Failure of FSSAI - 2006 act triggers rise of mafia in adulterated Cheese-Milk business : Deputy Mayor

Scourge of fake milk, paneer, yet selling like hot cake threatening safety of public health

Commissioner News Service
Mohali : "Milk residues after the boil are adequate syndromes of fake milk since mafia in own regime are seen flourishing unchecked by the health authorities" bemoaned Kuljit Singh Bedi Deputy Mayor.

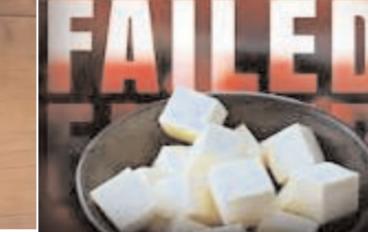

The impurity of "Paneer" may be corroborated by dropping two, three, drops of iodine solution, the adulterated milk product will manifest blue/black colour appearance, has now become the metaphor otherwise there are many instances where in Zirakpur cheap Paneer at the rate of Rs 250 was being sold in open market kicking high rates of quality cheese. "If food safety officials check honestly the quality of pure milk made, cheese, sweets, not a single would qualify the test of purity," challenges a social worker in Zirakpur. The synthetic paneer is usually found manufactured with the aid of starch, detergent, inferior quality of soya paneer. The consumption of adulterated paneer may plague a patient with kidney/liver ailments.

The kidney patients in ultimate for survival are routed for surgery, only the way out remains against the disease lent by fake cheese consumption. The consequences of fake milk products are seen in the multiplying strength of patients seen as wandering, queuing up in PGI, Sector 32, Sector 16, Civil Hospitals Pukla, Mohali, as well in neighbourhood Govt hospital Kharar, and Dera Bassi. The enforcement of Food Safety & Standard

Authority Act of India doesn't seem anywhere strictly being applied, so is the mockery being made by the sweets and milk traders available under their nose. Rarely quantum of fake milk sweets are thrown, viewing it as a catastrophic hazard to human health. For instance about 4 months gone, one Sweet Trader in wholesale, Sector 8 Pukla, Mohali, was apprehended with sweets halwa having insects, no action has yet been taken against the trader, on the plea of sample taken for check, but for unknown indefinite times where it was evidently visual, since insects were seen crawling in voluminous sweets, prima facie without samples, instant action was the urgent need but the action delayed was never implemented instead adjustments were made as enforced on the pretext of peanuts. The sweet trader is enjoying his business with overwhelming immunity, such are the fictitious and impure ways of the health department. Another illustration here must be cited, as in Parliament, one Union Health Minister Harsh Vardhan had alarmed during 2017, the house about the large scale prevalence and consumption of synthetic milk, the ruling political regime got amazed to see the straightforwardness of the minister, rest is seen, he was never given any ticket for contesting his jurisdictional seat. "Neither the Animal husbandry department has taken care of strengthening the successive hike in the cattle for more milk nor has the health department taken care of the food safety of milk and its dairy products for the magnifying populace in the state," bemoaned the Deputy Mayor. The Food Safety and Standard Authority of India (FSSAI) act 2006 not being enforced has led to the collapse of standard quality and purity, point out always many a person. The quality of milk made sweets and cheese is nowhere available in Mohali as well within the whole district, says Kuljit Singh Bedi, and he has written a grievance letter to the Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann urging for stern action over the dominating fake and contaminated milk products as the population in Mohali is escalating by leaps and bounds. Nevertheless, large quantity of paneer and milk is being thrusted in the Mohali markets. People are constrained to spend on the treatment over the fast spreading diseases due to inferior, fake milk products. The branded milk too are not pure as they after boiling leave behind chemical residues very easily can be noticed. Mr Bedi has demanded fast stern action against the mafia, criminals who perpetrate adulteration for petty profits. The children and aged people are more prone as the contaminants attack normal hygienic functioning.

As the genuine quality of pure milk has vanished and the dismissal of mafia regime is not very easily convenient nor can pure milk of cows, buffaloes in huge quantity be made available, meanwhile private players in the dairy development be vigorously encouraged since demand for pure milk has transcended viewing an escape from pervasive spread of diseases due to ruthless mafia.

