Untreated sewage water leaves ZRK worried against multiple maladies

Commissioner News Service
Zirakpur: In view of no functional sewerage treatment plant the threat of contaminated water has been posing catastrophic risk to human life. The contaminated water contains harmful bacteria, viruses and multiple pollutants, which keeps inching downward to earth water. Sewage is the municipal waste matter, including both liquid and solid wastes rich in organic material and microbes, that is carried away in sewers and rains. Sewage contains disease-causing microorganisms and parasites and other pollutant can also contaminate water sources. The decomposition of organic matter in sewage by bacteria consumes large amounts of oxygen in the water, leading to low oxygen levels that can harm aquatic life. Contact with sewage-contaminated water can lead to various water-borne diseases, including diarrhea, dysentery, cholera, and typhoid said a medic working in health sector. It would not be incorrect to underscore that the Zirakpur town stands, at present, engulfed with dangerous sewerage system or no network of functional sewerage, for the citizenry to live safe in consonance with envisaged eco green environs. No governmental operational treatment plant or commanding private one is seen anywhere to boost of decarbonised, unpolluted environs, bemoan a few accountable builders who raised multiple high rising buildings. Is the present system not set to an encounter with the potential fusillade of cancerous syndromes, said a prominent builder on anonymous stand, but looked simultaneously too perplexed on the combustible topic of sensitive human life. In order to trace certain fateful solutions, which were nevertheless possible, CNS tried to have rendezvous with Rantez Sharma Chief Environmental Engineer who didn't provide time nor had Ashok Pathriya, an accountable local Executive Officer. In the ongoing tough encounter with the syndromes, the CNS is equally perturbed if the officials, who are paid salaries from the public exchequer, don't advance humanitarian concern and interest in the worsening scattered sewages, who would save whom in the town, remains to be seen.

India transforms from dependence to self-reliance ---- Modi

Commissioner News Service
New Delhi: "India was not only participating in the world order but also contributing in making its future safe and secure," said Prime Minister Narendra Modi at an event. Taking a swipe at opposition parties for their criticism of probe agencies like Enforcement Directorate (ED), he said those who looted public money were having to return it. "ED is being abused day and night. It has recovered over Rs.22,000 crore. This money is being returned legally from those whom it was looted," he added. The PM said the country had travelled from "aspiration to achievement" and from "desperation to 55 under his govt's over 10-year tenure, citing its massive welfare programmers for health insurance, gas cooking cylinders, building toilets and supplying piped drinking water. India is now not only a nation that dreams but also a nation that delivers," he said. Modi highlighted his govt's tough stance on corruption, boosting efficiency and local products, and the simplification of indirect taxes by introducing Goods and Service Tax.

Garbage collectors' contract goes to single man for 7th time

Chandigarh: This would be the seventh extension since Dec 3, 2022. The corporation said it will finalize the fresh MoU by Oct 2025. Failing to reach a consensus with the door-to-door garbage collectors on the fresh memorandum of understanding (MoU), the municipal corporation has again extended the existing agreement. The door-to-door garbage collector in Chandigarh started in Dec 2020 in compliance with the solid waste management by-laws. It is facilitated through 926 individual garbage collectors under an MoU. The initial MoU was executed for a period of two years, from Jan 1, 2021, to Dec 31, 2022. The MC constituted a committee on Nov 7, 2022, to amend the terms and conditions of the MoU, but it could not be finalised because consent was not reached between committee members and the garbage collectors. Later, the then mayor in Sep 2024 constituted a committee, but the meetings of the committee never took place. The office has now requested the mayor to recommend names of councillor for reconstituting the committee. The existing MoU is set to expire on April 30, 2025.

US places New Delhi on same level with China as chemicals precursor

Commissioner News Service

Washington : It is the first time when Washington has placed New Delhi on the same level as Beijing in connection with the supply of precursor chemicals used by drug cartels to manufacture opioids like fentanyl. With just a week left for the Donald Trump administration's tit-for-tat tariff to kick in, the United States has now named India, along with China, a "state actor" in enabling direct and indirect trade policies with certain countries to their role in the illicit drug supply chain, however this is the first time when Washington has placed New Delhi on the same level as Beijing in connection with the supply of precursor chemicals used by drug cartels to manufacture opioids

tration has intensified its crackdown on fentanyl trafficking and has even linked trade policies with certain countries to their role in the illicit drug supply chain, however this is the first time when Washington has placed New Delhi on the same level as Beijing in connection with the supply of precursor chemicals used by drug cartels to manufacture opioids like fentanyl. While Mexico-based transnational criminal organisations (TCOs), such as the Sinaloa Cartel and the Jalisco New Generation Cartel, continue to dominate the production and distribution of illicit drugs, the report states that they rely on precursors and equipment from state actors like China and India.

