

True Bahamian Identity Vs. Not True Bahamian Identity

By Kamal Symonette-Dixon

To you my mother Deborrah Symonette:

A Bahamian is any person who is from The Bahamas. However, there is a difference between Bahamian nationality and being of the Bahamian race. The average Bahamian has Bahamian nationality but is not of the Bahamian race. Pure Bahamians have Bahamian nationality, but pure Bahamians are not of the Bahamian race. I am a Bahamian, but I am not a pure Bahamian. I am a true Bahamian who has Bahamian nationality. I have Bahamian nationality, and I am of the Bahamian race. Because I have the combination of Bahamian lineage, Barbadian lineage, and Black American lineage from the South; I am a true Bahamian because I am of the Barbadian Bahamian ethnicity of the Bahamian race. Because you have only Bahamian lineage and Black American lineage from the South, you are between the Black race and the Bahamian race. You also have like me Bahamian nationality, but you are not of the Bahamian race. I, however, am of the Bahamian race; therefore, I have Bahamian racial lineage. I, however, am of the Bahamian race; therefore, I have the lineage of the Bahamian race. You like me of course have Bahamian lineage, but you do not have Bahamian racial lineage; therefore, you are not of the Bahamian race, but like me you of course are not a pure Bahamian either. You like me of course have Bahamian lineage, but you do not have the lineage of the Bahamian race; therefore, you are not of the Bahamian race, but like me you of course are not a pure Bahamian either. Pure Bahamians like you do not have Bahamian racial lineage also do not have Bahamian racial lineage. Pure Bahamians like you do not have the lineage of the Bahamian race also do not have the lineage of the Bahamian race. I have Bahamian racial lineage. I have the lineage of the Bahamian race. Bahamian racial lineage is the lineage that makes true Bahamians. The lineage of the Bahamian race is the lineage that makes true Bahamians. Bahamian racial lineage is the lineage of the Bahamian race. The notion of the lineage of the Bahamian race is the same as the notion of the Bahamian racial lineage. The notion of the lineage of the Bahamian race is the notion of the Bahamian racial lineage. Pure Bahamians do not have Bahamian racial lineage. Pure Bahamians do not have the lineage of the Bahamian race. Only Bahamians of the Bahamian race have Bahamian racial lineage. Bahamian racial lineage is the lineage of the Bahamian race. Only Bahamians of the Bahamian race have the lineage of the Bahamian race. I have the lineage of the Bahamian race; thus, I am of the Bahamian race; therefore, I am a true Bahamian. I have Bahamian racial lineage; thus, I am of the Bahamian race; therefore, I am a true Bahamian. Pure Bahamians do not have the lineage that alone makes true Bahamians: the lineage of the Bahamian race. The lineage of the Bahamian race is the lineage that is the result of the combination of Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. Pure Bahamians do not have the lineage that alone makes true Bahamians: Bahamian racial lineage. Bahamian racial lineage is the lineage that is the result of the combination of Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. Pure Bahamians have Bahamian lineage, but pure Bahamians do not have Bahamian racial lineage. There is a difference between Bahamian lineage and Bahamian racial lineage. There is a difference between Bahamian lineage and the lineage of the Bahamian race. The notion of the Bahamian lineage is different than the notion of the lineage of the Bahamian race. The notion of the Bahamian lineage is different than the notion of the Bahamian racial lineage. Bahamian racial lineage has Bahamian lineage but not only Bahamian lineage. Pure Bahamians are not of the

Bahamian race. Pure Bahamians do not have Bahamian racial lineage. Pure Bahamians are not of the Bahamian race. Pure Bahamians do not have the lineage of the Bahamian race. Pure Bahamians are Black. One type of pure Bahamian only has Bahamian lineage, but all types of pure Bahamians at the very least only have Bahamian lineage as Black lineage, regardless of whether or not these Bahamians who only have Bahamian lineage as Black lineage have lineage from a race other than the Black race. Pure Bahamians ironically are not true Bahamians because, despite pure Bahamians having at the very least all Bahamian lineage as Black lineage, pure Bahamians do not have all of what is needed to be a true Bahamian: not only Bahamian lineage but Black American lineage from the South and Caribbean lineage. Therefore, pure Bahamians are not actual Bahamians and, thus, are not of the Bahamian race. As a result of not being true Bahamians, pure Bahamians are just Africans with no African nation to claim as their own and no nation of any kind to claim as their own; and as Africans, pure Bahamians are Black like everyone of African descent is Black. As a result of not being of the Bahamian race and as a result of being