Greetings, Reverend Fathers, pristine judges, and the ladies and gentlemen in the audience. I am Constantinos Herrera and I will be discussing with you the significance of the countless Saints that have roamed our planet, preached our Lord's words, and committed good deeds throughout the existence of the Orthodox Christian faith, as well as eternally interceding and aiding us throughout our daily lives. Today I will also be discussing and evaluating the fact that the Saints are constantly praying for each and every one of us.

To be a saint truly means to be recognized as someone who is holy, virtuous, and close to God, as well as a person who follows the Lord's way eternally throughout their sainthood. Saints are humble, kind, helping, calm, and loving throughout their lives which distinguishes them in our society. The countless Saints are also significant, in the case that they help us to overcome disease, hardship, and help us to find peace and love with Christ, therefore granting our veneration.

For their magnificent dedication to Christ, as well as the methods in which they have aided us throughout their heavenly and earthly lives, we venerate and pray for the Saints through special Paraklesis prayer services. These services are directed towards individual Saints on their feast days or when they fell asleep in Christ. During these special Paraklesis services, we venerate the subject Saint or Saints by praying for the mercy, life, peace, visitation, health, and salvation of the Saint, as well as the forgiveness and remission of the Saint’s sins. During the Paraklesis services, there are also different sections of prayers, usually starting with a reading from the book of Psalms, my favorite Psalm excerpt would be from Psalm 142:

After the Psalm read, then a series of prayers called the Ode’s are read, these prayers help us to venerate and pray for the subject Saint of the Paraklesis service. During these particular services, there are also special hymns for the subject of the Paraklesis service. This is how we honor the saints that have aided us and interceded for us on Earth and in Heaven.

We also pray to the Saints for specific ailments and methods of aid, for example, we pray to the Warrior Saints for protection, the Three Hierarchs for wisdom and aid through scholarship, patron Saints either for an occupation, or for aid towards curing a disease or malady. As well as the martyrs to bring us closer to God and leave a lasting impression on how Christians should live their lives. Today, I would like to take the time to mention a specific Saint that has a personal connection to myself from a particular category.

For within the Warrior Saints Category, I would like to mention Saint Constantine the Great, my patron saint and protector. Saint Constantine was born in 272 A.D., in Naissus, modern Nis, Serbia. I would like to talk about his most memorable stand – off, when he faced Maxentius, a sly, cruel, and greedy ruler of western portion of the Roman Empire. In order to gain more land and power, Maxentius challenged Constantine to battle and after a lack of acceptance, declared war on him. Constantine’s army then began to make preparations for battle as did Maxentius. Constantine decided to strike first, but when he laid eyes upon Maxentius’s preparations, he was taken aback with fear, Maxentius’s army was huge and well - fortified, while his own army was small and disoriented. Constantine at that moment prayed and saw a huge Cross in the sky, with the words, “In this, conquer” and then God spoke to Constantine, ordering him to make flags and shields with the shape of the cross engraved upon, for then he would see victory. We venerate Saint Constantine as a way of honoring his image of calm, peace, and even excitement for Christ when the Holy Cross was revealed to him over the battlefield. Saint Constantine means a lot to me not only due to the fact that he is my patron saint, but also because when I was experiencing a troubling situation at school socially, I would come home frustrated and upset and I often hid myself away. This brought me anxiety that I could not expel. I eventually started praying to Saint Constantine for help, and his way of helping me was that during the next day of school, I felt an urge to make the sign of the cross everywhere I went. I got through my day without any disruptions at all, due to this invisible guidance. Therefore, whenever I need direction and guidance; I pray to Saint Constantine.

Finally, the wedding of Cana, when Jesus performed his first miracle at the urging of His Mother, the Virgin Mary. This is a good example of why the Saints and; the Virgin Mary, are constantly praying for us. For in this event, the Holy Theotokos asked of her son to create a miracle and show his divinity, Christ, in response, declared that his time had not yet come, and his mother told the servants to do anything the Lord said. Jesus then laid eyes upon six stone jars and commanded them to be filled with water which miraculously turned into wine because of the Lord’s command. This incident shows that the Saints are constantly interceding for us by praying for the Lord to make haste to help us, to stall his judgement, to have mercy upon us, and to express his divinity towards us.

