John 3:16-18, Jesus' sacrifice reveals God's love

Growing in Faith

"For God so loved the world..." When doubt sets in—when God seems distant or silent—the Church directs our attention to the Cross. In the Crucifix, we don't see a contradiction of God's love, but its clearest expression. Christ does not stand apart from human suffering; He enters into it. What looks like defeat becomes the place where divine mercy is most fully revealed—a love that holds nothing back.

"He sent His only begotten Son." Faced with suffering and evil, we naturally look for solutions we can measure and manage—strategies, systems, progress. God's response is not a method but a gift: He gives Himself. Evil, which is a distortion or absence of the good, cannot ultimately be overcome by partial fixes. It yields only to perfect goodness, just as darkness gives way to light.

"That all who believe in Him might not perish but have eternal life." This life is not the destination but the path. Its trials, uncertainties, and even its sufferings are not meaningless when lived with Christ. If we remain close to Him—whether in darkness, in turmoil, or at the foot of the Cross—we are not off course. We are being led, step by step, toward the life that does not end.

Memorial of St. Boniface June 5 – Meditation

Remain faithful to what you have learned and believed. (2 Timothy 3:14)

By all accounts, Timothy was a hardworking and loyal servant of God. He was so trustworthy, in fact, that St. Paul appointed him as leader of the church in Ephesus. A vibrant city of about two hundred fifty thousand, Ephesus was a hub of imperial power and pagan worship. Given that there were only a few hundred believers in such a huge city, Timothy had his work cut out for him!

But despite his diligence, Timothy appeared to be a somewhat anxious, timid young man. He had a weak stomach and was prone to "frequent illnesses" (1 Timothy 5:23). Paul felt that he needed to urge Timothy to "stir into flame" his faith and to stop being "ashamed" to be known as a follower of Christ (2 Timothy 1:6, 8).

Paul's answer to Timothy's anxieties was surprisingly simple. After detailing his own challenges, he counseled his young friend simply to "remain faithful" to the things he had "learned and believed" about the life of a disciple (2 Timothy 3:14). Timothy had received a treasure trove of teaching and guidance from his mother and grandmother—he should lean on that. He also had access to the Hebrew Scriptures, which Paul referred to as "inspired by God" and as being very "useful" in keeping him on the right path (3:16).

LAMENTATIONS

Saturdays of Lent after 5:30 Mass

Remain faithful. Paul's words to Timothy apply just as much to us. Hold fast. Stand firm. In a world where so much can feel complicated and uncertain, know that in Christ you have all that you'll ever need to cut through the noise and the worries of life in this world.

Remain faithful. When the way seems unsure, take a step back, and ask the Spirit if there is one simple principle of faith—something you have “learned and believed” (2 Timothy 3:14)—that can help you move forward. Is it the call to forgive? To be generous? To speak a difficult truth to someone firmly but with care? Take that one step and see where it leads.

Remain faithful. Don't let the anxieties of life or the complexities of the world hold you back. You are a child of God, an heir to a vast treasury of heavenly wisdom and strength. Hold fast to that, and you can always find the way forward.

Why Do Catholics Do That?

Why do Catholics call Mary our Mother?

Growing in Faith

Mary's role in salvation history is to lead people to her Son. As the Church teaches, “The Virgin Mary... is the mother of the members of Christ” (Catechism of the Catholic Church 963). Her motherhood extends to all who belong to Him. At the Cross, in the Gospel of John, Jesus says, “Behold your mother” (John 19:27), entrusting Mary not only to St. John but to every disciple. From that moment, her care became personal. Because of her unique closeness to Jesus, she intercedes for us, always guiding us toward Him and helping us follow His will more faithfully.
