RE: Appreciation - Washington Adventist University Scholarships

Warmest Greetings Mr. Ravi & Dr. Shashi Chopra,

Please note this expression of our deepest appreciation for the fiscal support that you continue to provide on behalf of "making dreams come true" for the students served by Washington Adventist University (WAU). Furthermore, your financial gifts serve to empower students who otherwise might not have the money to earn the degree, credentials and/or character transformation as needed for them to fully experience their life's "calling". Of additional significance is that your generosity aligns with the university's 2025 Carnegie designation as an "opportunity institution" of higher education.

Most of all, your giving further ensures that the Global Seva Fund's mission as a "premier nonprofit charity and humanitarian organization with a worldwide reach to raise funds to serve humanity in distress regardless of religion sect or caste and to provide grants/scholarships for higher education" is powerfully advanced in a manner that transforms lives in ways by giving hope to each student that you support. As a result, your fiscal resources enrich our global society in ways which are both relevant and expansive.

Finally, it is wise King Solomon of old who declares that it Is when we "refresh others that we are refreshed". We look to our continued collaboration on behalf of your shared commitment to making that "refreshing" and transformative impact of behalf of many more students in an ongoing and enduring manner as defined by your life's purpose and mission.

With deepest respect, highest regard & rich anticipation,

Cheryl Harris Kisunzu, Interim President
