IAWG Executive Leaders and Board of Directors

marzo 2025 Message

Greeting from your Officers and Board of Directors

Ciao Signore! February's Dinner was a milestone celebration of the Italian American Women's Guild. 156 members in attendance, raised their glasses of Prosecco to toast the Chartered members and celebrate 30-year Anniversary of the IAWG.

Thank you to Mena Fadelli and Doreen Mazzei for hosting the evening and to Corinne Courtney for her creative decorations and gathering of the Guild's memorabilia.

The following Active Chartered Members were introduced Jean Allard, Jo Amoroso, Iris Bagneschi, Corinne Courtney, Mena Fadelli, Doreen Mazzei and Nella Taurian and were presented with a beautiful red rose bouquet provided by Joycelyn Firenze-Pine

Unfortunately, Charter members, Lubiana Cernobori, Lillian Piccinini, Maria Giulianetti, were unable to attend

Speeches were made by Doreen Mazzei and Mena Fadelli. Jo Amoroso read How The IAWG Started written by Lubiana Cernobori.

A heartfelt note was read from Joycelyn Firenze-Pine in appreciation of the friendships made and incredible work that has been done.

It is important that each member check in at the Greeter table. At that time, if you will be bringing a dinner home for a member that is unable to attend, there is a form that needs to be completed. Please make sure it is done at check in.

Beginning in June, we will make a change to our Dinners. Cocktails will still be at 5PM but our Meeting will begin at 5:30PM.

Be sure to check out the events provided by our events committee for the coming months listed in the newsletter and copies can be found on the table behind the Greeter Table

The Officers and Board of the Italian American Women's Guild wish you a Happy St. Patrick's Day.

Grazie e stai bene!
Arlene Bin – Di Nitto
IAWG President

HOW THE IAWG STARTED by Lubiana Cernobori

A dream became a reality. From 1985 to 1990 the Peninsula Social Club was a men-only club. All the activities were for men, except for dinner dances that included women. I was often left home alone while my husband would go to the club for fun with his friends. I asked President Ray Colombo to let me organize a one- time women-only dinner; he agreed because he knew me and my family well since we had come from Italy. We put an announcement in the Pensogram newsletter, and 350 women showed up for the dinner! Given the big success of the event, Ray agreed to let me organize dinners. At the next dinner I passed out a questionnaire to learn what activities the women were interested in. Afterward I started organizing monthly dinners with guest speakers and encouraged women to attend and bring their female coworkers and friends. We had large turnouts! The women loved the dinners, and the hall was full every month. This encouraged me to do more. Together with other ladies, we organized various fundraising events and raised a lot of money for the club, which supported the club's remodeling. However, some men complained that the women were "taking over the club" and resented having us around. I realized that the women needed their own club where they could get together and socialize, engage in philanthropic work, and keep the Italian Heritage alive.

I discussed my idea for a women's club with PSC board member, Bruno Freshet. He said he would bring this idea to the board of directors. Soon after, Bruno called to tell me that the board invited all interested women to the next board meeting because they had a proposal to make to us! In October 1994, Mena Fadelli, Rose Viscusso, Agnese Marcheschi, and I attended the board meeting. The board proposed that the women start a separate all women's club. They said we could use the upstairs hall as its meeting place for our monthly meetings, at the price of $1 per year, but that we would not receive other special perks, such as price breaks on dinners, etc. Additionally, the women's club would be treated as an outside party.

The other ladies that attended the meeting didn't think the proposal would work since we had nothing to start with--no money, insurance, nor a place to hold dinners and events. They decided to think it over for a while. I, however, was determined to continue the effort. In January 1995, I asked the PSC to put an announcement in their Pensogram newsletter directed at the members' wives to see who would be interested in forming a women's club. The meeting was set for January 20, 1995.

I knew it was important to get support and therefore contacted Mena Fadelli, Karen Casazza, Vicky Diodati, Miranda Zanette, and a newly interested friend, Angela Shakely, who had seen the announcement in the Pensogram. We met several times at Speido's restaurant in downtown San Mateo. Over dinner, we planned the agenda for the meeting—focused on asking the women who attended what type of activities they were interested in and who wanted to be involved in our efforts.

On Thursday, January 20, 1995, the six of us sat in the empty PSC upstairs hall listening for footsteps coming upstairs; we were worried that nobody would come. But little by little women arrived. We were delighted to have 37 ladies attend. We asked who had prior experiences and talents and were interested in serving on the board. Doreen Mazzei, Gloria De Silva, Mena Fadelli, Karen Casazza, and others agreed to serve on the board. At our first meeting, we discussed the structure for the club—its name, process for voting of officers, etc.

At our second meeting we took nominations for officers and Board of Directors, and the women in attendance cast their votes that same night: Karen Casazza became president; Mena Fadelli, vice president; Doreen Mazzei, secretary and Deanna Consani, Treasurer. Gloria De Silva, Carol Kessler, and I were elected to the Board of Directors. Later the board finalized the club's mission statement and by-laws, secured insurance and the Italian-American Women's Guild was on its way!

The dream became reality!