pure Bahamians, pure Bahamians are just Africans with no African nation to claim as their own and no nation of any kind to claim as their own; and as Africans, pure Bahamians are Black like everyone of African descent is Black. Because I am a true Bahamian, The Bahamas is a nation I can claim as my own. Because I am of the Bahamian race, The Bahamas is a nation I can claim as my own. The Bahamas is a nation for true Bahamians. The Bahamas is a nation for people of the Bahamian race. The Bahamas is a nation for me because I am a true Bahamian. The Bahamas is a nation for me because I am of the Bahamian race. I am of the Bahamian race because I have the lineage of the Bahamian race: the lineage that is the result of the combination of Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. You are closer to being a true Bahamian than pure Bahamians, for, although you do not have Caribbean lineage, you still in addition to having Bahamian lineage have Black American lineage from the South. You are closer to being of the Bahamian race than pure Bahamians, for, although you do not have Caribbean lineage, you still in addition to having Bahamian lineage have Black American lineage from the South. But you too are not of the Bahamian race. As someone who has only Bahamian lineage and Black American lineage from the South, you are between pure Bahamians and the Bahamian race. As someone who has only Bahamian lineage and Black American lineage from the South, you are also between the entire Black race and the Bahamian race. I am not between pure Bahamians and the Bahamian race. I am of the Bahamian race. I am not between the entire Black race and the Bahamian race. I am not between any races. I am of the Bahamian race. I am more of a Bahamian than you, and, in turn, I am more of a Bahamian than pure Bahamians. I am a true Bahamian because I have the three lineages needed to be a true Bahamian: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. I am of the Bahamian race because I have the three lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. I am a true Bahamian because I have the three Black lineages needed to be a true Bahamian: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. I am of the Bahamian race because I have the three Black lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. The Caribbean lineage I have I get from the Caribbean country Barbados. Barbadian lineage is lineage from Barbados. I have Barbadian lineage. I have lineage from Barbados. Barbadian lineage is Bajan lineage. Bajan lineage is Barbadian lineage. Bajan lineage is lineage from Barbados. I have Bajan lineage. I have lineage from Barbados. Bahamian lineage is lineage from The Bahamas. I have Bahamian lineage. I have lineage from The Bahamas. You have Bahamian lineage. You have lineage from The Bahamas. You and I have lineage from The Bahamas. You and I have Bahamian lineage. As your son, I, of course, get my Bahamian lineage from you. Regarding my Barbadian lineage, I get my Barbadian lineage from my father, the man of course you bred with in making me; and it just so happens my father was your husband as you of course know and I of course know and various people who know us of course know. Regarding my Bajan lineage, I get my Bajan lineage from my father, the man of course you bred with in making me; and it just so happens my father was your husband as you of course know and I of course know and various people who know us of course know. Regarding my Bajan lineage, I get my Barbadian lineage from my father, the man of course you bred with in making me; and it just so happens my father was your husband as you of course know and I of course know and various people who know us of course know. Regarding my Barbadian lineage, I get my Bajan lineage from my father, the man of course you bred with in making me; and it just so happens my father was your husband as you of course know and I of course know and various people who know us of course know. I, of course, get my Black American lineage from you and from my father. Of course, all of your Black American lineage is from the South. And, of course, all of my father's Black American lineage is from the South. The vast majority of Black Americans only have Black American lineage from the South. True Black American lineage is Black American lineage from the South. All of my Black American lineage is from the South. I am not a Black American however. Nor am I a Barbadian. I am a Bahamian. I am a true Bahamian because I am of the Bahamian race. A true Bahamian is of the Bahamian race. I am of the Barbadian Bahamian ethnicity of the Bahamian race. To be a true Bahamian; one has to be of the Bahamian race, regardless of which ethnicity of the Bahamian race one is a part of. To be of the Bahamian race, one must have three lineages: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. To be of the Bahamian race is to be a true Bahamian. Consequently to be a true Bahamian, one must have the three lineages to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. To