In conclusion, this speech had the goal of informing others, the significance of the Saints both during their life and in Heaven, as well as why and how we honor such saints. For the Saint’s all have similar qualities that lead them to God and they are constantly present and in a state of vigil for us. So, I ask you, are you performing good deeds, are you practicing humility, kindness, compassion, and patience, for if we so practice these qualities and constantly pray for repentance, we too will enter the kingdom of heaven

Psalm 142:

“O Lord, hear my prayer, give ear to my supplications in Your truth; hear me in Your righteousness. Do not enter into judgment, with Your servant, for in Your sight no one living is justified. I remembered the days of old; I meditated on all Your works: I pondered on the work of Your hands. I spread out my hands to You; my soul longs for You, like a thirsty land. Hear me quickly, O Lord; my spirit fails. Do not turn Your face away from me, lest I be like those who go down into the pit. Cause me to hear Your mercy in the morning, for in You I have put my trust. Cause me to know, O Lord, the way in which I should walk, for I lift up my soul to You. Rescue me, lord, from my enemies; to You have I fled for refuge. Teach me to do Your will, for You are my God. (Psalm 142)
Good morning everyone. Today I’m going to explain one of the 7 sacraments. Marriage. We have seen marriage in our faith since the old testament with Adam and Eve, the first man and woman and the first married couple in the bible. I want to open up with a quote by Saint John Chrysostom himself. He says, “A good marriage is like a castle. When a husband and wife truly love and respect each other no one can overcome them.” Marriage is one of the 7 sacraments that is a very monumental moment in one's life. A Greek Orthodox wedding is different in many ways from a traditional American wedding. One of the traditions that are specific to Greek culture is the infamous wedding crowns. The crown styles change but are always round and tied together with a ribbon as required by the church. Most commonly, the are sewn together with white wax flowers, beads, and other decorations. The purpose of these crowns is to symbolize honor and glory that is bestowed upon the couple for participating in this sacred practice. It illustrates the relationship between God’s grace and the elements through which he has chosen to convey them.

The ceremony itself starts with the blessing of the rings. As the priest places his hand on the foreheads of the couple and makes the sign of the cross, he blesses the rings in the couple's hands to officially start the wedding ceremony. The priest puts the rings on the fingers of the couple. The sponsor then exchanges the rings 3 times. The sponsor will serve as a spiritual guide or mentor that will help you explore your faith as a couple. This is to emphasize the role of husband and wife. After the exchanging of the rings, the bride and groom each hold a lighted candle, to portray the light of Christ who is with them throughout the sacrament and their future as a couple together. Next in the ceremony is the crowning. The wedding crowns are placed on top of the bride and groom's heads illustrating the fact that they will be the new “monarchs” of their new household. Once the crowns are in place, the readings begin. An epistle of St. Paul talking of love and respect. And a reading from the gospel of St. John relates the story of Cana of Galilee and the works of turning water into wine. Toward the end of the ceremony, the dance of Isaiah starts. The dance of Isaiah is a huge part of the ceremony where the newly wedded couple takes their first steps around the altar. That is just a basic rundown of the ceremony itself.

Something I’ve always wondered throughout my childhood about our weddings as a faith is why aren’t there vows? This project has helped me learn so much about our faith that now I have that answer. According to the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese, “Since Marriage is not viewed as a legal contract, there are no vows in the Sacrament.”

The seven sacraments are Baptism, Chrismation, Communion, Healing, Marriage, Confession, and Ordination. Marriage has stood out to me because it gives you a partner and someone to rely on in times of need and someone to share your faith with. The Marriage ceremony in the Orthodox Church is an experience that is hard to forget. It takes a lot of faithful preparation before you receive the gift of this sacrament because it is so divine. You are essentially joining with someone who will help you seek your faith and explore God and the church community. An unbreakable bond between you.

