

When rich and single Mr. Bingley moves into the neighborhood Mrs. Bennet hopes to marry one of her five daughters to him. With him, Bingley brings his friend Mr. Darcy, another rich gentleman, who is too proud to speak to any of the locals. Elizabeth, the second of the Bennet sisters, takes an instant dislike to him. As Darcy grows more interested in Elizabeth, she continues to despise him. Can these two overcome their pride and prejudice and fall in love?
