Looking for Blessings

Hey everyone,

As we journey through life, let's not forget to appreciate the blessings that come our way. Whether it's a kind word from a friend, a beautiful sunrise, or the laughter of a child, these are all little gifts from a loving God. Taking the time to notice and be thankful for these blessings brings positivity into our lives. Let's make an effort to seek out and treasure these moments of joy, knowing that a grateful heart attracts even more blessings. Counting our blessings not only lifts our spirits but also inspires others to do the same. May this week be filled with moments that bring warmth to your hearts and smiles to your faces.

In Christ,

Brent

Living a legacy

I told my wife she should embrace her mistakes.

.....She gave me a hug.

Living a legacy for Jesus is like trying to teach a fish to do ballet—challenging and potentially entertaining! But in all seriousness, it's a timeless and uplifting purpose that brings joy not only to ourselves but also to those around us. It's all about leaving behind a positive influence that reflects the love, compassion, and teachings of Jesus Christ. One way to live a legacy for Jesus with joy is by showcasing his teachings in our daily lives. This involves showing love, kindness, and forgiveness to others, even in situations that make us want to pull our hair out. By doing so, we not only honor Jesus's legacy but also bring joy to those we interact with—now that's a win-win situation!

Another heartwarming way to live a legacy for Jesus with joy is by serving others selflessly. Whether it's through acts of charity, volunteering, or simply telling a good dad joke, serving others in Jesus's name brings fulfillment and joy to both the giver and the receiver. And let's not forget the joy that comes from sharing laughter in Jesus's name.

It's a powerful way to uplift spirits and connect with others.

Oh, and don't forget to challenge yourself to invite someone this week to share your joy—with a big smile and a jazzy dance move if necessary! Living a legacy for Jesus with joy is a laughter-filled and meaningful way to positively impact the world while celebrating our love of Jesus!