Topic 2: During times of crisis, our faith is tested. How are Orthodox Christians taught to understand and manage pain and suffering?

Reverend Fathers, Deacon, Honorable Judges, Fellow Speakers, Ladies, and Gentlemen, good afternoon.

If you were to ask me for one of my favorite Bible verses, I would have a hard time choosing one. However, one of my favorites, Job 1:21, has resonated with me through difficult times this past year. In the context of this verse, Job discovers that he has lost almost everything in his life. His children, possessions, and later, his health, are suddenly stripped away from him. However, instead of blaming God or falling into despair, we read that he worships God, saying, “The Lord gave, and the Lord has taken away... Blessed be the name of the Lord,” further in the chapter, we read that he does not “sin against the Lord or charge God with folly.”

This behavior is quite remarkable. After all, when we fall into difficult situations, our first thought might be to ask, “Why is this happening to me,” or “What have I done to deserve this?” Our faith may even be tested since we do not understand why we are going through these hard times and simply want everything to be okay. However, Job shows his complete faith and trust in God by praising the Lord in his tribulations instead of worrying about the “why’s” and “how’s.” By reading the wonderful story of Job, the scriptures, and the writings of the church fathers, we find that suffering can serve a purpose and even be beneficial to our spiritual lives as Orthodox Christians.

At first, this idea might sound confusing, since how can something that is negative and can create feelings of despair, hopelessness, and resentment, be beneficial in any way? An interesting approach to this idea can be seen in St. John Chrysostom’s treatise “No One Can Harm the Man Who Does Not Harm Himself.” When I first read this, I was captured by the imagery he uses to explain early in the passage, that the greatest virtue of man is his, “carefulness in holding true doctrine, and rectitude (or fairness) in life.” He also discusses the story of Job, using him as an example to discuss how we should remain hopeful and virtuous through our trials. Writing about how the devil tormented Job, he says, “For this cause also he robbed Job of his substance, not to make him poor, but that he might force him into uttering some blasphemous speech; and he tortured his body, not to subject him to infirmity, but to upset the virtue of his soul.” This shows that the devil did not simply want to afflict Job and hurt him, but took everything away from him with the intent of weakening his faith and making him blaspheme the Lord. As we know, Job persisted and with hope and faith in God, bore his trials to the end, eventually being rewarded by God with more possessions and blessings than he had before his afflictions.
St. Paul, writing to the Romans speaks about this perseverance and hope in Romans 5:3-4, by saying, “We also glory in tribulations, knowing that tribulation produces perseverance; and perseverance, character; and character, hope.” We can see this clearly in Job’s life, seeing how his faith and character was strengthened through his suffering and how he received hope by prayer. This is something I know I can relate to. When going through difficult times, like struggling with school, getting sick, or grieving the passing of a close relative, I often feel worried and discouraged, but I find comfort through praying and reading stories of saints like St. Nicephorous the Leper and St. Catherine the Great which show the power of prayer and faith in God.

For example, this past February, when I was getting over a long-lasting illness, there were times when it was easy to get frustrated that I wasn’t getting better as fast as I wanted to. I simply wanted to feel healthy again and do the things I loved. However, during this period, I tried to apply what I had learned from the Bible to be persistent and hopeful. I showed this persistence by making an effort to complete a couple of my daily tasks even when I did not feel like doing them and I found hope through prayer and reading the Bible.

But one key word I always notice in the aforementioned verse by St. Paul is “glory.” If tribulations are bad, why does St. Paul tell us to “glory” in them? One way we can glory in our suffering is by accepting God’s will and having faith in his judgment. By trusting God, we can persevere throughout our trials and tribulations and find hope through prayer and the reading of scripture. The Bible is full of wonderful verses and stories of people overcoming their difficulties by praying and receiving help; some notable stories are the ones of Abraham, Joseph, Moses, Samuel, and the apostles Peter and Paul. By reading these, we can learn from them and gain spiritual help for ourselves.

