Learn About & Short Breaks

There's always a good reason for a short break, whether it's to find some sunshine, because you have a few days off or because you like to explore new places.

If you have a few days to spare, Lisbon or Porto are worth a visit. It's a short hop from anywhere in Europe and the cities are easy to visit, with many sights, good food and lots of entertainment.

And the fact that both are located by a river gives them a special atmosphere, particularly in the mild climate of autumn or spring, when the light takes on amazing hues.

Even if you only have a short time in Portugal, it's easy to travel to other places to learn more about the history and heritage of the Portuguese or to take a walk in nature and simply feel the clean air of the protected areas.

These are just a few suggestions for accessible places to spend a different kind of day out and learn a little more about Portuguese culture and landscapes.

Olhão Market |

Olhão a Traditional Portuguese market

Description

Discover the best experiences the Algarve has to offer you here. These inspired suggestions are grouped together by theme so you can enjoy unforgettable moments during your stay.

Olhão a traditional Portuguese market town that is one of the most popular trips of the central Algarve region. Olhão makes for an enjoyable tour, as it provides interesting historic monuments, a lively market and a traditional Portuguese atmosphere.

The local culture, the shopping in the street, the market square, make Olhão an admirable visit.

Finally the view over the Ria Formosa

To discover the hidden charm of Olhão you have to go up to the top of the main church tower, the higher point. Only then you can see the hundreds of roof terraces - the "açoteias" -, typical of the Algarve, which create a unique urban panorama, as if a multitude of cubes had been scattered across a flat surface, their regular shapes repeating each other in three dimensions.

Olhão & Tavira - Sea Salt Route |

Flôr do Sal - the cream of the sea salt,

Description

Olhão a traditional Portuguese market town that is one of the most popular trips of the central Algarve region. Olhão makes for an enjoyable tour, as it provides interesting historic monuments, a lively market and a traditional Portuguese atmosphere.

The local culture, the shopping in the street, the market square, make Olhão an admirable visit.

A walk in Tavira, next to the traditional salt pans, where the "Flôr do Sal", the cream of the sea salt, is produced.

The location of the Salinas is the RIA FORMOSA Natural Park (a reserve for shell fish and other marine life) where the mud is of a special quality. Product of excellent quality, this salt is today consumed in the best restaurants of Europe.

Tavira (Ria formosa) is also the gathering place of a unique variety of wild life, being classified as a Natural Reserve.

There occurs thousands of birds, of tens of species, some threatened and only found there.

The Salinas is divided in separate areas to allow for the formation and collection of the salt. These three areas are 1, a large deposit of sea water; secondly an area of evaporation and concentration, the third area is for crystallization and collection, production is between 60 to 80 tons of Flower of salt and 800 to 1000 tons of Traditional Sea Salt

Alentejo & Wine Route

Alcácer do Sal

Named by the Romans Salacia Urbs Imperatoria

Description

Graciously laid out over the right bank of the Sado river and rising up a gentle slope, Alcácer do Sal has been settled since the earliest of times. Archaeological remains have been found that date back to the Neolithic period not to mention evidence of Greek, Phoenician and other Mediterranean peoples having passed through.

Named by the Romans Salacia Urbs Imperatoria, the location took on major importance for the Empire due to its excellent location alongside the Sado river that was then an important thoroughfare.

Évora & Temple of Diana |

Classified as a World Heritage by UNESCO since 1986

Description

Évora was taken from the moors by Geraldo "Sem Medo" no fear. In 1166 in the Middle Ages became one of the most prosperous cities of the kingdom, especially during the Avis Dynasty (1385-1580)

We will continue our tour visiting the Temple of Diana. It is a corinthian style temple, built in the early first century DC. This is what remains of the Évora city forum and was dedicated to the imperial cult, contrary to what comes to us by popular tradition, which identified him as being dedicated to Diana, Roman goddess of hunting.

Then we left to the Chapel of Bones. It is a chapel of S. Francisco church whose walls are all lined with human bones

We will visit Évora Cathedral. This is a Romanesque-Gothic building for the century XIII-XIV. You can climb to the towers and go to the roof where you have amazing views over the city and the countryside
