

The Kansas City Cactus & Succulent Society

Do you like bizarre plants? In your eyes, is there something extraordinary about the beauty and toughness of a cactus? Are you looking for someone who shares your fascination with cacti and succulents?

Connect with some people who understand the attraction completely. The Kansas City Cactus and Succulent Society (KCCSS) gets together every month (on the third Sunday at The Trailside Center, 99th and Holmes, Kansas City, MO at 1:30 PM) for a meeting and program. We have discussions and hands-on activities, video presentations, speakers, a fabulous show and sale, a great winter holiday party and much more.

Every member receives a fun and informative monthly newsletter. We even take field trips to visit members' homes or other clubs, and of course, to visit cactus and succulent specialty nurseries!

Our members come in all sizes and shapes, just like their collections. The novice is just as welcome as the seasoned veteran. And we find that everyone has something to share and something new to learn. The only requirement to join the club is a sincere interest in cactus and succulents.
