Over 1.4 Cr voters ineligible for documentary proof discrepancies

SC grants EC additional 10 days for initiative corrective steps

Commissioner News Service

New Delhi : Incidence of violations, lawlessness against the Election Commission now busy in conducting the drive of Special Intensive Revision (SIR) in West Bengal, the bench of CJI Surya Kant, Justice Dipankar Datta and Joymalya Bagchi asked the state to provide manpower as needed by Election Commission and has directed the DGP to maintain law and order for smooth conduct of the special revision of the electoral rolls.

Over 1.4 Cr voters have been charged with discrepancies proof needing proper documentation. The bench of CJI has directed the EC to display the list of people in panchayat and block offices and further extended 10 more days for providing documents which could establish their credentials for inclusion in the state electoral rolls.

Since the state education board doesn't record the details of birth date in the certificate issue after passing the examination, the election commission would be required to consider the admit card as an essential doc- umentary proof said Justice Dutta.

" Notices are being issued to produce relevant documents in response to enable the commission to rectify the existing discrepancies. The electoral registration officers, however, would have to be convinced and satisfied," said Rakesh Dwivedi, Election Commission Counsel.

"The requisite hearing must take place same day when the voter submits documents within 10 days from the date of display in the panchayat and block offices. Such initiation would mean the deadline for submission of documents which was earlier Jan 19 since the display of the voter list would consume additional more two days, added the Supreme Court bench.

EDITORIAL -

India need capital foreign investors to gain supremacy

India is losing more people and attracting a lot less money than it used to. This decade, a net total of 6,75,000 people emigrated each year, up from 3,25,000 in the 2010s. Only Pakistan, Bangladesh and Ukraine have seen a larger exodus while China is haemorrhaging people at the same pace as last decade, 3,00,000 a year. A chunk of this outflow from India is "brain drain", including skilled workers and university students, exactly the talents it needs to compete in advanced fields.

Flows of foreign money asks into India have dried up, suggesting outsiders believe that the reported GDP growth rate of over 8% masks underlying weaknesses.

Most strikingly, corporate revenue normally grows (or shrinks) with the economy - in any country. But last year corporate revenue growth for listed firms in India decelerated to barely half the GDP growth rate. Rather than take comfort in the headline real GDP figures, which are likely boosted by technical factors related to adjustments for inflation, Indian policymakers would be wise to address some key fault lines.

One-third of Silicon Valley's tech workforce is now Indian. Employment growth continues to be weak and concentrated in low-paying sectors like agriculture. Even at the famed Indian Institutes of Technology, 38% of the students now graduate without a single job offer from a campus recruiter. Many Indians are leaving to find work in the few countries that are still friendly to immigrants, such as UAE and Saudi Arabia, drawn in by the Gulf region's construction boom. A sense of limits is reshaping capital flows as well. For many years India has attracted only modest capital from abroad, thanks in large measure to the lingering licence raj, which can make it prohibitively expensive to acquire land or hire and fire workers. Firms are still twice as likely to cite access to land as an obstacle to doing business in India than in other countries of similar income.

Asian economies that have sustained rapid growth-such as China in the past and Vietnam more recently -saw net FDI surge above 4% of GDP during their boom phases. That figure never surpassed 1.5% in India, and it is now just 0.1%, which is one-sixth of the emerging market average.

India over the last decade, dropped in the rankings for net FDI/GDP, from 12th to 19th among the 25 largest emerging countries. While the net numbers have been depressed recently by foreigners repatriating past profits, gross flows are low too, with India ranking below most emerging markets last year.

India's long-standing reputation as a difficult place to do business, new risks have been holding back foreign investors including India's deteriorating relations with its neighbours, the tariff battle with US and doubts about its tech potential. China spends more than 2.5% of GDP on R&D, and South Korea spends twice as much.

India, meanwhile, never spent near that much, and in recent years its outlays for R&D have slumped to less than 0.7% of GDP. It is no surprise then that India has no serious players in Artificial Intelligence.

India needs to attract much more foreign capital because its domestic savings pool is not sufficient to finance strong growth. Unlike many of the East Asian miracle economies, India has a weak manufacturing sector, so it never became an export powerhouse and has run a current-account deficit in all but four of the last 45 years. Among other beneficial side effects of foreign capital - particularly when it comes in the form of direct investment - is that it brings greater access to new technology.

India's basic weaknesses point the way forward. Over the past year, govt has pushed significant reforms by streamlining the labour code, simplifying bankruptcy rules, digitising many public services and launching an agency devoted to further cuts in red tape. All of these are steps in the right direction, and the hope is that the reforms will continue and finally spur a pickup in investment.

HESMA 1974 law extended in Chandigarh by six months

Commissioner News Service

CHANDIGARH : The application of the Haryana Essential Services (Maintenance) Act (HESMA), 1974, in the city has been extended by another six months.

The ban on strikes by employees of Chandigarh Power Distribution Limited (CPDL) will continue, said an official of the UT Administration.