Over 90% ahaata licences not displayed for public scrutiny

Commissioner News Service
AMBALA : Against a laid down fee, issuance of licence is made to applicant of ahaata owner. Over fulfilling certain norms the authorisation document pertaining to "Ahata" is handed over by the excise and taxation department to the applicant for routine functioning. The ahaata owner usually is expected to sell snacks, soda, allied consumable products. In case, one intends to avail "Ahaata" facilities, he would like to know the legality of the "ahaata" functioning and check the authorisation/licence.

The CNS on its survey found that over 90% ahaata had not displayed any copy of licence issued by the excise department, nor had any convincing rational reply.

Even some narrated that they had not received or applied for the requisite document. Such type of events certainly incur huge loss of revenue to the ministry of Excise & Taxation department.

While talking to Excise Officer Jitender Dhoodi about the non displayment of the Ahata licence, bereft of the essential document, was it not creating administrative lacune. Mr Dhoodi said the ahaata bereft of authorisation display were illegal as consumer had right to know the validity of the ahaata authorisation document. Such type of neglect has driv-

Rejected village community mourn loss of basic civic facilities at Kauli Majra

Commissioner News Service
Chandigarh (Kauli Majra) : Persistent neglect of provisioning civic amenities at Kaulimajra village has plagued the residents of the concerned village. Basic facility like pot water, drainage system for outflow of waste water, amiss of metallised street are the syndrome of the development being manifested by the present government said Madan Sharma, Vice President, Mulayam Singh Yadav, Youth Brigade, Punjab unit based at college Road Dera Bassi.

The jurisdictional municipal administration is in slumber as the residents keep cursing for no fault of theirs being in Punjab. Only thing, they can do is to pray for the categorial civic amenities but no heed by the local administration.

Such type of neglect has driven them to observe protest dharna beginning on 26 Jan 2026 which would terminate over burning of effigies of top political leaders including Bhagwant Mann, Chief Minister, Constituency legislator Kuljit Singh Singh Randhawa and other accountable officials.

On the distress call, given by the afflicted residents of the village, Madan Sharma has decided to observe a requiem and deprivation with forwarding to honourable President and Home Minister of India.

New book titled "Indian Constitution--A Confluence of Law, Art & History" launched by author Ashok Nadir

Commissioner News Service
Chandigarh : The new book "Indian Constitution - A Confluence of Law, Art and History" was inaugurally launched by literature author Ashok Nadir in the premises of Press Club on Friday noon at 1PM.

The most refreshing book reminds us vividly that law without culture is lifeless and reason bereft of spirit remains hollow.

The Constitution harmonizes both -- bridging governance and philosophy, rights and responsibility, tradition and modernity.

Our Constitution even after 75 years remains alive -- evolving with time, nevertheless eternal in its conscientious fervor.

In words and art the Constitution continues to reflect the heart beats of the nation, a timeless promise of justice, compassion and truth for all;

reads the book aloud.

During the inaugural course of new edition of this book, Balram Gupta briefly showcased the attributes of the Constitution pleading the framers of the constitution assembled in 1946. They drafted a legal framework and weaved together 5000 years of civilisational experience into a single vision. On the guidance of Dr Ambedkar, the framers blended India's moral traditions with modern principles of liberty and equality. The Constitution came into being on 26 Jan 1950, while India stepped into a new dawn as a sovereign republic -- free, confident and united in purpose. The original handwritten version preserved in the Parliament is adorned with twenty two hand painted illustrations, created by the guest artist nNandalal Bose and his students from Shantiniketan. Each illustration captures a defining chapter of India's journey -- from the Indus Valley and the Vedic age to the freedom movement and Independence. For decades, the artistic treasure remained hidden, as printed copies possessed only text, elsewhere vanishing the paintings which gave starkly, the document's visual heartbeat and reverberations.

On Feb 11th 2025, MP in Rajya Sabha, Radha Mohan Das Agrawal generated with a specific revelation. The Chairman, Mr Jagdeep Dhankhar affirmed only authentic version of the Constitution was the one signed by its framers -- complete with the original paintings.

