

Intelication Webinar & Event Privacy Notice

When you register for an Intelication webinar or event, Intelication may collect information you provide, including your name, email address, company, job title, and other registration information.

We may use this information to:

Register you for the webinar or event and provide related calendar invitations, access information, reminders, and event communications.

Communicate with you following the event, including sharing relevant materials, resources, or follow-up information.

Notify you about future Intelication webinars, events, technology briefings, and other relevant opportunities.

Understand event participation and improve our events and communications.

Intelication may use third-party platforms and technology providers to host events, manage registrations, deliver communications, or provide webinar-related services. Your information may be shared with these providers only as necessary to support these activities and subject to their applicable privacy practices.

Intelication does not sell your personal information.

You may opt out of future marketing or event communications at any time by using the unsubscribe option included in our communications or by contacting Intelication directly. Please note that you may still receive communications necessary to administer an event for which you have registered.

By registering for an Intelication webinar or event, you acknowledge that your information will be used as described in this notice.
