor's attacks in Rome, Venice, Tuscany, and the Swiss Alps, Mara uncovers the family secrets in her past that draw him to her. Can Mara turn the tables on the Sculptor before he finally claims her as his prized masterpiece?

PRAISE for The Sculptor:

"A harrowing journey of nonstop action, with vivid settings, sympathetic characters, and a serial killer to die for. Highly recommended."

—Douglas Preston, New York Times bestselling author of The Monster of Florence.

"Fava has chiseled another fast-paced thriller. I loved courageous heroine Mara Silvestri, and the rich cast of suspects kept me guessing right up until the hold-your-breath climax. An excellent read!"

— Steve Ulfelder, Edgar-nominated author of the Conway Sax series

"A page-turning, spine-tingling heart-stopper that will keep you up all night. And when dawn comes and you turn the last page, you will agree that Gina Fava is one of the rising young stars of the thriller genre."

— William Martin, New York Times bestselling author of *Back Bay

"Gina Fava has a winner on her hands with The Sculptor."

— Suspense Magazine

Gina Fava is the author of award winning short stories and the acclaimed novels The Sculptor and The Race. Gina also writes feature articles on travel, wine, cooking, art, books, and cinema. A native of Buffalo, NY, Gina graduated from University at Buffalo but it was the bomb scares she endured while studying at the American University of Rome that spurred her interest in writing thrillers. Gina lives with her family in New England, and she often travels to Italy to hunt down her characters' favorite wines.