No food safety as use of unbranded cooking oil used unchecked by health authorities

No fire safety "NOC" available with the owner cooking norms were being thrown to winds. In such a congested room, about 32 consumers were taking their food in the absence of any fire safety gadgets. On asking the owner Mr Satish Garg said he forgot to display NOCs procured from Fire, Food safety departments but realistically did not have the documents to show to the journalists. All safe, healthy

Nuclear power sector thrown open by parliament for private players

Commissioner News Service
New Delhi : The nuclear power sector legislation proposes, among other things, the grant of licences to private entrepreneurs to operate nuclear power plants. The parliament passed the Sustainable Harnessing and Advancement of Nuclear Energy for Transforming India (SHANTI) Bill on Thursday.

The Bill, which was cleared by Lok Sabha on Wednesday, was introduced in Parliament on Monday by Union minister for state for atomic energy Jitendra Singh. The provisioning of licences would ensure removal of an existing contentious liability clause for suppliers of fuel and technology, as well as the rationalisation of the levels of payouts by operators in case of accidents. The bill further aims to boost investments in the nuclear power sector in order to help India achieve its ambitious target of 100 GW of nuclear power capacity by 2047. "The bill marks a transformational moment for our technology landscape," said the Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Vande Mataram
gaining relevance ?

It is interesting that the BJP rather than the Congress has always taken the lead in trying to make Vande Mataram India's parallel national anthem, rather than a symbolic afterthought. BJP MP Ram Naik took the initiative in 1992 to ensure Vande Mataram was sung at the end of each parliamentary session. The suggestion was endorsed by PM PV Narasimha Rao whose personal attachment to the song overshadowed the misgivings of some colleagues.

Although the troubling verses equating the sacred motherland to Goddess Durga had been shelved by the Congress in 1937, a truncation that had the endorsement of Rabindranath Tagore, the secularists were always uneasy with the consolation prize of 'national song' awarded to it by the Constituent Assembly chairman's ruling on January 24, 1950. Like the Constitution's embarrasing Directive Principles that called for cow protection, prohibition of alcohol and a uniform civil code, there was a quiet hope that in time to Vande Mataram would steadily become decorative. This hasn't happened, as evident from its unceasing popularity on flag-waving occasions.

A perceptive British writer observed that his country was sharply polarised between the 'somewhere' people and those who could be dubbed the 'anywhere' people. In a curious sort of way, the clash between those who saw themselves as grounded in India's distinctive nationhood and those whose sense of modernity stretched into multiculturalism and post-nationalism was evident during last week's parliamentary discussion to commemorate 150 years of Vande Mataram. To those uneasy with the Modi govt's assertive nationalism, there was no earthly reason why valuable parliamentary time was expended on marking the landmark anniversary of the Constitution-decreed 'national song'. Judging by the subtext of their displeasure, a grand, possibly well-choreographed function in one of Delhi's grand sarkari venues may well have sufficed. Judging by the somewhat sacerdotal intervention of Congress MP Priyanka Gandhi, the debate was occasioned by the Prime Minister's waning confidence in his own governance and to divert attention from the more pressing problems confronting India. In all likelihood, those with Nehruvian mindsets would have considered exploring the fascinating bylanes of the nationalist movement less of a priority than articulating the woes of travellers inconvenienced by the mismanagement of India's largest airline.

Vande Mataram, undeniably is becoming the most inspirational mantra of the freedom struggle, also carried Bankim Chandra Chatterjee's more problematic baggage. The entire song, apart from being couched in difficult language, was also seen to be too full of Hindu imagery to be acceptable to Muslim and secular sensitivities. This mattered to Jawaharlal Nehru who, in the words of Nirad Chaudhuri was "usually repelled by anything pronouncedly Hindu." In Rajya Sabha intervention, home minister Amit Shah spelt out its enormous importance. There was, first, the shared association with the national movement, particularly the martyrs who went to the gallows chanting Vande Mataram. For some time, there has been a conscious bid by the saffron ecosystem to widen the scope of the nationalist legacy to include those the Nehru family-centric view of the past either left out or marginalised. The incorporation of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose and Sardar Patel, not to mention Birsa Munda and Lachit Borphukan, in the pantheon of national heroes is also part of the process of crafting a new inspirational history. The widening of the national inheritance was facilitated by the Congress abdicating the nationalist space. The indifference of the Congress' first family to the Vande Mataram debate was underlined by Shah.