As we go forth throughout our lives, we must always remember the words of St. Peter 1:6, “In this you greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if need be, you have been grieved by various trials, that the genuineness of your faith, being much more precious than gold that perishes, though it is tested by fire, may be found to praise, honor, and glory at the revelation of Jesus Christ.” May we also hold our faith close and persist in our faith and prayer that we may be tested like gold on the furnace and be proved worthy of heaven.
Message from Father Alexander

Reflections on a Beautiful Holy Week

Christ is Risen! I hope we have continued in that Paschal joy as we are called to do for the 40 Days after Pascha (and through our whole life) and greeted all with this triumphal statement of the victory over death. For the many who worshiped with us at Holy Trinity in Holy Week it was a powerful week. Thank God we had over 500 people on Holy Friday and on Pascha and almost that amount on Palm Sunday. The services between were also quite filled and all in all it was a prayerful, glorious week leading to the Resurrection of Christ. I wanted to point out a few highlights for me as we went through the week.

We began on Palm Sunday and this year for the first time we included a small procession with our youth holding palms around the church. Even this small act showed in reality the Entry of our Lord into Jerusalem surrounded with children shouting “Hosanna!”

The Bridegroom services on Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday night were special as always and our choir sang a beautiful rendition of the Doxastikon of the Aposticha on Tuesday evening, the Hymn of Kassiani.

On Wednesday we celebrated the Sacrament of Holy Unction and in the evening did the often forgotten service of Orthros on Wednesday night. For a long time neglected out of favor for Holy Unction (which isn’t technically a “Holy Week service”) it serves as a powerful reminder of our Eucharistic theology if we are able to listen to the hymns. We also added in the Footwashing Service, something that is commonly done in the Antiochian Archdiocese and many other Orthodox traditions but rarely done in our jurisdiction. It’s a humble reminder both for Fr. Apostolos and me and for those whose feet were being washed of the paramount virtue of humility. Thursday evening is always a powerful experience to experience our God and Savior crucified on the Cross.

Holy Friday comes as a day of silence for the most part. The Royal Hours service in the morning was well attended! Our Epitaphio decorators worked tirelessly while we prayed and their work came out beautifully. Friday afternoon brings us to the moving service of the Taking Down of Christ from the Cross which holds us over until the evening. In the evening things change. Yes we mourn Christ with His funeral Lamentations (sung beautifully together!) but we also speak of the destruction that is happening concurrently below in Hades, Christ is despoiling it as He lays in the tomb! It was so glorious to see so many Orthodox Christians celebrating this with us on Friday night.

Saturday brought us to the exciting Liturgy in the morning where we proclaim that God will Arise and Judge the Earth (and Father and I get to throw flowers around the church!). Finally we come to Pascha, anticipating the light in the darkness, the darkness of our world around us so in need of the light of Christ who has destroyed death and come forth from the tomb!

My highlight of the week: I cannot tell you how much joy it brought me to turn around in the Liturgy and still see so many of you there! This is how you celebrate the Resurrection! You may have noticed that after Communion on Palm Sunday I paused as the church had become very loud with talking and I was about 5 seconds from saying something but things quieted down. In contrast, on Pascha when we were called to “Love one another that with oneness of mind we may confess!” I almost teared up. The church was alive! There were so many of you greeting each other at 1:30am in the middle of the Paschal Liturgy! This is what it is about! Seeing so many of you in the Liturgy, greeting one another with joy truly was an icon of the Kingdom of Heaven and this will strengthen me throughout the year. This is what it is all about, love for one another in the Kingdom.

Finally, we need to thank all those involved in making it such a moving Holy Week! A thank you to our chanters for their hard work, especially Joshua Pardhe our head chanter. A great thanks to those who provided the flowers and worked on them to make our church beautiful! Thank you to those who provided the Mageritsa Meal after Anastasi Service and those who headed up our 1st Pascha Picnic. What a joyous time!
PASCHA BRINGS RENEWAL TO OUR CATHEDRAL

CHRISTOS ANESTI!

