It is important to mention that the result of the experience is your responsibility.

However, we will accompany you by the hand at every moment, until we see you fulfill your purpose.

FIRST PHASE

The objective of the first phase is to help each of the body in the purification and cleansing process, giving the necessary tools to support the entire process in depth both before and after the ceremony or breaking point.

The process is a therapeutic process supported by specialized psychologists, therapists & healers of ancient traditions.

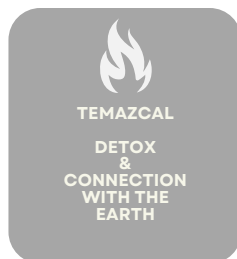

The experience is a before and after where you can, with adequate preparation and intention, see the emotional root of the blockage as well as its solution based on love, also visionary in life purpose.

If you are within the area, some of the sessions can be done in person and others will be online.

Otherwise, if you live outside the area, this first part of the program is designed 100% online.

1 session per week where tasks will be left during the week to progress at your own time.

SECOND PHASE

In this second phase it takes place at the destination, where we will begin with healing rituals such as temazcal to prepare the physical, mental and emotional body with a detoxification.

Likewise, connect with our intention and with our roots in the womb of Mother Earth.

Among other techniques, ceremonies & rituals that will give you guidance and clarity in the process.

In case of a specific ceremony, we will guide you with a specific diet:

* No red meat (Preferably meatless)

*No sexual relations

What we want to achieve with this is to alkalize the body as much as possible.

THIRT FASE

Here, we are in charge of accompanying you in the integration of your process and rebirth.

At this point, congratulations! you managed to break your fears, take back your power and life in hand & its about practice from now on...

After this deep transformation our way of seeing life is no longer what it was before. The process following this is a confrontational process of the perception of the old reality in which we lived and the new reality and perception of life with which we walk from that moment on.

So we walk with you in a harmonious and sweet integration with a online weekly session about your manifestation proces.

In order to develop in you tools of containment and personal development. This course has therapeutic & training validity, this means that after this you will have the necessary information to apply it in your daily life and share valuable information with other people.