The importance attached to the censored verses from Bankim's Ananda Math is quite deliberate. It is not that prior to 1937, the full version of Vande Mataram was always sung. However, by trying to accommodate Jinnah's objection to the recurrent idolatry, the Congress Working Committee resolution of 1939 failed to stem the tide of Muslim separatism. Eight years later, Pakistan had become a reality.

The lesson that top BJP leadership drew from this controversy is that minority appeasement invariably leads to escalating demands and a corresponding emasculation of nationhood. The linkage between the partition of Vande Mataram and the Partition of India is not to be scoffed at. Even if the full song is unlikely to be insisted upon and A R Rahman's catchy version will continue to be mis-taken for the real thing, the Vande Mataram debate is likely to be a landmark.

The forthright speeches of the three top ministers of the govt have indicated without a shred of doubt that the post-Independence squalidness associated with the mantra Sri Aurobindo evocatively described as the "religion of patriotism" has been junked.

Advocate Sachit Jaiswal, who deals in excise and taxation cases, suggested that any officer against whom complaints were pending should not be the part in formulating the upcoming Excise Policy.

"The administration should take steps against monopolisation of the liquor trade in the city," he said, further adding that a single individual from a family/enterprise/business firm or as an individual should only be allowed to run not more than five liquor vends.

"To strengthen revenue protection, promoting transparency, safeguarding public health, ensuring fairness, and improving enforcement," Ajay Jagga, a member, Administrator's Advisory Council, suggested that prohibition of employment of men under the age of 25 years and women.

Further suggestions included that no person licensed to sell liquor should employ with or without remuneration any man under the age of 25 years or any women in any part of such premises where liquor or intoxicating drugs are consumed by the public. Besides, the number of liquor dinkin places/restaurants must be freezed (or reduced) in the areas like Sector 10, 11, 15, 26, 32, 36 etc, where educational institutions are high in numbers.

TRICITY
3rd most polluted Pkl city emerges in North

Commissioner News Service

PANCHKULA : "North India continues to experience unhealthy air quality with AQI remaining in poor category. Unfavourable winter meteorology, lower boundary layer and fog limit, pollutant dispersion are increasing exposure risks, especially for vulnerable groups.", commented Dr Ravindra Khatri, Professor of Environmental Health at the Department of Community Medicine and School of Public Health, said in a public health advisory:

Panchkula recorded the third-highest air pollution level in North India this evening, prompting concerns not only over deteriorating air quality but also the reliability of pollution-monitoring system amid unusually sharp fluctuations in official readings. Only Delhi and Ghaziabad reported worse air quality, with AQI levels of 373 and 353, respectively, at 8:05 pm on Sunday. Panchkula ranked above Baddi (328), Jind (329), Gurugram (321) and Rohtak (318), reflecting the widespread impact of winter pollution across the region. Official data over the past four days reveals extreme variation in Panchkula's air quality. On December 18, the AQI was 346 (very poor), before dropping sharply to 145 (moderate) on December 19 — an improvement of over 200 points within a single day. This was followed by a sudden spike to 361 (very poor) on December 20, before easing slightly to 340 on December 21 evening. Such abrupt swings contrast with trends in neighbouring Chandigarh, where changes were more consistent. Chandigarh recorded an AQI level of 266 (poor) on December 18, 254 (poor) on December 19, 302 (very poor) on December 20 and then improved to 216 (poor) on December 21. Environmental observers noted that while both cities were affected by winter pollution, Panchkula's volatility stood out.

3 Mohali chowks target
251 trees for axetion

Commissioner News Service

MOHALI : With air pollution worsening daily and AQI levels hitting alarmingly high marks, sparking a national emergency, focus has sharpened on planting trees and preserving green cover. Yet Mohali marches to its own tune. Here, trees fall unabated, ignoring the gravity of the situation.

