INTRODUCTION

S and E Panelbeaters was established 2002 by two energetic young men –Zunaid (Spike) and Earl (hence the initials) - who had identified the need for a lean and mean panel beating that could offer quality and professional service at highly competitive prices servicing the Johannesburg area.

Spike, a highly qualified professional panel beater with 15 years experience in the business is responsible for the day to day running of the business while Earl, who possesses a Master in Business Administration (MBA) and excellent marketing qualifications, runs the marketing and administration side of the organization.

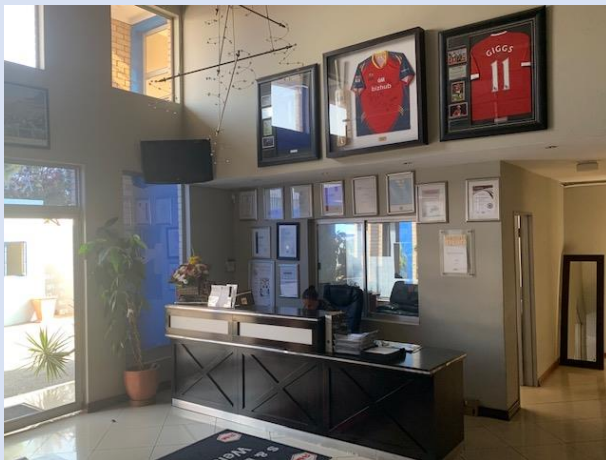

S and E Panelbeaters consistently strives to satisfy our growing customer needs through applied panel beating services, by using state of the art equipment & technology together with our highly motivated & skilled team.

From co-coordinating insurance claims to following up repeatedly after hand-over ,it's all part of our personal touch. The best quality repairs are ensured by utilizing the latest technology, equipment and repair techniques.

All vehicles are restored to original manufacturer's specification.

S and E Panelbeaters have two very specific buildings which are used for the business. One building for the Panel shop and the other forms part of the training centre.

S&E Panelbeaters Fights High Unemployment Rate in Panel Beating Industry by Introducing New Training and Certification Program In Johannesburg

(Johannesburg, South Africa – November 14, 2019) – S&E Panelbeaters, a local company in business for over ten years, introduces the launch of a new panel beating Training Centre in Johannesburg. The Centre will operate with the aim to tackle South Africa's current low-growth economy and unemployment rate within the panel beating industry.

###

The Training Centre will be fully operational in the beginning of 2020, and will be located at 1040 Katrol Ave, Robertville, Johannesburg. All training will be facilitated by Bulldog Abrasives.

With a combined 15 years of experience, S&E Panelbeaters have identified the source of high unemployment rates within the panel beating industry. The lack of formal training and certification present a difficulty in finding further employment post dismissal or retrenchment. It also makes it tough for industry professionals to break into the industry initially. Enter the Training Center.

The Training Centre will make it possible for semi and unskilled automotive refinishing, specifically panel beating professionals, to gather the skills required for finding employment within the industry.

The six-month training program will provide trainees with theoretical training as well as practical skills training conducted in a panel shop. During the first year of the program, 16 candidates will qualify for certification.

The Training Course curriculum includes:

1. Performing surface preparation on body panels
2. Polishing painted panels
3. Masking and de-masking

S&E Panelbeaters' responsibility in the project consists of financing the training, sourcing candidates, facilitating the project, and monitoring its progress.

The project mirrors the company's passion for building sustainable communities. All graduating trainees will possess the required skills and experience to become permanently employed in a variety of positions within a panel beating shop. Spikey and Earl, the founders of S&E Panelbeaters, are thrilled to introduce the Training Centre, with their sights set on boosting the local South African economy and empowering professionals in the automotive refinishing industry.
