

Safety, Trust and Privacy

PennilessPolitics®™ offers very little privacy to American patriots who debate political and civil issues in public forums. I suggest that candidates and constituents carefully craft comments for public viewing.

I trust, if you're reading this, you have a sincere point of view. By definition, the discussions herein will provoke passionate disagreements. Also, by definition, this platform will provide the most precise method of truthful communication between elected representatives and their constituents and constituents with each other.

The posted rules and regulations of YouTube are applicable at all times. In addition, the posting of any hurtful, harmful or threats to individuals or institutions will be promptly removed. Authorities notified and IPs restricted. In short. Be nice!

Candidates are in complete control over their own campaigns. PennilessPolitics®™ has no input of content but can deny subscriptions to campaigns that violate the principles as stated above.

Monied media outlets craft kerfuffle to enrage your emotions and make even more money reporting all the confusion to you. Here that STOPS! Compared to the $ Millions candidates must raise from hedge fund operators with exclusive special interests, this platform is indeed PennilessPolitics!®™

I trust that you are here to help stitch the frayed fabric of American society back together again with threads of YouTube comments and replies. As is so with ALL Americans, in God we trust.