Kulwant Singh MLA launched construction on three roundabouts—at Gurdwara Singh Shaheedan, Sector 78/79, and near CP-67 Mall—at an estimated Rs 17.71 crore. About 251 trees would face the axe for building three roundabouts near the airport within the next month. The work has already begun with several green trees in Sector 79 tumbled under a private contractor hired by PUDA. Residents and environmentalists decry the persistent high AQI and winter smog, but electric cutters and axes labour relentlessly to fell mature trees. Surprisingly, no public outcry has erupted. Trees such as Jakranda (blue purple flowers), Gulmohar (red flowers), Chakrasia (tree of heaven), and neem were axed, claimed environmentalists. The Divisional Forest Officer, Mohali, has approved an extensive list of marked trees, soon to be razed by a Sunam-based firm. GMADA auctioned these 251 trees for Rs 4.91 lakh plus 18% GST, totalling Rs 5,79,380, with felling slated for completion in one month.

Environmentalists highlight the hypocrisy:

"The government promotes 'Ek Ped Maa ke Naam', yet razes green trees shamelessly. 'No word on relocation or compensatory planting,'" fumed environmentalist KNS Sondhi.

Civic body to formalise new MC limits by December end

Commissioner News Service

MOHALI : Residents of TDI City, Balongi, Badhajra, Bafiyali, Green Enclave have resented the decision to exclude the villages from the new civic body limits and have even threatened to approach the court if their villages are not included in the new limits.

The expansion of the Municipal Corporation (MC) limits is set to be formalised before December 31, Local Bodies Department sources have disclosed.

After the deadline for suggestions and objections regarding the draft notification finished on November 6, the department has intensified the process to formalise the new MC limits as the government is keen to complete the process after much delay.

Mohali MLA Kulwant Singh said, "The government has taken the decision after much deliberation keeping in mind the pros and cons of the move. However, after the residents expressed their desire to include their villages in the notification, government is considering their demand sympathetically and the decision will be taken in the benefit of all concerned."

Mayor Amarjit Singh Sidhu, meanwhile, "The House had resolved to include these villages in the new limits in 2021. But now the government has taken a decision arbitrarily. We will support the residents of these villages and will knock on the doors of the court if AAP government does not reconsider its decision."

Significantly, the government will have to complete the entire process before December 31 as the Registrar General of India and Census Commissioner Mritunjay Kumar Narayan in a letter to Chief Secretaries of states and UTs has stated that the administrative boundaries will be frozen on December 31, disallowing the states and Union Territories to change the boundaries of its municipalities, panchayats, police stations, sub-districts and districts from January 1 2025 to March 31, 2027.

The first phase of the Census 2026 will begin from April 1. The house-listing operation will begin on April 1, 2026 whereas population enumeration will start on February 1, 2027.

Canine bite victim to receive Rs 1-lakh relief, court directs owners

Commissioner News Service

CHANDIGARH : Dr Bhumika Gupta, a resident of Sector 49-B, Chandigarh, had filed a suit for recovery of Rs 30,000 with interest rate of 18% per annum on account of medical and incidental expenses for treating the injuries caused by a dog owned by Divya Setia and Manpal Setia, who lived in her society. She also sought damages and compensation of Rs 2,00,000 for the reputational, economical, mental and social loss caused to her. A local court has directed the owners of a dog to pay a compensation of Rs 1 lakh to a woman who was bitten by the canine. The court also directed the owners to pay Rs 30,000 on account of medical and incidental expenses.

Gupta said on January 18, 2020, she went to the terrace of her building to collect clothes hung up for drying and found Divya and her five unchained pet dogs there.

One of the dogs suddenly attacked her, making her fall down. Thereafter, the dog bit her on the forehead and scratched the flesh thereof. An extensive section of skin was completely torn off the underlying tissue. As she shouted for help, other residents of the society came out. She was taken to the hospital for medical aid. The police were informed about the incident. Both defendants admitted their mistake and requested not to take any legal action while assuring that they would bear the expenditure on her treatment. She agreed and no FIR was registered. Later, the plaintiff underwent medical treatment, which cost her around Rs 30,000. The injuries permanently disfigured her face. She had to remain at home for around a week, which also caused loss to plaintiff's professional and social life.

When asked to fulfil the commitments, including reimbursement of the medical expenses and compensation, the defendants did not give any satisfactory reply.

The defendants, however, denied the allegations and claimed that they had kept only two pet dogs as per the permissible limit and the canines were duly licensed and registered with the MC. After hearing the arguments, the court ordered that the defendants to pay Rs 30,000 on account of medical and incidental expenses along with simple interest at the rate of 9% per annum.