Modi-Trump Bond May Work In India's Favour

Commissioner News Service

Washington : The reciprocal tariffs would be counter-productive as the costs would get passed on to US consumers, adding that tariffs on other trading partners will divert trade to India. US President Donald Trump's 'tariff war' from April 2 will lead to a disintegration of the world trading system as we know it now, Dartmouth College economics professor and author Douglas Irwin told CNN-News18 as he weighed in on what lies ahead for India and its economy. Trump has promised reciprocal duties on both US allies and competitors from April 2 to "make America Rich Again". Addressing the joint session of Congress, Trump had said in early March: "Other nations charge the US tremendously higher tariffs than the US charges them."

Iran responds to "Bombing Threat" of US

Commissioner News Service

According to the state-owned Tehran Times, Iran's armed forces have readied missiles that have the operational capability to hit US-linked positions around the world. New Delhi: Hours after US President Donald Trump threatened Iran with "bombing" over nuclear negotiations, the country has responded by "readying missiles". According to the state-owned Tehran Times, Iran's armed forces have readied missiles that have the operational capability to hit US-linked positions around the world. "A significant number of these launch-ready missiles are located in underground facilities scattered across the country, designed to withstand airstrikes," the report claimed. On Sunday, Mr Trump told a journalist from the US network NBC News that Iran would face unprecedented bombing if it refused to comply with US demands. "If they don't make a deal, there will be bombing," Trump said. "It will be bombing the likes of which they have never seen before." In addition to military threats, Mr Trump floated the possibility of reintroducing secondary tariffs on Iran and its trade partners. He suggested that a final decision on these tariffs would be made in the coming weeks, depending on Tehran's response. "The Tehran Times has learned that Iran's armed forces have readied missiles with the capability to strike US-related positions, amid ongoing threats of military action from President Donald Trump if Tehran does not agree to a new nuclear agreement on his terms," the report claimed. During his first term as President, Mr Trump withdrew the US from the 2015 Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action (JCPOA), known as the Iran nuclear deal. The agreement had imposed strict limitations on Iran's nuclear activities in exchange for sanctions relief. Mr Trump reiterated that his administration remains open to talks but stressed that Iran must demonstrate a commitment to limiting its nuclear program. Iran's newly elected President Masoud Pezeshkian responded to Mr Trump's comments in a statement broadcast on state media. While rejecting direct negotiations with Washington, he acknowledged that indirect talks, mediated through Oman, could continue. "The supreme leader has also emphasised that indirect negotiations can continue. We do not avoid negotiations. Rather, it is their unfaithfulness that has caused problems for us so far. They must prove that they can establish trust regarding decisions, and I hope this will materialise," said the president Mr Pezeshkian.

PGI conducts organ retrieval , transplantation in Patiala

Chandigarh: This organised retrieval and transplantation, the first-of-its-kind initiative in the state aimed to equip surgeons with skills for deceased donor organ retrieval, a pivotal step in the transplantation process. The workshop saw expert faculty from PGI's department of renal transplant surgery, led by Dr Ashish Sharma, provide intensive hands-on training. Prof Deepesh Kenwar served as the course coordinator. In a major move to strengthen organ donation and transplant services across Punjab, the PGI, through its Regional Organ and Tissue Transplant Organization (ROTO North), successfully conducted a groundbreaking taskmasterclass on Abdominal Organ Retrieval, at Government Medical College (GMC), Patiala. Surgeons from GMC Patiala and prominent private institutions, including Manipal Hospital, Park Hospital Patiala, and Max Hospital

Mohali, participated in the workshop. The event was conducted under the guidance of Dr Vipin Koushal, nodal officer, ROTO PGI. "This workshop is a crucial step towards enhancing the surgical expertise required for organ retrieval in Punjab," said Dr Sharma. "By equipping surgeons with these essential skills, we are contributing to a stronger and more efficient transplant system."