be of the Bahamian race, one must have three Black lineages: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. To be of the Bahamian race is to be a true Bahamian. Consequently to be a true Bahamian, one must have the three lineages to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have the following three lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. To be of the Bahamian race is to be a true Bahamian. Consequently, one cannot be a true Bahamian if one does not have the following three lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have the following three Black lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. To be of the Bahamian race is to be a true Bahamian. Consequently, one cannot be a true Bahamian if one does not have the following three Black lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. To be a true Bahamian; one has to be of the Bahamian race, regardless of which ethnicity of the Bahamian race one is a part of. People of the Bahamian race, of course, have African lineage. You raised me to know the obvious point of how like you and my father and all Black people, I have African lineage. But you also raised me to believe you, my father, and all Black people are of African descent. But I am not Black, so I am not of African descent. Black people are of African descent. I, however, am of the Bahamian race, so I am of Bahamian descent. I am not of African descent. I am of Bahamian descent because I am of the Bahamian race. Everyone of the Bahamian race has African lineage. However, everyone of the Bahamian race is of Bahamian descent and not of African descent. The Bahamas is technically located between The Caribbean and The United States of America. Black Americans, of course, are a minority population in America. America is, of course, a majority white nation. America is, of course, a white nation because of America being a majority white nation. The Bahamas is a Black nation when The Bahamas is not recognized as a nation for people of the Bahamian race. The Bahamas is a nation of people of African descent when The Bahamas is not recognized as a nation for people of the Bahamian race. And The Bahamas is supposed to be recognized as a nation for people of the Bahamian race. The Bahamas is not supposed to be recognized as a Black nation. The Bahamas is not supposed to be recognized as a nation of people of African descent. Because Bahamians would be Black American if Bahamians were American to keep good relations with the threatening white nation America is, Bahamians need a Black American tie to American people. Pure Bahamians maintain a Black American tie with American people by unofficially being Black Americans instead of the kind of Bahamians one, without knowing how pure Bahamians are not true Bahamians, would think they would be as people who only have Bahamian lineage as Black lineage: Bahamians who do not need to be unofficial Black Americans. Pure Bahamians choose to be unofficial Black Americans in order to maintain officially being their own people without being attacked from America and without America preventing pure Bahamians from being their own people by America taking over The Bahamas. Bahamians who have the combination you have of Bahamian lineage and Black American lineage from the South but not Caribbean lineage have a Black American tie with American people, a tie pure Bahamians get by being unofficial Black Americans, by Bahamians who have the combination you have of Bahamian lineage and Black American lineage from the South but not Caribbean lineage having Black American lineage from the South and, thus, Bahamians who have the combination you have of Bahamian lineage and Black American lineage from the South but not Caribbean lineage do not have to be unofficial Black Americans in order to have a Black American tie with American people. Without Bahamians having a Black American tie to American people, The Bahamas due to being located between The Caribbean and America is not recognized as an official nation. Without Bahamians having a Black American tie to American people, The Bahamas due to being located between The Caribbean and America is not recognized as an unofficial nation. In order to keep The Bahamas recognized as an official nation, Bahamians have to maintain a Black American tie with American people; because without such a tie, The Bahamas is merely seen as unofficially a part of America to the extent The Bahamas is not seen as an official nation and to the extent The Bahamas is not seen as an official nation within The Caribbean. In order to keep The Bahamas recognized as an unofficial nation, Bahamians have to maintain a Black American tie with American people; because without such a tie, The Bahamas is merely seen as unofficially a part of America to the extent The Bahamas is not seen as an unofficial nation and to the extent The Bahamas is not seen as an unofficial nation within The Caribbean. Pure Bahamians maintain a Black American tie with