THE HAWORTH

onTAP LOYALTY | ADD A MANUAL WALLET PASS

Use your personal loyalty barcode or QR code from your onTAP account. Do not use the QR code that opens The Haworth website.

ANDROID | GOOGLE WALLET

1. Open Google Wallet and tap + Add to Wallet.

2. Select Loyalty and search for the loyalty programme. If onTAP is listed, follow the prompts to add your membership.

3. If onTAP is not listed, go back and check for Everything else (sometimes labelled Photo or similar). Choose the option to create a pass from a barcode or QR code.

4. If the app offers Enter code manually, type the exact number printed below your personal barcode. Name the pass The Haworth - onTAP, then save it.

5. Open the new pass and check that the displayed barcode scans at the bar. Do not guess a number: a QR code may contain data that cannot be recreated by typing a membership number.

Illustrations show example screens only. The number 123456 is not a valid membership number.
Important: Google Wallet does not provide manual barcode entry for every pass type or every device. If there is no manual-entry option, a compatible pass-creation service or an official onTAP Wallet pass is needed. A screenshot alone does not create a manually entered pass.

IPHONE | APPLE WALLET

Apple Wallet does not include a built-in form for manually typing a loyalty barcode into a new pass. To add one, your loyalty provider must offer an Add to Apple Wallet pass, or you need a compatible third-party pass creator.

1. Check your onTAP account for an Add to Apple Wallet button. 2. If available, tap it and then tap Add. 3. Otherwise, ask The Haworth whether a Wallet-compatible loyalty pass is available.