We pray everyone enjoyed a blessed Pascha with family and friends. Pascha and springtime bring renewal and rebirth to our lives as Orthodox Christians. In addition, it has brought renewal to our beloved Holy Trinity Cathedral as well.

There have been some exciting things happening at Holy Trinity. During the first quarter of 2023, we saw a sizable increase in stewardship donations and commitments. In the month of January, we received more stewardship donations than we have in many prior years. It is thanks to all of you, our stewards, for your generosity and for making Holy Trinity a priority in your lives.

In regards to our campus, we saw the completion and dedication of Phase 1 of the Alexandra Sampson Memorial Youth Project, which includes a new fire pit and picnic area. Phase 2 planning stages are underway. We received a generous donation of $20,000 from Tracy Poulos in memory of her beloved husband James Poulos.

This donation is specifically for upgrading the basketball court. The court will be resurfaced and painted for basketball and pickleball. We will install new backboards, rims and hoops and purchase a pickleball net and equipment. Jim was an avid basketball player and he and Tracy were Alex’s Godparents so this donation is very fitting and special.

In addition, the beginning stages of a refresh of the Cathedral interior is also taking shape. The plan may include: repairing broken pews; repainting the interior; replacing carpet and adding new icons among other items.

Clearly, there are a lot of exciting and positive things happening on our campus which directly affects every single one of our parishioners. And one of the reasons this is all possible is because our stewards continue to give and give generously and sacrificially. We are truly grateful for our stewards! May it all be blessed!

Paschal Potluck and BBQ Celebration

On April 16th, two hundred people gathered at the Speros Center to celebrate Pascha with a community BBQ and potluck. This much-anticipated event, which had been on hiatus for several years, was a resounding success and will hopefully become a regular Holy Trinity event!

Preparations for the event started during Holy Week as volunteers began preparing dishes for the potluck and dropping off supplies. On Holy Saturday, Phill Panagiotoglou oversaw a communal cooking event to prepare Greek-style potatoes, moussaka, rice, and lamb. Special thanks to Wyatt and Emily Coppinger; Alisha, Sophie, and Madeline Solheim; Tristan and Alana Stoutenburg, and Billy Tavlarides for their help in preparing the food and the Valonis brothers for their help in setting up for the event! Under the guidance of Socrates Papadopoulos, the grill master for the event, two whole lambs were prepared for the grill.

Early on Pascha morning, the lambs were seasoned with Socrates’ special masala and grilled over charcoal. We thank the Papadopoulos family for volunteering their time and skill in grilling! The lambs were a key part of the event and several attendees remarked how much they enjoyed watching the process. We also thank Ted Fourlis for loaning his grill for the event. Phill Panagiotoglou and Billy Tavlarides graciously volunteered several hours in the kitchen to plate the potluck contributions as they arrived, wash the endless stream of dishes, and make sure the food was served at the right time.

Following Agape Vespers, everyone made their way down to the patio and Small Hall. After a blessing from Fr. Alexander, the festivities started! The kids had an Easter egg hunt and played with bubbles while the adults chatted and helped set out the feast. The tables were overflowing with a variety of dishes and desserts, and everyone helped themselves to their heart's content.

Overall, there were 2 grilled lambs, 15 pounds of oven-baked lamb, 6 trays of moussaka, 50 pounds of potatoes, 4 rotisserie chickens, 2 trays of pastitsio, 9 pounds of feta cheese, at least 2 casseroles, Greek salad, dolmades, tzatziki, loukaniko, hamburgers, hot dogs, bread and many other dishes – a testament to our community’s overwhelming enthusiasm for the event. The atmosphere was lively, with people chatting, laughing, and enjoying the weather. Overall, it was a fantastic event, and everyone left feeling grateful for the opportunity to come together and have a great time celebrating Pascha as a church family!

Endowment Fund

The Holy Trinity Endowment Fund was established in 1992 with an initial deposit of $2,000. The goal was to build the Endowment Fund whereby the interest and appreciation would one day provide sufficient income so Holy Trinity would no longer be totally dependent on an annual festival to supplement stewardship income.