Further, the plaintiff was also entitled to damages and compensation of Rs 1 lakh to be paid by the defendants for causing reputational, economical, mental and social loss to her, the court ordered.

Chandigarh MC to hire consultant

The city, however, performed poorly in source segregation, scoring dismal 14%.

It maintained three-star rating in the garbage-free city category, leaving huge scope for an upgrade.

The agency will design and deploy a standardised monitoring system, tracking cleanliness efforts across all civic body circles, including activities like street cleaning, waste collection and public space maintenance.

The agency will develop a real-time digital data collection system integrating GPS tracking, mobile apps and other tools to provide accurate and immediate feedback on sanitation and waste management activities.

Officials will be able to monitor waste collection routes and identify problem areas such as garbage pile-ups or unclean public spaces in real time.

It will assist in optimising waste collection schedules, routes and coverage to enhance collection efficiency and minimise delays or missed pickups.

Commissioner News Service

NEW DELHI : Under the concluded trade pact, New Zealand has liberalised mobility provisions enabling Indian students to access longer post-study work visas and allowing 5,000 Indian professionals, including yoga instructors and chefs, to work in the Oceania country.

"The students going to New Zealand for study will now be eligible for a two-year work visa if they take degree course, three-year work visa if they take bachelors degree with honors or are graduate in STEM disciplines and a four-year work visa if they do postgraduate studies in New Zealand," Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal told reporters here.

The two countries on Monday announced closure of the FTA negotiations. It is expected to be signed and implemented in about 7-8 months from now. The Union Cabinet approved the pact last week. The pact also needs approval from the New Zealand parliament.

As per the pact, New Zealand has, for the first time, signed an annexure on student mobility and post-study work visas with any country, offering no numerical caps and locking in

Over 2.12 lakh PUCs issued in four days, 10,000 vehicles fail tests under GRAP-IV in Delhi

Commissioner News Service

NEW DELHI : "Stringent action against polluting industries and private offices flouting work-from-home directives will be taken" warned Delhi Environment Minister Manjinder Singh Sirsa.

More than 2.12 lakh new Pollution Under Control (PUC) certificates were issued in the last four days following the strict implementation of GRAP-IV measures, even as around 10,000 vehicles failed mandatory emission tests, said on Monday.

Addressing a press briefing, Sirsa said the strict restrictions imposed under GRAP-IV over the past four days have begun yielding results.

He said more than two lakh vehicles have undergone PUC tests since the "No PUC, No Fuel" rule came into effect, while nearly 10,000 vehicles failed mandatory emission tests.

The minister said the government has further intensified enforcement from Monday to identify polluting industrial units, adding that those found violating air-pollution norms will be sealed immediately without notice and also warned that industries failing to apply for the mandatory Online Consent Management (OCM) by the December 31 deadline will face strict action.

Sirsa also said the Municipal Corporation of Delhi and the Delhi Pollution Control Committee are jointly identifying illegal and unauthorised industrial units operating in the city and all such units are liable to be shut down.

"There is zero tolerance for pollution. Any industry harming Delhi's air will not be spared," he said.

He said that all PUC centres are being upgraded with modern, high-capacity equipment to reduce delays and ensure accurate emission testing, while a third-party inspection mechanism is being introduced to enhance transparency. Technical teams from the transport department are conducting continuous monitoring to prevent malpractice, he added.

The minister also said round-the-clock mechanical road cleaning and water sprinkling are being carried out to control dust, while large-scale bio-mining operations continue at landfill sites. Nearly 35,000 metric tonnes of legacy waste are being processed daily, he said.

7,000 km high-speed rail corridors would be built by 2047: Vaishnav

Commissioner News Service

NEW DELHI : High-speed routes, designed for maximum speeds of up to 350 km per hour and an operating speed of 320 km per hour, will mark a transformative leap in India's rail infrastructure, said the Union railway Minister Ashwini Vaishnav while inaugurating the 16th International Railway Equipment Exhibition (IREE), 2025, at Bharat Mandapam in New Delhi.

