POET'S CORNER

To Two Who Were Young

There is a corner
Where we used to meet.
At the end of a crooked
Little street.
Along about dusk
Of a winter's day,
And we drank our tea
In a shop.
And you'd say,
"I wonder where We two will be
When our gay
Young hour of love
Is a memory?
Will we be together,
Or faring apart,
Hold one happy hour
Close to the heart?"

Man, Wife Killed by Coal Gas on Third Night in Yule Gift House

A double funeral was held at 1:30 P. M. Wednesday in the Brethren church, Ephrata, for Samuel F. Adams sixty-eight, and his wife, Katie Webber Adams, sixty-five, Lititz R. D. 5, who were asphyxiated by coal gas in their bungalow near the Hammer Creek church on Saturday night.

The bungalow, a two-room structure, comfortably furnished, was a Christmas gift from their son, Alvin W. Adams, Lititz R. D. 5, poultry dealer, and the couple moved into the home only three days ago.

Dr. M. H. Yoder, deputy coroner, Lititz, conducted an investigation and issued a verdict of accidental death. Fumes from a kitchen range seeped into the bedroom, according to the deputy coroner.

Alvin told the deputy coroner he visited his parents as late as 10 P. M. Saturday and everything seemed to be in order. Another son, John, of Ephrata, passed the bungalow at 5 A. M. Sunday while on his milk route and noticed a light burning, but he did not stop.

At 7:30 A. M. Sunday, a granddaughter, Catherine, thirteen, went to the bungalow to awaken her grandparents. She tried to open a door but found it locked. Looking through the window, she saw her grandmother lying on the floor.

She returned home and notified her father and Adams and his son, Harold, fifteen, went back to the bungalow. Finding the door and windows locked, the son crawled to the roof and then entered the bungalow through the ventilator.

Mrs. Adams, according to the deputy coroner, is believed to have detected the fumes and tried to escape before she was overcome. She apparently had tried to rescue her husband, for his body lay partially off the bed. Dr. Yoder said they had been dead several hours.

Both were members of the Brethren church. The following children survive: William, Ephrata; John, Ephrata; Viola, wife of Harry Knauser, Newmansstown; Alvin, Lititz R. D. 5; Harry, Conestoga; Ira, Berksboro Heights; Stella, wife of Charles Groff, Lititz.

Mr. Adams also is survived by a brother, John, Ephrata. Mrs. Adams is survived by her mother, Mrs. Caroline Webber, Lititz, and these brothers and sisters: Edwin, Centerville; Minnie, wife of William Engle, Lititz; Dora, wife of Charles Shaub, Neffsville; Charles, Lancaster, and Ella, wife of John Gneier, Elstonville.

Lesson for January 9

PREPARING FOR A LIFE OF SERVICE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 1:1-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Prepare ye the way of the Lord.—Mark 1:3.
PRIMARY TOPIC—When Jesus Was Baptized.
JUNIOR TOPIC—When Jesus Was Baptized.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
Getting Ready to Serve.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—
Dedicating Our Lives to Service.

"The beginning of the Gospel of Jesus Christ"—what an interesting expression! Did it not begin back before the foundation of the world? Yes, for the death of Christ was no mere afterthought in God's plan. But now we have the coming into the world of the One who was the Lamb slain from before the world's founding. Jesus Christ is about to appear to begin his ministry which was to culminate at Calvary's cross.

Before Jesus, comes the one sent to proclaim his appearing, to herald the coming of the Servant of God. Mark begins his account with the ministry of John the Baptist and makes no reference to the birth and genealogy of Jesus. How appropriate that is, for after all the important thing about a servant is not that he came from a certain family, or was born in a particular place. The point is that he is here now and able and ready to do his work.

I. The Herald of Christ (vv. 1-13).

The prophets had pointed forward to the coming of Christ. John the Baptist, of whom our Lord said that there was not a greater among the prophets, now appears to proclaim his presence and prepare the way for him. Of him Joseph Parker beautifully says that he "was all but a transparent veil; they could almost see the coming God through him . . . If he stood aside for a moment there was the One who was to come."

John was a unique personality, admirably fitted to proclaim a stern message of repentance to a decadent age. Let us not put aside or ridicule strangely clad and unusual folk who have a word for us from God.

"Repent"—that was his message from the Lord. America needs that message today. The Christian doctrine of repentance has been set aside by some because they dislike its convicting power, and by others through theological readjustment. It needs re-affirmation.

John's greatest message, however, was the coming of the One who was to baptize not with water but with the Holy Ghost. Like every true witness he humbles himself and points to the Saviour. We need the message, "repent," but we need even more to recall to our preaching and our churches the Holy Ghost power of the Son of God.

