

Are you feeling trapped by your trials, adversities and challenges, unable to create a new pathway for your life? Are you looking for a way to rise from the ashes?

Dee Carroll, Ph.D., is a speaker, coach, and consultant dedicated to helping people liberate themselves from their past and reinvent their lives. After a devastating setback in her own life, Dr. Dee beat the odds to recreate a beautiful life for herself and is determined to help others do the same. As the Emotional Emancipation Doctor, she aims to lead you to success, empower you to achieve your goals, and guide you to where you want to be.

As a seasoned life coach, Dr. Dee is passionate about working with individuals, small groups and audiences to help them break through barriers holding them back- and to achieve their personal and professional objectives. Through her distinctive methods, audiences will learn to unlock their full potential. Dr. Dee encourages others to set attainable life goals while shifting their perspective to successfully implement.

With over 28 years of experience as a senior executive and entrepreneur, Dr. Dee has deep knowledge and skill in the professional arena and workforce development, staff augmentation, and life coaching. She holds degrees in Psychology, Business Administration, Management, and was in a featured CNN segment discussing the success of minority-owned businesses. She has appeared before the United States Senate Committee on Housing and Urban Affairs. She is an excellent, engaging, informed and confirmative speaker, perfect for your next event or meeting.
