

Disposing of Bulky Items

First, you tried selling your old recline – no takers. Next, you put it on the curb with a “FREE” sign – still no takers. Then, you crossed your fingers hoping the city would pick it up, but they passed right on by. Now what? You are stuck with an old bulky item, and the headache of disposing of it.

A bulky item or bulky waste is any item that will not fit in a residential curbside trash bin. We’re talking about furniture, mattresses, large appliances, etc. They can become a major inconvenience to dispose of – both to you and the friends you must bribe to help. The easy, hands-off solution is to have a junk removal company pick it up and haul it away.

Husky Junk Removal is very prepared to handle bulky waste—from single items to trailer loads! We have the manpower and equipment to safely carry and haul off these items. We can take it from your curb, garage, house, basement. No matter where it’s stored, just show us where it is, and we’ll take it from there. And best of all, depending on the condition of the items, we make it a priority to donate and recycle when possible.