The Endowment Fund is obligated to preserve the donor’s contributions such that the principal will remain inviolate and be held in perpetuity by the Church. The funds are prudently managed by the investment committee, which reports to the Parish Council. The investment committee only approves withdrawals from the earnings and appreciation, over and above the donor’s contributions, and are used only to benefit Holy Trinity and its ministries.

Over the course of the past twenty-nine years the committee has held steadfast to this mission, and as a result, generous donors from our Church, desiring to leave a legacy in perpetuity for their family, have made contributions totaling $644,340.00.

This is your opportunity to put your lifetime thumbprint in the history of Holy Trinity Cathedral.

We have been blessed by the generosity and foresight of the individuals and families listed on the next page. We benefit today from their kindness and vision. If your circumstances allow you to give a gift above and beyond your annual stewardship commitment, then please take this occasion to join the others in creating a legacy by pledging your gift to Holy Trinity Cathedral’s perpetual Endowment Fund. Gifts of $10,000 or more will be separately listed along with others who have reached that level.

Your gift, no matter the amount, will be combined into the general endowment fund, and will be greatly appreciated.

Celebration Committee

Let’s Celebrate!

On the first Sunday of each month, the Celebration Committee organizes a potluck during coffee hour to celebrate all the special events in parishioners’ lives and birthdays that take place in that month. Please join us every month and bring your favorite food item to share!

On the April Celebration Sunday, we celebrated Stan and Fran Drozdz’s 55th wedding anniversary along with all April birthdays. We had a spring-themed décor setup with light green tablecloths and alternating pastel pink and blue overlays. Each table had a vase with white flowers. On Saturday, since we had extra volunteers from the communal cooking event, we made 32 feet of pastel balloon garlands to decorate the hall. In addition, we had over a dozen large foil flower and butterfly balloons.

We greatly appreciate those who have shared their milestone events with our Holy Trinity family. If you or someone you know from the parish is celebrating a baby, a birthday, an anniversary milestone, or any other special event, please let the Church Office or the parish Celebration Committee know so that we can celebrate as a community! You can send an email with suggestions and details to: htcphxevents@gmail.com.

If you are interested in volunteering or learning more, please email htcphxevents@gmail.com and/or talk to Terri Alexon or Mary Pardhe. We’re looking for more volunteers to help out on a monthly basis!

Communal Cooking Event

In April, we held another Communal Cooking event. Phill Panagiotoglou oversaw the preparation of Greek-style potatoes, brown lentils, and rice with shrimp. The delicious food was served during coffee hour on Celebration Sunday. If you are interested in joining us for future cooking events, please email htcphxevents@gmail.com! It is a great opportunity to learn how to make new recipes and spend time with our Holy Trinity Community. As a bonus, volunteers can learn how to make balloons garlands and other décor pieces!

PLEASE SEND PHOTOS and direct any questions to, Caroline Economopoulos cjecomom@gmail.com
The month of May gives us the opportunity to celebrate the Feast of the Ascension of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

The Feast of the Ascension of our Lord God and Savior Jesus Christ is celebrated each year on the fortieth day after the Great and Holy Feast of Pascha (Easter). Since the date of Pascha changes each year, the date of the Feast of the Ascension changes. The Feast is always celebrated on a Thursday.

The Feast itself commemorates when, on the fortieth day after His Resurrection, Jesus led His disciples to the Mount of Olives, and after blessing them and asking them to wait for the fulfillment of the promise of the Holy Spirit, He ascended into heaven.

The moment of the Ascension is told in one sentence: "He was lifted up before their eyes in a cloud which took Him from their sight" (Acts 1:9).

It is also at this time that the disciples were directed by Christ to "go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit" (Matthew 28:19). Jesus also told them that He would be with them always, "even to the end of the world" (Matthew 28:20).