Ominous things to happen against Iran : Trump

The US-led war against Iraq in 2003 over fabricated charges that the Saddam Hussein regime was secretly acquiring nuclear weapons and missiles, and the tumultuous developments in West Asia over the past two decades, including the removal of the Gaddafi regime in Libya, have only increased Iran’s resolve to keep its nuclear programme alive. This has been an issue of major geopolitical and strategic discord globally and in West Asia, with Israel, Saudi Arabia and the UAE supporting the US position over containing Tehran. The Trump missive to Tehran is the latest attempt by Washington to address the long-festering nuclear issue. The US President added: “I sent them a letter just recently, and I said: you have to make a decision, one way or the other...” And in keeping with his blow-hot, blow-cold style of issuing cryptic warnings, he cautioned: “I don’t want that to happen. My big preference — and I don’t say this through strength or weakness — my big preference is, we work it out with Iran. But if we don’t work it out, bad, bad things are going to happen to Iran.” The American policy on Iran and, by extension, West Asia came under the spotlight last week when US President Donald Trump said he had warned Iran that “ominous things will happen” if Tehran failed to strike a nuclear deal. This threat comes against the backdrop of renewed violence in the region, with the US military launching airstrikes against Houthi rebels. Earlier, the core of the agreement was that Iran would limit its nuclear programme and the uranium enrichment it had embarked upon in return for a gradual easing of the US-led sanctions that were crippling its economy. In 2018, Trump asserted that “the heart of the Iran deal was a giant fiction: that a murderous regime desired only a peaceful nuclear energy programme” and that there was “definitive proof that this Iranian promise was a lie.” Preventing Iran from acquiring nuclear weapons has been an abiding US objective since the end of the Cold War in 1991. The Israeli attacks on Gaza against Hamas have continued, with the death toll in Palestine crossing 50,000, even as hospitals and other civilian sites have been targeted. Israel also struck Beirut on March 28 — the first such attack since November last year when a fragile ceasefire had brought to an end the Israeli war against Hezbollah in Lebanon. The latest Trump initiative evoked a quick response from Tehran. Iran reiterated its long-held position that any talks with the US must be held within the framework of the 2015 JCPOA. This means that Washington must first return to the table — an unlikely exigency under the current circumstances. The Iranian position is that the proposed talks would be limited to the ‘nuclear file’ and that it would not enter into negotiations over its ballistic missile programme and the ties it has with regional allies. However, the fact that Iran has responded in writing to the Trump letter is indicative of a more malleable position and that it seeks lifting of the US sanctions. The US military has intensified its strikes against Houthi rebels. This is being seen as part of Trump’s resolve to neutralise the immediate threat posed to global shipping and compel Iran to desist from supporting this group and come back to the negotiating table. The Houthis began their attacks in the Red Sea on merchant ships bound for Israel in November 2023. This was a defiant and solitary show of support for the Palestine cause in the aftermath of the October 2023 Hamas terror attack and the war of reprisal that the Netanyahu government launched. Major shipping companies have chosen to avoid the Red Sea and the Suez Canal and are now routing vessels around South Africa.

Administration hikes threefold in property tax on residential units

CHANDIGARH : The new tax will be applicable from April 1 for 2025-26 on the property tax. The Administration has notified a threefold increase in property tax on residential properties and two-time hike on commercial ones. All government properties are exempt from the hike. The Municipal Corporation (MC) had introduced the property tax at the rate of 3% of the annual rateable value on commercial, industrial and institutional land and buildings in 2004. The residential land and buildings were brought within the tax ambit in 2015. The levy had not been revised since it was first introduced. According to the notification issued by the UT Local Government and Urban Development Department, “For the assessment year 2025-26, the property tax on residential sites and buildings shall be increased by three times the rates already specified by the administration (9% of the annual rateable value). The property tax on commercial and industrial lands and buildings shall be charged at 6% of the annual rateable value.” The notification further stated that properties that fall in the category of service charges shall continue to be charged at currently applicable 3% of the annual rateable value. In February this year, the MC wanted to increase the property tax across all categories by four times to enhance its annual revenue by nearly Rs 200 crore. Also, the MC had proposed a 1% annual hike on commercial properties (until reaching the limit of 15%) and 5% annual hike on residential properties. However, the proposal was rejected by all councillors cutting across party lines, but MC Commissioner Amit Kumar wrote a dissent note, stating that it was the need of the hour to improve MC’s financial conditions. The proposal was sent to the UT Administration, which approved the increase in the tax.