Power supply is an essential service and any disruption would directly affect the city's residents. To ensure uninterrupted power supply, HESMA has been imposed, prohibiting CPDL employees from going on strike. Any employee who participates in a strike or similar protest during this period will face legal action, in accordance with a notification issued by the UT Administration.

Since the employees were reportedly planning a large-scale protest on January 30 in support of their demands, the unequivocal decision was taken to frustrate the designs of the employees union. The HESMA imposed six months back was in force till January 26. Until recently, the Punjab ESMA was applicable in Chandigarh. However, amid ongoing protests against the privatisation of the Electricity Department, the Administration scrapped the Punjab ESMA and invoked the Haryana ESMA, citing its stricter provisions.

Officials said that under the earlier rules, only employees directly participating in a strike could face action, but under the Haryana ESMA, even those who plan a strike or provide funds for it could be penalised.

General housing scheme in Sector 53 to steam off by March

Commissioner News Service

CANDIGARH : After nearly a decade, the Chandigarh Housing Board (CHB) has planned to launch the general housing scheme in Sector 53 by March this year. Scrapped several times despite two demand surveys, the CHB will now auction the site for the group housing scheme.

During an interaction with mediapersons, UT Chief Secretary H Rajesh Prasad said the site would be auctioned in a fair and transparent manner and any private developer could participate in the auction.

Spread over nearly 21 acres in Sector 53, nearly 11 acres have been earmarked for a general housing scheme for employees of the UT Administration.

A demand survey completed in March last year received 7,468 applications for only 372 flats —nearly 20 applicants per unit — indicating a strong demand for CHB housing. Applicants deposited Rs 10,000 for HIG and MIG categories and Rs 5,000 for EWS.

The housing scheme in Sector 53 has been derailed several times for nearly a decade. First proposed in 2018, the scheme received just 178 applications for 492 flats, primarily due to high prices — Rs 1.8 crore for a three-bedroom, Rs 1.5 crore for a two-bedroom and Rs 95 lakh for a one-bedroom unit — forcing the CHB to withdraw the scheme.

Synthetic milk dominates market unchecked by health authority

We over 70% of populace digest daily the pulverised synthetic milk which comprises a definite quantity of detergent, urea, caustic soda, sodium hydroxide and fats, cautioned the otherday, Dr Harsh Vardhan, former Union Minister for Science & Technology.

In accordance with Food Safety & Standard Authority of India, the quality of milk in question doesn't conform to the parameters laid by the stipulated law. The excess water added to the milk may destroy the intake of nutritious specific values, which are immensely harmful.

The unnatural milk also comprises certain quantity of insecticides and metal which are destructive to human health. One day, skimmed milk sample of 548, only 577 were found to be carrying ample quantity of glucose. It has been noticed while storing, packaging, certain quantity of detergent particles enter the openly placed quantity of bare milk. The demand for the genuine quality milk is not being met hence the glut of synthetic milk would continue to rein in the prevailing market.

Artificial imitation of natural milk remains harmful to human health. Its excessive use inflict very serious damage on human body causing swelling in the eyes and many other complication in the liver and kidney. The journey of synthetic milk, now a days, has been heading from urban area to rural populace to acclimatise to their propensities.

Our nation has been notoriously becoming famous, leaving concentration away from genuine natural milk.

Now fait accompli, we are tolerating assortment by of chemicals, urea, by compulsion as the occupation of genuine dairy farming has been going in very lackadaisical race even government controlled units are losing curiosity in natural milk. What a catastrophic approach, but against whom? remains puzzling.

US wants Greenland to safeguard "National Security"

Commissioner News Service

Washington : US President Donald Trump had earlier flagged his choicest "Greenland" as he needed to secure his country through the aide of Greenland. Now, he has threatened to lay tariffs on countries opposing US claim on Greenland perhaps showing self interest is best interest. "I may put a tariff on countries if they don't go along with Greenland, because we need Greenland for national security," Bloomberg quoted Trump as saying at a White House event on healthcare. Trump has insisted, for months now, that the US should control Greenland, a self-governing territory which is part of the kingdom of Denmark.

However, while the White House has confirmed that "all options are on the table" regarding the US taking over the territory, this is the first time that Trump has threatened tariffs over nations not backing the proposal. This comes a day after European countries sent small numbers of military troops to Greenland, even as Denmark said it was pressing on with plans to establish "larger and more permanent" NATO presence. The display of support towards the territory was also meant to help Denmark prepare military exercises, and followed a meeting of officials from the US, Denmark and Greenland. On Friday, a group of US senators and representatives met lawmakers in the Danish parliament, with protests against Trump's plans due across Denmark due to Saturday, according to Bloomberg.

Danish Foreign Minister Lars Lokke Rasmussen has also been attending meetings in Washington with members of the US Congress for a week now, on the heels of talks with US Vice President J D Vance and Secretary of State Marco Rubio.
