Understanding the New Nikken Back Office

The new back office is now operational and in this presentation we are going to look at the whole site, all of the Navigation Tabs, All of the Information and all of the uses to help you build your business utilizing this information.

There is a lot of Data to review. so there are two videos to go over all of the information.

The first Video will cover the Log In and Defining the Navigation Tabs on the top row of the landing Page; My Nikken, Enroll, Language, Messaging and Name Tab with Dropdown menu for My Account, Order History, Wellness Subscription and Personal web page plus Events and Quick Links at the bottom of the landing page.

The Second Video will cover The Main Menu Bar- Shop Now, Manage My Subscription, My Business Page, Genealogy, Create Link, View Links and Tools.

Log In at www.mynikken.com

English ▾

Type in your ID followed by Your Password
If you have not registered then you need to go to Create an Account. There you will follow the instructions to create a new LOG IN Password.

The screenshot shows a 'Sign In' form with the following elements:

- Sign In (Section Header)
- Consultant/Customer ID (Label above an empty text input field)
- Password (Label above a text input field containing a single dot)
- Login (Grey button)
- Forgot Password (Blue text link)
- Create Account (Grey button)

Three red arrows point from the text on the left to the ID input field, the Password input field, and the Create Account button.

As the system begins to stabilize I have found that if you are having trouble logging in either because you were in and you are trying to continue and it says there is some kind of error, I found that if I went to my name at the top right and opened the drop down window and clicked the Log Off and then re log in, it worked. When the Teach Team creates a trouble Shooting video I am sure this will be in there.

Create an Account

If you do not have an account you will be prompted to come here where you will enter your information.

I can no longer see what's next but it is a very simple page where you provide information to set up an account.

Identification

Please enter your Nikken USA Consultant ID in the space provided below.

Create Links/View Links

The first link part is the Create Link and when you click on that link it lets you set up one of two links, a product link or a cart link.

The View Links Tab shows you all of your links you have set up so you can use them over and over, easily without having to remake a link.

Create link View Links

Summary

From everything that I can tell this New Back Office delivers all the needed functions as the previous back office but much better and with more usefulness. This tool is as valuable as it provides useful information that helps you build your business. The capabilities moving forward are endless and this opens a new chapter to Nikken.

The site is still currently adding data and stabilizing functions, so I think unexpected glitches can still happen.

The key to continued use and appreciation comes in the knowledge of what this site can provide in terms of a tool so you can build a better business.

For Technical issues and content suggestions please contact Nikken.

As we progress I will continue to provided updates and revisions as necessary.

Information is as valuable as it can be compared to other information that helps you become more successful