Le Pen leader of National Rally found guilty of hoodwinking

FRANCE(PARIS) : As per Al Jazeera, the Paris court ruled that Le Pen used more than 3 million euros (USD 3.3m) of the European Parliament funds for paying the members of her National Rally party. A French court has found National Rally leader Marine Le Pen guilty of embezzling European Union funds, Al Jazeera reported on Monday. The ruling therefore threatens to push her out of the 2027 presidential race, in which she is currently the front-runner, according to opinion polls cited by Al Jazeera. The sentencing could see Le Pen be declared ineligible to run for the office. According to Al Jazeera, she has accused the prosecutors of seeking her "political death".

Notably, a jail sentence and heavy financial penalty are also possible. the court's president, Benedicte de Perthuis, said Le Pen's actions amounted to a "serious and lasting attack on the rules of democratic life in Europe, but especially in France." Le Pen left the courtroom before her sentence had been read out in full. Currently a member of the French parliament, Le Pen was found guilty alongside eight MEPs from her party and 12 assistants. They were accused of using European Parliament money to pay staff who were in fact working for her political party, the National Rally (RN), in France. As per CNN, the Paris prosecutor had requested a prison sentence of five years, including two suspended; a Euros 300,000 (USD 3,25,000) fine and ineligibility to run for office for five years. Prosecutors had requested the ban to stand even if she appeals. According to previous polls, it was seen that Le Pen was on course to replace Emmanuel Macron, who will be unable to seek a third consecutive term in office. Under her leadership, the RN has attempted to distance itself from its racist and antisemitic roots, hoping to give the party a more acceptable - and potentially electable - face.

"Trump lauds India, Modi is a very smart man" pleads Trump

Commissioner News Services
Washington : Tariffs are going to work out well between India-U.S.Prime Minister Modi was here just recently, and we've always been very good friends, President Donald Trump said 'tariffs are going to work out well between New Delhi and the Washington, DC,' expecting a favorable outcome.While answering questions during an Interaction with reporters at the swearing-in ceremony of the U.S. attorney for New Jersey, Alina Habba, on Friday (local time), Mr. Trump praised Prime Minister Narendra Modi, referring to him as a "very smart man" and a "great friend."Mr. Trump said, "Prime Minister Modi was here just recently, and we've always been very good friends."He added, "India is one of the highest tariffing nations in the world... They're very smart. He is a very smart man and a great friend of mine. We had very good talks. And I want to say you have a great Prime Minister."This week, Mr. Trump made a major policy announcement from the Oval Office by declaring a 25% tariff on all imported vehicles entering the United States, a move he described as "very exciting" for domestic manufacturing.The tariffs, set to take effect on April 2, will impact nearly half of all vehicles sold in the United States, including American brands assembled overseas. Earlier, on several occasions, Mr. Trump had targeted India, saying "they have the highest tariffs" and "it is a hard place to do business."In February, U.S. President Donald Trump announced that he would soon impose reciprocal tariffs on countries like India and China, asserting that the United States would charge the same tariffs these nations impose on American goods.Mr. Trump said, "We will soon impose reciprocal tariffs- they charge us, we charge them.

Prem Lata demands resignation of Mayor Chandigarh

Commissioner News Services
Chandigarh :The BJP and the Mayor have neither been able to bring money from Delhi for the corporation nor have they been able to get the employees their salaries for last three months. Now, they are dismissing the employees from their jobs and also lying that it is not within their knowledge.The head of the women's wing of the Aam Aadmi Party and councilor condemned the false statement given by the Mayor yesterday, in which the Mayor claimed that he had dismissed 90 outsourced employees of the corporation. While in the last House meeting of the corporation, our party had given this issue as a Table agenda, and it was fully within the Mayor's knowledge. Now, claiming in public that this issue is not within his knowledge is completely false. This once again exposes the Mayor's working style, that he has no concern for the corporation, the public interest, or the interest of the corporation employees, and he only wants to do his photoshoots.If some councilors of our party had not raised their voice against the proposed tender of the dumping ground in the last House meeting, the corporation would have suffered losses of hundreds of crores today.As soon as the Mayor took office, he increased taxes on water, electricity, parking, commercial property, and residential property, making life difficult for the people of Chandigarh.In such a situation, the Mayor has no right to remain in his post and should resign from it.
