

At the Zoo

By Kevin McWha Steele ©2009

Lovely lady at the door
Dishin' out a pill or two
Debutantin' at the zoo
Confiscatin' what was true

Slicker than a slick rick
Jumpin' over candle stick
A joker sportin' lipstick
Candy-wrapper beatnik

A Buddha bella baby clam
Shoutin' out "that Sam I am"
A triple-fisted little lamb
Knockin' out the flim-flam

All the saints fell in line
Climbin' up and down her spine
Trippin' off of red wine
Playin' in umbrella pine

Feelin' up the kitchen sink
Simulatin' pen and ink
Scratchin' out a little stink
Bowl 'o bliss and cherry wink

Comin' out the black hole
Covered in a sugar bowl
Dancin' to the church roll
Jazzin' up your tiny soul

Chorus:

She's a hard rocker
And a sweet talker
Really smooth
With looks to kill
She's gonna cut you down
And bend your will

Been to the wigwam
With Hendrix and James Bond
Where ET plays tom-tom
Out from the great beyond

Doin' the do-si-do
Epicalyx tango
A wampum mambo
For Didi and Gogo

The opiate opaline
For both the good and obscene
Spitting up aquamarine
Your Winnebago beauty queen

Chorus:

She's a hard rocker
And a sweet talker
Really smooth
With looks to kill
She's gonna cut you down
And bend your will

Bridge:

Don't worry about side effects
Or the oral sex
Relax with the rejects
From your Generation X

Instrumental

Thought that I'd seen it all
'Til I went to that monster ball
Where horses waltz down the hall
And frogmen are 12ft tall

Sucking on fluorescent light
Croaking loud throughout the night
Hibiscus colored dendrite
Makes everything feel alright

The walls then begin to swirl
Is that thing a boy or girl?
Your mind starts to unfurl!
She says, "Hey, baby, just give it a whirl..."

Chorus:

She's a hard rocker
And a sweet talker
Really smooth
With looks to kill
She's gonna take you down
And bend your will
