Summer is approaching quickly which means it is time to turn up those air conditioners! But the more you use your air conditioner and fans, the more your electric bill will increase. It is important to be aware of how your energy consumption habits can impact your monthly bill. Based on your usage patterns, we can develop an energy plan for you!

South Bay Energy is here to help!

Energy Saving Fun Fact

Did you know that LED lightbulbs are the most efficient? Incandescent lightbulbs release about 90% of their energy as heat, meaning that only around 10% of their energy is converted to visible light. However, LED lightbulbs are quite the opposite. LED lightbulbs convert around 80-90% of their energy to visible light, only outputting about 10-20% as heat. Making the switch from incandescent bulbs to LED bulbs allows for the potential of a drastically lower electric bill!