American people by unofficially being Black Americans instead of the kind of Bahamians one, without knowing how pure Bahamians are not true Bahamians, would think they would be as people who only have Bahamian lineage as Black lineage: Bahamians who do not need to be unofficial Black Americans. Pure Bahamians choose to be unofficial Black Americans in order to maintain, under the assumption of The Bahamas being a Black nation, having The Bahamas be recognized as officially a nation for pure Bahamians and in order, in turn, for pure Bahamians to be recognized, under the assumption of The Bahamas being a Black nation, as officially being Bahamian. Pure Bahamians choose to be unofficial Black Americans in order to maintain having The Bahamas be recognized as unofficially a nation for pure Bahamians and in order, in turn, for pure Bahamians to be recognized as unofficially being Bahamian. Bahamians who have the combination you have of Bahamian lineage and Black American lineage from the South but not Caribbean lineage have a Black American tie with Americans, a tie pure Bahamians get by being unofficial Black Americans, by Bahamians who have the combination you have of Bahamian lineage and Black American lineage from the South but not Caribbean lineage having Black American lineage from the South and, thus, Bahamians who have the combination you have of Bahamian lineage and Black American lineage from the South but not Caribbean lineage do not have to be unofficial Black Americans in order to have a Black American tie with American people. The Caribbean as a collective of nations despite not being a white collective of nations and despite each nation in The Caribbean not being a white nation and despite each nation in The Caribbean being a nation that on its own would be just like The Bahamas has protection from the threatening white nation America is, for there is protection in numbers, and The Caribbean has an enormously larger number of people than The Bahamas. The protection The Caribbean has allows The Caribbean not to have to maintain for safety purposes a Black American tie with American people as big as the Black American tie for safety purposes The Bahamas has to maintain with American people. (Keep in mind; whenever I mention The Caribbean addressing this academic subject I am writing you about, I am not including the Spanish Caribbean.) In order for Bahamians to get enough protection from The Caribbean, protection that can help Bahamians be their own people without being attacked from America and without America preventing Bahamians from being their own people, Bahamians need a tie to the people closest to Bahamians who can offer such protection, and those people are Caribbean people. Pure Bahamians get that tie with Caribbean people by being unofficial Caribbean people. Bahamians who have the combination of Bahamian lineage and Caribbean lineage but not Black American lineage from the South have that tie to Caribbean people in Bahamians who have the combination of Bahamian lineage and Caribbean lineage but not Black American lineage from the South having Caribbean lineage; therefore, Bahamians who have the combination of Bahamian lineage and Caribbean lineage but not Black American lineage from the South don't have to be unofficial Caribbean people to get that tie with Caribbean people. Without Bahamians having a tie to Caribbean people, The Bahamas due to being located between The Caribbean and America is not recognized as an official nation. Without Bahamians having a tie to Caribbean people, The Bahamas due to being located between The Caribbean and America is not recognized as an unofficial nation. In order to keep The Bahamas recognized as the official nation The Bahamas is, an official nation technically between The Caribbean and America, Bahamians have to maintain a tie with The Caribbean; because without such a tie, The Bahamas is merely seen as an official nation in The Caribbean to the extent The Bahamas is seen as an official nation but not to the extent The Bahamas is seen as the official nation The Bahamas is, an official nation that is technically between The Caribbean and America, but to the extent The Bahamas is not seen as, instead of an official nation near America, unofficially a part of America. In order to keep The Bahamas recognized as the unofficial nation The Bahamas is, an unofficial nation technically between The Caribbean and America, Bahamians have to maintain a tie with The Caribbean; because without such a tie, The Bahamas is merely seen as an unofficial nation in The Caribbean to the extent The Bahamas is seen as an unofficial nation but not to the extent The Bahamas is seen as the unofficial nation The Bahamas is, an unofficial nation that is technically between The Caribbean and America, but to the extent The Bahamas is not seen as, instead of an unofficial nation near America, unofficially a part of America. Pure Bahamians maintain a tie with The Caribbean by unofficially being Caribbean people. Pure Bahamians choose to