Unveiling an ambitious roadmap for the Railways, on Wednesday announced that the government plans to build 7,000 km of dedicated passenger corridors by 2047 under the Viksit Bharat vision.

Vaishnav said the proposed corridors would be powered by indigenously developed signalling systems and modern operations control centres, ensuring both speed and safety.

He also outlined the government's futuristic vision for Vande Bharat 4.0, Amit Bharat 4.0, and next-generation railway manufacturing standards. Highlighting the success of the Vande Bharat series, he said the third-generation train already meets global parameters, with acceleration from 0 to 100 kmph in just 52 seconds, faster than many trains in Japan and Europe, while maintaining low noise and vibration levels.

"Vande Bharat 4.0 will be a new benchmark in performance and passenger experience," said Vaishnav, adding that the upcoming model will focus on superior seats, enhanced toilets, and refined workmanship. Discussing the Amit Bharat series, the minister said the 2.0 version is already operational and the 3.0 model, based on push-pull technology, is being developed for long-distance routes. The 4.0 version, he added, will bring in new-generation trainsets and locomotives, expected to be ready for testing within 36 months.

Vaishnav credited Prime Minister Narendra Modi's leadership for what he termed "a decade of modernisation," noting that more than 35,000 km of new rail lines have been laid and 46,000 km of electrification completed in the past 11 years. "Our budget allocation for the Railways has consistently risen, reflecting the government's commitment to a modern, self-reliant network," he said.

High Court issues notice to Sonia, Rahul in National Herald case on ED Plea

Commissioner News Service

New Delhi : On ED petition, the Delhi High court has sought responses from congress leaders MPs Sonia Gandhi, Rahul Gandhi and other accused, challenging a trial court order that refused to take cognizance of the agency's (ED) charge sheet in the National Herald money laundering case while granting no stay.

Justice Ravinder Dudeja issued notice on ED's petition seeking stay on Dec 16 order. The matter would now be heard on Mar 22,2026.

The trial had held that the cognizance of ED's complaint was impermissible in law as the probe was not founded in a FIR under Prevention of Money Laundering Act but arose from a private complaint.

BJP preparing for elimination of Indian Constitution: Rahul Gandhi alleged in Germany

Commissioner News Service

New Delhi : "BJP is proposing elimination of the Constitution in India that grants equal rights to all and vowed to create a system of opposition's resistance", alleged Congress leader Rahul Gandhi while in Berlin the capital of Germany. At the Hertie School in Berlin last week, he also alleged that the BJP has launched a full-scale assault and has captured the institutional framework of the country to help use it as a tool for building its political power, and that is what the opposition is fighting against.

In an hour-long video released by the Congress on Monday (December 22, 2025), Mr. Gandhi said India's largest and complex democracy is a global asset, and the "assault" on the Indian democratic system is also an attack on the global democratic system.

"What the BJP is proposing essentially is the elimination of the Constitution. Elimination of the idea of equality between states, elimination of the idea of equality between languages and religions, elimination of the idea of the central core of the Constitution, which is that every individual will have the same value," the leader of opposition in Lok Sabha said to a group of students at the Hertie School. In the video, 'Politics is the art of listening', Mr. Gandhi said that when there is an attack on the democratic system, the Opposition has to find ways to counter it and not merely say that there is a problem with the elections.

Bangladesh seeks extradition of Hasina for case trial

Commissioner News Service

Dacca/New Delhi : Bangla Desh has lodged a strong protest against what it has called the "deteriorating security situation" in Dhaka.

On Wednesday, India's foreign ministry summoned Bangladeshi envoy Riaz Hamidullah to convey its concerns about the actions of some "extremist elements", the ministry said in a statement.

"We expect the interim government to ensure the safety of [Indian] missions and posts in Bangladesh in keeping with its diplomatic obligations," it added.

The move comes

Hasina from Indian soil "to undermine the upcoming elections".

Bangladesh is set to hold elections on 12 February under the interim government, led by Nobel laureate Muhammad Yunus, which took charge after Hasina fled to India in August 2024. India has said it "categorically rejects the assertions" made by Bangladesh.

The relationship between the countries has become strained since Hasina fled to India following mass protests. Dhaka has repeatedly asked for her extradition so that she could stand trial for her alleged crimes.