The icon of The Ascension of Our Lord is a joyous icon. It is painted with bright colors. Christ is shown ascending in His glory in a mandorla. A mandorla is a design which is almond-shaped or round. Inside the mandorla is the figure of a holy person. Christ blesses the assembly with His right hand. In His left is a scroll. The scroll is a symbol of teaching. This icon shows that the Lord in heaven is the source of blessing. In addition, Jesus is the source of knowledge. The icon reminds us that Christ continues to be the source of the teaching and message of the Church, blessing and guiding those to whom He has entrusted his work.

The Theotokos occupies a very special place in this icon. She is in the center of the icon, immediately below the ascending Christ. The gesture of her hands is gesture of prayer. She is clearly outlined by the whiteness of the garments of the angels. The Theotokos is depicted in a very calm pose. This is quite different from the appearance of the Disciples. They are moving about, talking to one another and looking and pointing towards heaven. The entire group, the Theotokos and the disciples represent the Church.
What YOU Can Do to Help Visitors Feel Welcome

Have you noticed new faces? We’ve had many visitors stop by lately. Some are Orthodox and visiting from other Parishes, some are returning to Orthodoxy after a long time away, and some are coming to check out Orthodoxy for the very first time. No matter how they come to us, let’s make sure we say Hello!

“Welcome! I don’t believe we’ve met yet. My name is (your name)” is a great start. Offer to walk with them to the Coffee Social. A personal connection goes far!

Maintenance Corner
By Ted Fourlis
htcmaintenance1973@gmail.com

Here is a list of the maintenance issues taken care of by your Maintenance team recently.

- Motion activated light switches were installed in the basement.
- The ladies bathroom door in the community center was repaired along with the men’s room door handle.
- The cottage bathrooms were repaired by installing a new door hinge, and patching the ceiling holes caused by critters.
- New fan vents were installed in both cottage bathrooms, the pipes were jetted and cleared, and a new paper towel holder was installed.
- The cottage bathrooms are functioning correctly. The cottage roof vents were covered with chicken wire to prevent critters from entering.
- Light bulbs were installed in the office, Education Building and Community Center.
- The exhaust fan motor has gone out over the kitchen stoves, and we are currently in the process of getting bids to repair.
- The double doors leading into the Small Hall were damaged and need repair, and we are currently reviewing a suitable fix or replacement.
- All the oven and stove knobs have been replaced as they were worn out.
- Backflow preventer valves are currently being reviewed for repairs.
- We were able to secure a new high pressure power washer to assist us in cleaning and maintaining the property.

If you would like to volunteer or have equipment you would like to donate please call Ted Fourlis at 602-625-8835 or Peter Bilitsis at 602-317-7780.
Liturgical Services will continue to be live streamed by Father Apostolos and Father Alexander.

All services can now be found on the Home Page of the Cathedral’s website www.holytrinityphx.org, in addition to the continued postings on our Facebook page.

Thank you to Tom Giatron and Joshua Pardhe for their above-and-beyond efforts to bring clear and timely video to all!

Living Orthodox Young Adult Ministry

Living Orthodox is a national, pan-Orthodox ministry that is building a community of young adults (18-35) who are striving to grow in and connect with their faith! The focus of this ministry is to highlight ways that we, as young adults, personally grow in our Orthodox faith (ex. attending services, reading books, listening to podcasts, watching spiritual videos, etc.) and to share ideas on how to increase our commitment to live an Orthodox life. Join us on for virtual meetings every other week and in-person for our monthly potluck discussions!

March Potluck and Discussion

In March, we gathered at Holy Trinity to celebrate Divine Liturgy for the feast of the Annunciation as a group before joining the Holy Trinity service project. After a potluck lunch, we had a presentation by Tim McFadden (St. George) on the topic “The Foundation of Man and Women in God”. Tim McFadden, who studied under Met. Kallistos Ware at Oxford, presented the thesis of how man and women, created in the image of God, reflect in a mystical way the relationship between God the Father and Christ-God. To listen to the full presentation and access the slides, please visit our YouTube channel at https://tinyurl.com/LOvideosYT.
