

Your Haunted Holiday Press Kit Fact Sheet

Ever want to go on a vacation and see a ghost? Twin sisters Lisa and Lindsay Estes share their favorite haunted locations and provide travel reviews along with the haunted history and ghost stories of different locations each week. This is a podcast with a travel review spin on the paranormal!

About Your Haunted Holiday

Your Haunted Holiday is an independent podcast about different haunted locations where you could actually travel. Many of these locations include haunted hotels, tours or locations that you can pay to either rent a room or book an experience. Twin sisters Lisa and Lindsay Estes love booking haunted locations during their travels and fill in their listeners on all the details including the history, ghost stories and include a travel review.

This is a podcast made for anyone who enjoys learning about history, has an interest in the paranormal or who likes to travel, or all of the above! Lisa and Lindsay also keep this podcast about locations where listeners have an opportunity to book and actually go to the location, these are not locations only famous ghost hunters with their own TV show have access to.

The Production

Your Haunted Holiday launched in January of 2020 and is written, edited and produced by Lisa Estes and Lindsay Estes. Currently Your Haunted Holiday has listeners in all 50 states and the District of Columbia, along with listeners in 32 countries around the world. Seeing this growth so early into the podcast launch has been a testament to the content and interesting stories in each new episode. Each week we add new listeners and followers on our social media platforms which include Facebook, Instagram, YouTube and Twitter.

Your Hosts

Lisa Estes - Lisa is the creator of Your Haunted Holiday and does the majority of the research and technical editing for each episode.

Lindsay Estes - Lindsay records with Lisa on each episode and adds her take on the different haunted locations as well as contributing to upcoming episode ideas and social media marketing.

Lisa currently lives in Omaha Nebraska and works as a corporate trainer where she delivers and builds training content. Lindsay lives in Atlanta Georgia and works in technology for a telecommunications company. Lisa and Lindsay get together virtually each week to record new episodes of the podcast and collaborate on new ideas and content.

Both Lisa and Lindsay developed an interest in the paranormal at a young age when they had a ghostly encounter at an old haunted hotel in Deadwood South Dakota while on a family vacation. They did not expect to encounter a ghost on that trip, but it has expanded their interest in things that we aren't able to explain, and they make a point of trying to book haunted locations whenever possible when traveling together. The Bullock Hotel in Deadwood South Dakota sparked their interest and they have visited this location multiple times with future episodes to come explaining this first encounter with a ghost. Booking haunted locations adds an extra sense of adventure and Lisa and Lindsay wanted to share their fun stories and explore new locations they have not yet visited with their listeners and include a travel review spin on the paranormal. The podcasters hope to inspire others and offer up ideas to their listeners who can go and possibly have their own haunted encounters.

Love the history and ghost stories!

I found out about this podcast from History Goes Bump. This has the same great combination as HGB. History and Ghosts. But you two ladies are also good at story telling. Great voices, and good background music. I love how you give actual travel reviews too. I'm all about reading the travel reviews before booking at a hotel. Looking forward to binging this and listening to future episodes.

Informative while remaining entertaining

If you're a history buff who likes to vacation then this is the podcast for you. I'm personally not too interested in paranormal activity but the rapport and storytelling between the hosts made me forget that. The hosts effortlessly give great background and history information on each place they visit while remaining entertaining. I killed the first two podcasts very quickly and I can't wait to hear more about the hosts adventures!
