The Alphabet Table with optional marker well is pictured below. A dry erase finish option is available, which allows children to trace the letters with markers or circle objects for I SPY!

The Tractor

Ride on the Tractor through imaginary fields or down country roads. The steering wheel rotates and has an on/off button prompt. Solidly built to withstand the most rugged farmers! One Learning Panel can be placed on each tractor side.

Potting Shed

Children can create their own world or the library can transform the structure into a specialized playhouse—a puppet stage, a store, a post office, a quiet reading nook, or as pictured here, a potting shed.

Wall Murals

TMCKids' murals and environments spark imaginations of children and get them describing their surroundings and developing stories, such as reasons for why a train is blue or why it has to travel over so many hills. Having children make up their own stories for the world around them gives them a sense of ownership in an important way. Creating Early Learning Spaces that bring storybooks to life and allow new stories to be created is a great way for TMCKids to provide an outlet for creativity, discussion, hands-on interaction, inquiry and inspiration.