be unofficial Caribbean people in order to maintain, under the assumption of The Bahamas being a Black nation, having The Bahamas be recognized as officially a nation for pure Bahamians and in order, in turn, for pure Bahamians to be recognized, under the assumption of The Bahamas being a Black nation, as officially being Bahamian. Pure Bahamians choose to be unofficial Caribbean people in order to maintain having The Bahamas be recognized as unofficially a nation for pure Bahamians and in order, in turn, for pure Bahamians to be recognized as unofficially being Bahamian. Bahamians who have the combination of Bahamian lineage and Caribbean lineage but not Black American lineage from the South have a tie with Caribbean people, a tie pure Bahamians get by being unofficial Caribbean people, by Bahamians who have the combination of Bahamian lineage and Caribbean lineage but not Black American lineage from the South having Caribbean lineage and, thus, Bahamians who have the combination of Bahamian lineage and Caribbean lineage but not Black American lineage from the South do not have to be unofficial Caribbean people in order to have a tie with Caribbean people. I am a Bahamian who in addition to having Bahamian lineage has Caribbean lineage and Black American lineage from the South. I am a true Bahamian because I have Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. I am of the Bahamian race because I have Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. Due to having Black American lineage from the South, a true Bahamian does not have to rely on being an unofficial Black American to be a Bahamian. Due to having Caribbean lineage, a true Bahamian does not have to rely on being an unofficial Caribbean person to be a Bahamian. Due to having Bahamian lineage, a true Bahamian, of course, has the most important lineage for being a true Bahamian but not the only lineage needed to be a true Bahamian: Bahamian lineage. Black Americans are considered Black people because Black Americans are people of African descent and are American people. America is a nation designed for two races: the white race and the Black race. All Black people are of African descent. Africans are the Black people Africans are because Africans, obviously, are of African descent and because Africans are of the African ethnicity of the Black race due to Africans being from the African continent, a continent that has various nations made up of people who have the tie of being on the same continent and the tie of having the same kind of lineage: Black lineage. If one of those African nations were not located in Africa and were on their own like The Bahamas, that particular African nation could and would have their own racial identity like The Bahamas has for true Bahamians and, thus, The Bahamas has for people of the Bahamian race. But because these African nations are truly African nations by being located on the African continent, these African nations are Black nations, for a collective of nations that each would constitute a sub-Saharan African nation if located on the African continent is a collective of nations considered a collective of Black nations. Caribbean nations each would constitute a sub-Saharan African nation if the respective Caribbean nation were located on the African continent, but, of course, no Caribbean nation is located on the African continent. Caribbean nations make up a collective of Black nations, a collective called The Caribbean and also called The West Indies. The Bahamas is a nation that would constitute a sub-Saharan African nation if it were located on the African continent. But, of course, The Bahamas is not located on the African continent. And although The Bahamas is near The Caribbean, technically, The Bahamas is not a part of The Caribbean. The Bahamas is unofficially a part of The Caribbean. But The Bahamas is not officially a part of The Caribbean. The technicality of The Bahamas not being a part of The Caribbean matters regarding Bahamian identity. Africans are Black; Black Americans are Black; Caribbean people are Black; pure Bahamians who as pure Bahamians are Bahamians who only have Bahamian lineage as Black lineage and, due not to being true Bahamians and thus due not to being of the Bahamian race, are Africans with no nation to claim as their own are Black; true Bahamians, however, are not Black; people of the Bahamian race are not Black. True Bahamians are the people of the Bahamian race and, thus, are not Black. People of the Bahamian race are true Bahamians and, thus, are not Black. True Bahamians are the people of the Bahamian race and, thus, cannot be Black. People of the Bahamian race are true Bahamians and, thus, cannot be Black. I am a true Bahamian. Therefore, I am not Black. I am of the Bahamian race. Therefore, I am not Black. I am a true Bahamian. Therefore, I am of the Bahamian race and, thus, I cannot be Black. I am of the Bahamian race. Therefore, I am a true Bahamian and, thus, I cannot be Black. Specifically, I am of the Barbadian Bahamian ethnicity of the Bahamian race. The Barbadian Bahamian ethnicity is not a Black ethnicity. The