II. The Baptism of Christ (vv. 9-11).

The account in Mark is brief but brings before us the fact that the sinless Son of God thus identified his holy self with sinful humanity which he had come to save.

Let us learn the lesson that obedience to the divine will, a willingness to humble ourselves to do the work whereunto God has sent us, are prerequisites to the filling of the Holy Spirit with power and grace for life and service.

III. The Temptation of Christ (vv. 12, 13).

We recall as we consider the temptation of Jesus, that he was without sin, that there was no fallen nature in him to which Satan could appeal. The temptation or testing of Jesus was therefore along Messianic lines, but the principles both of temptation and victory are similar to those of our own experience. Consider the parallel passages in Matthew 4 and Luke 4.

The Devil has only three real temptations to present, "the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life" (1 John 2:16). These he used with Jesus as he tempted him to make food for his hungry body, to look at the kingdoms of this earth and attain them by a wrong method, and to presume on God's grace by throwing himself from the pinnacle of the temple.

Victory came through the use of God's Word. We need to learn that lesson and not attempt to defeat Satan with any man-made weapons of will-power, logic, or culture. Jesus was certain of victory. He is our victory. Learn to know him as Saviour and Lord. Study God's Word and learn how to use it in spiritual conflict. Yield to the Holy Spirit. Victory lies that way, and nowhere else.

The Countenance

The countenance may be defined as the title-page which heralds the contents of the human volume, but like other title-pages, it sometimes puzzles, often misleads, and often says nothing to the purpose.—W. Matthews.

Men of Faith

The ablest men in all walks of modern life are men of faith. Most of them have much more faith than they themselves realize.—Bruce Barton.

Earle Orders Speeders' Cards

Suspended for 90 Days

Strategy of Pennsylvania's campaign for highway safety was revised from a program of public education to one of severe enforcement of the motor laws as the announcement went out from Gov. George H. Earle that all drivers convicted of violating the 50-mile speed limit will lose their licenses for 90 days.

Terming his drastic move "not only justified, but wholly unavoidable," Governor Earle set Friday midnight as the effective date for his suspension order. The suspension will be in addition to any other penalty.

"During the past year approximately 2,700 persons have been killed and 60,000 injured by automobiles in the state," Earle said.

Warn Dog Owners

To Get New Tags

With approximately 700 new dog licenses sold, on Friday, the office of the county treasurer anticipated a rush before the final deadline on January 15.

All persons owning or harboring dogs six months old who do not obtain 1938 licenses before January 15 face a fine or imprisonment. Franklin G. Filman, state dog law investigator, of Temple, warned today. The fine ranges from $5 to $100, and the imprisonment is for 30 days, and both may be imposed, he stated. The same fine can be placed on persons who allow their dogs to run at large at night, he said, and any such dog may be killed by a police officer whether it is licensor or not.

Licenses may be obtained at the office of the county treasurer or through any justice of the peace, he announced.

30 High Schools in County Teach Safe Driving Course

Courses in safe driving principles are now included in thirty senior high schools of Lancaster city and county, using text material prepared by the American Automobile Association and furnished to the schools by the Lancaster Automobile Club. More than 4,000 students are taking the course.

The text material, prepared by the A. A. A. with the co-operation of leading educators and traffic experts, comprises five pamphlets that make up the "Sportsmanlike Driving" course. They are: "The Driver," "Driver and Pedestrian Responsibilities," "Sound Driving Practices," "Society's Responsibilities" and "How to Drive."

Approximately 750,000 students in 5,000 senior high schools throughout the United States are studying the "Sportsmanlike Driving" course, according to Dean Gable, who is in charge of the Auto Club's school safety program. More than 600 teachers have been trained at Penn State and other colleges and universities to give this instruction in traffic safety and driving technique. Several of those teaching the course in Lancaster county have had this training.

"Students of high school age are the logical ones on which to concentrate driver training," Gable said, "as this age group has the worst accident record. Available figures show that 49 percent of deaths from all accidental causes in the age group from 15 to 24 years are due to motor accidents. Through the 'Sportsmanlike Driving' course we hope to cut this accident toll for the high school age group and, through the schools, develop a new generation of drivers trained to cope with the complexities of modern traffic."

BUILDING TESTS WALLS FOR FAIR

NEW YORK (Special).—Although the opening date of the New York World's Fair is still almost two years away, the Fair site already has one building that mystifies all persons who pass that way and one that is of great interest to the contractors and builders of the whole country. The big sign says it is the "test building."

