

Anaphylactic Shock

In reference to Bill 3, also known as Sabrina's Law 2005, new Provincial legislation was enacted January 1, 2006 to protect anaphylactic students within the school environment.

"Anaphylactic shock" is a severe allergic reaction, which may be fatal, and occurs when an allergic individual is exposed to a particular substance such as peanut products, nuts, eggs, fish, or is stung by and insect such as a bee, hornet or wasp.

Under this new law, parents/guardians and students are required to supply information on life-threatening allergies. In order to comply with this requirement, please provide the following information;

Name of Student: _____

Does your child have any life-threatening allergies? Yes _____ No _____

If your answer to the above question was Yes, please list the substance(s) (food, insect, etc.) to which you child is allergic.

Has a medical doctor advised that your child requires epinephrine, adrenaline, EpiPen or Twinjet for use at school? Yes _____ No _____

If your answer to the above question was Yes, Please indicate what is required.

Name of Parent/Guardian: _____

Signature of Parent/Guardian: _____

Date: _____