

CONSENT MENU

Communicating about sex and intimacy can - and should - be easy.

Lets change the way we talk about sex

LARISSA ASTARA Gray

Positive Sex Education Speaker

The key to a positive experience is consent. This menu is designed to help you both feel truly comfortable by understanding your partner's wants and needs. Open and honest communication about these desires will deepen your connection, making the experience far more powerful and pleasurable for both of you. By using this guide, you'll feel empowered before, during, and after - leaving no grey areas, just an encounter filled with honesty, openness, and respect. Even if this is a one time hook up or a relationship this always needs to be gone through the key is to change the way that you talk about sex because when you're respecting somebody else you're actually respecting yourself. Please enjoy.
