What is Handbuilding in Clay?

Handbuilding is the process of creating pottery without using the wheel. It is an ancient pottery making technique that involves creating items using the hands, fingers, and simple tools. Slab building, pinch pottery, and coil building are the most common handbuilding techniques. Handbuilding techniques can also be used to enhance a form thrown on the wheel. It is best to learn handbuilding before learning the wheel as it gives you a better idea of what clay is and how it handles.