Barbadian Bahamian ethnicity is an ethnicity of the Bahamian race. No ethnicity of the Bahamian race is a Black ethnicity because the Bahamian race is separate from the Black race. Among the various races we have such as the white race and the Black race, there is the Bahamian race. I am of the Bahamian race; therefore, the race I have is Bahamian. My race is Bahamian. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have the following three lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. To be of the Bahamian race is to be a true Bahamian. One cannot be a true Bahamian if one does not have the following three lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have the following three Black lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have Bahamian lineage. To be of the Bahamian race is to be a true Bahamian. One cannot be a true Bahamian if one does not have one of three lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage. One cannot be a true Bahamian if one does not have one of three Black lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have one of three lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have one of three Black lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have Caribbean lineage. To be of the Bahamian race is to be a true Bahamian. One cannot be a true Bahamian if one does not have one of three lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Caribbean lineage. One cannot be a true Bahamian if one does not have one of three Black lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Caribbean lineage. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have one of three lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Caribbean lineage. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have one of three Black lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Caribbean lineage. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have Black American lineage from the South. To be of the Bahamian race is to be a true Bahamian. One cannot be a true Bahamian if one does not have one of three lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Black American lineage from the South. One cannot be a true Bahamian if one does not have one of three Black lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Black American lineage from the South. Black American lineage from the South is Black American lineage from the South in The United States of America, a nation that happens to be divided up between the South and the North. Black American lineage from the North is Black American lineage from the North in The United States of America, a nation that happens to be divided up between the North and the South. Black American lineage from the North is Black American lineage that never derived from the South as relates to the regional division between the North and the South in The United States of America. Black American lineage from the North based on how America is designed is not true Black American lineage. With how America is designed, one cannot be a true Bahamian if one has Black American lineage from the North. With how America is designed, one cannot be of the Bahamian race if one has Black American lineage from the North. Black American lineage from the South is Black American lineage that derives from the South as relates to the regional division between the South and the North in The United States of America. Black American lineage from the South is the only true Black American lineage. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have one of three lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Black American lineage from the South. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have one of three Black lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Black American lineage from the South. To be of the Bahamian race is to be a true Bahamian. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have the following three lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. To be of the Bahamian race is to be a true Bahamian. One cannot be a true Bahamian if one does not have the following three lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. One cannot be of the Bahamian race if one does not have the following three Black lineages needed to be of the Bahamian race: Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. I am of the Bahamian race. I am of the Bahamian race because I have the combination of Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. The particular Caribbean lineage someone of the Bahamian race has determines their ethnicity of the Bahamian race. I am of the Bahamian race and the Caribbean lineage I have is Barbadian lineage; therefore, I am of the Barbadian Bahamian ethnicity of the Bahamian race. Barbadian lineage is Bajan lineage, and, in turn, Bajan lineage is Barbadian lineage. Barbadian lineage, also known as Bajan lineage, is lineage from Barbados. Bajan lineage, also known as Barbadian lineage, is lineage from Barbados. Barbados is a Caribbean country. A Barbadian is a Bajan, and, in turn, a Bajan is a Barbadian. A Barbadian Bahamian is a Bajan Bahamian, and, in turn, a Bajan Bahamian is a Barbadian Bahamian. The notion of the Barbadian lineage is the same as the notion of the Bajan lineage. The notion of the Barbadian lineage is the notion of the Bajan lineage. The notion of a Barbadian is the same as the notion of a Bajan. The notion of a Barbadian is the notion of a Bajan. The notion of a Barbadian Bahamian is the same as the notion of a Bajan Bahamian. The notion of a Barbadian Bahamian is the notion of a

