November - Adventure Begins At Your Library – November

Time of the Child by Niall Williams is a historical novel. Doctor Jack Troy was born and raised in Faha, but his responsibilities for the sick and his care for the dying mean he has always been set apart from the town. His eldest daughter, Ronnie, has grown up in her father's shadow, and remains there, having missed one chance at love – and passed up another offer of marriage from an unsuitable man.

Surrounded by idiots by Thomas Erikson is a book on self help. Do you ever think you are the only one making sense? You are not alone. After a disastrous meeting with a highly successful entrepreneur, who was genuinely convince he was “surrounded by idiots”, the author dedicated himself to understanding how people function and why we often struggle to connect with certain kinds of people.

Carson The Magnificent by Bill Zehme is a biographical novel. In 2002, Bill Zehme landed one of the most coveted assignments for a magazine writer: an interview with Johnny Carson—the only one he'd granted since retiring from hosting The Tonight Show a decade earlier. Zehme was tapped for the Esquire feature story thanks to his years of legendary celebrity profiles, and the resulting piece portrayed Carson as more human being than showbiz legend.

The Queen by Nick Cutter is a horror novel. On a sunny morning in June, Margaret Carpenter wakes up to find a new iPhone on her doorstep. She switches it on to find a text from her best friend, Charity Atwater. The problem is, Charity's been missing for over a month. Most people in town—even the police—think she's dead.
