

Community School Solutions (CSS) – A Bold, New Approach to Accountability and Education

A Creative Solution by Ashley Dawn

Transforming Discipline into Opportunity

CSS is a game-changing, community-powered initiative designed to redefine student discipline and restore accountability to the heart of education. With the Your DNA, Your Responsibility Directive, CSS ensures that when a student misbehaves, parents are held accountable. This isn't just about managing behavior—it's about unlocking potential and creating a brighter future for students, schools, and communities.

Our Mission: Empower, Educate, Elevate

CSS's mission is to empower parents, students, and community leaders to take control of student behavior when issues arise. By fostering shared responsibility, CSS helps educators focus on what they do best: teaching. Through this new model of accountability, we are elevating the educational experience and creating lasting change in our schools.

The Your DNA, Your Responsibility Directive: Accountability, Reinvented

When a student misbehaves and requires discipline in school, the Your DNA, Your Responsibility Directive steps in to shift responsibility back to parents. Here's how it works:

- Parents must choose between participating in community service with their child, reinforcing the value of shared accountability, or paying a fine.
- This directive encourages parents to actively support their child's behavioral growth and participate in corrective actions that foster improvement, not just punishment.

This revolutionary directive holds parents accountable only when their child gets into trouble at school, creating a clear and impactful path to accountability that is missing in traditional disciplinary systems.

The Vision Experience: See It. Feel It. Believe It. Achieve It.

The Vision Experience is a groundbreaking program that goes beyond discipline—it's about helping students truly see their potential, feel their worth, and believe in what they can achieve. By engaging students in mentorship, community service, and personal reflection, we empower them to:

- See their future by showing them what's possible through education and effort.
- Feel their potential by experiencing firsthand the support, guidance, and belief of their mentors and community.