Bajan Bahamian. The notion of a Barbadian Bahamian is different than the notion of a Barbadian. The notion of a Barbadian Bahamian is different than the notion of a Bajan. The notion of a Bajan Bahamian is different than the notion of a Bajan. The notion of a Bajan Bahamian is different than the notion of a Barbadian. I am not a Barbadian. I am not a Bajan. I am a Barbadian Bahamian. I am a Bajan Bahamian. I am of the Bahamian race. I am of the Bahamian race because I have the combination of Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. The particular Caribbean lineage someone of the Bahamian race has determines their ethnicity of the Bahamian race. I am of the Bahamian race and the Caribbean lineage I have is Bajan lineage; therefore, I am of the Bajan Bahamian ethnicity of the Bahamian race. The notion of the Barbadian lineage is the notion of the Bajan lineage. The notion of a Barbadian is the same as the notion of a Bajan. The notion of a Barbadian is the notion of a Bajan. The notion of a Barbadian Bahamian is the same as the notion of a Bajan Bahamian. The notion of a Barbadian Bahamian is the notion of a Bajan Bahamian. The notion of a Barbadian Bahamian is different than the notion of a Barbadian. The notion of a Barbadian Bahamian is different than the notion of a Bajan. The notion of a Bajan Bahamian is different than the notion of a Bajan. The notion of a Bajan Bahamian is different than the notion of a Barbadian. I am not a Barbadian. I am not a Bajan. I am a Barbadian Bahamian.

I am a Bajan Bahamian. I am of the Bahamian race. I am of the Bahamian race because I have the combination of Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. The particular Caribbean lineage someone of the Bahamian race has determines their ethnicity of the Bahamian race. I am of the Bahamian race and the Caribbean lineage I have is Bajan lineage; therefore, I am of the Barbadian Bahamian ethnicity of the Bahamian race. Barbadian lineage is Bajan lineage, and, in turn, Bajan lineage is Barbadian lineage. Barbadian lineage, also known as Bajan lineage, is lineage from Barbados. Bajan lineage, also known as Barbadian lineage, is lineage from Barbados. Barbados is a Caribbean country. A Barbadian is a Bajan, and, in turn, a Bajan is a Barbadian. A Barbadian Bahamian is a Bajan Bahamian, and, in turn, a Bajan Bahamian is a Barbadian Bahamian. The notion of the Barbadian lineage is the same as the notion of the Bajan lineage. The notion of the Barbadian lineage is the notion of the Bajan lineage. The notion of a Barbadian is the same as the notion of a Bajan. The notion of a Barbadian is the notion of a Bajan. The notion of a Barbadian Bahamian is the same as the notion of a Bajan Bahamian. The notion of a Barbadian Bahamian is the notion of a Bajan Bahamian. The notion of a Barbadian Bahamian is different than the notion of a Barbadian. The notion of a Barbadian Bahamian is different than the notion of a Bajan. The notion of a Bajan Bahamian is different than the notion of a Bajan. The notion of a Bajan Bahamian is different than the notion of a Barbadian. I am not a Barbadian. I am not a Bajan. I am a Barbadian Bahamian. I am a Bajan Bahamian. I am of the Bahamian race. I am of the Bahamian race because I have the combination of Bahamian lineage, Caribbean lineage, and Black American lineage from the South. The particular Caribbean lineage someone of the Bahamian race has determines their ethnicity of the Bahamian race. I am of the Bahamian race and the Caribbean lineage I have is Barbadian lineage; therefore, I am of the Bajan Bahamian ethnicity of the Bahamian race. In me being of the Bahamian race, I have Bahamian racial identity. In me being a true Bahamian, I have Bahamian racial identity. To have Bahamian racial identity is to be a true Bahamian. To have Bahamian racial identity is to be of the Bahamian race. Because I have Bahamian racial identity, I am a true Bahamian. Because I have Bahamian racial identity, I am of the Bahamian race. And like the Asian race is foreign to America and any nation not in Asia, the Bahamian race is foreign to America and any nation that is not The Bahamas. Consequently in America and any nation that is not The Bahamas because I am of the Bahamian race, I am a foreigner whether my Bahamian nationality is factored or not.