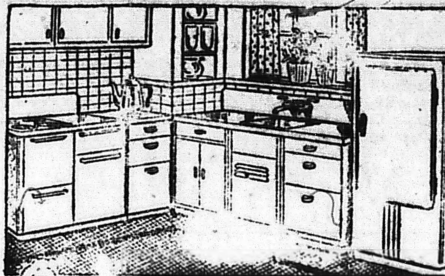

The building can be made to do a lot of things just short of a late dance step. It can be made to twist, heave, buckle, sag or otherwise contort, all at the will of the Fair's engineers. It has a sawed-off tower arrangement on one end. Some sections of its walls are dazzling under the sun and are, obviously, encrusted with bits of broken glass. Its four walls, in fact, comprise 43 different set-ups of material, supports and surface coatings. When its day is done it will be made to collapse by the turn of a screw.

The unique building is typical of nothing other than itself, say Fair officials, since it is just a set of walls, upon which to try out the merits of various types of wall coating and stucco treatments.

The durability, appearance and structural peculiarities of walls are of great importance to the Fair, since its 300 buildings will require around 15,000,000 square feet of such enclosures.

The interior of this "wall laboratory" is given over to the Corporation's illumination engineers and their experimentation with new lighting devices.

Inspection Ends Jan. 31,

Automobile Club Warns

The Lancaster Automobile Club calls attention of motor vehicle owners to the fact that the compulsory State inspection of cars and trucks ends at midnight on January 31. All motor vehicles bearing Pennsylvania licenses must have new "inspected and approved" stickers by that time.

The current inspection period began November 1 and runs three months. Following the inspection period there will be three months of enforcement, during which owners or operators of uninspected vehicles will be subject to arrest and fine.

Thousands of cars and commercial vehicles have not yet been inspected and the Auto Club suggests that owners have this done without further delay in order to avoid a heavy last minute rush at official inspection stations.

POET'S CORNER

I Saw the Stars!

I saw the stars!

The road was rough
To feet
Unused to journeying.
Strange faces Passed me by Without a word,
A sigh.
The night was frightening
To one
Who always loved
The light.
There seemed no end
Of darkness
Stone, and cold.
And then

I saw the stars!

My heart grew glad
To know
That some vast Hand
Could hold the planets
In their places so,
That even wars
Could never wreck
The beauty of the sky.
The road was rough,
The night was frightening,
It mattered not,
For I—

I saw the stars!

World's Busiest Street?

JUST LOOK at that traffic roaring by!
Yes, sir, that's New York's famous Fifth Avenue, looking toward 42nd Street. And the lady in the stylish white shirtwaist and the snappy little straw skimmer had better be careful when she gets to the corner because you know how those horseless carriage drivers swing around the turns. With the national automobile show approaching, Consumers Information dug out this picture, taken in 1907, to show what a difference 30 years can make. The picture below shows Fifth Avenue as it is today. Advertising which created the demand, and research which perfected the product.

are credited with changing the picture from that of 1907, when only a few thousand cars were on the country's roads, to that of today, with almost 30,000,000. The few small manufacturers of 30 years ago advertised to sell their primitive cars, which cost around $3,000 for a "medium-priced" model. They created a bigger demand than they could fill, and so bigger factories, increased employment, and constantly better automobiles resulted.
And today we can buy an infinitely superior car for about one-fifth of the price, while half a million men are directly employed in the industry, compared to a few thousand at the time this picture was taken.

BEGINNING A LIFE OF SERVICE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 1:14-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel.—Mark 1:15.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus' First Helpers.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Why the Fishermen Followed Jesus.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Serving Now.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Adjusting Life to Service.

The public ministry of our Lord was not begun with any great fanfare of publicity. Leaving Judea where the entrenched forces of formal religion had joined the forces of sin and degradation in opposition to him, and which had brought about the imprisonment of John, our Lord appears in his home country, Galilee.

I. Preaching the Gospel (vv. 14, 15, 21, 22).

His first activity is worthy of careful note, for it is not exactly what one might expect in this Gospel of Mark, which we have already characterized as the Gospel of mighty deeds rather than of words. Jesus came to work miracles, and he did work them, and continues to do the miraculous even in our day. It is therefore significant that his first recorded work was that of preaching, his second that of calling and preparing fellow workers, and last of all the miraculous healing of the demoniac.

From a human viewpoint one would think that the opposite order would prevail. First let the Master do some mighty miracle to catch the attention of the people, then organize a great "party," and then preach. Much of the so-called evangelistic effort in our day follows that human formula and fails of lasting results. Observe the man who magnifies preaching and gives the Word of God pre-eminence, and you will see real spiritual accomplishments.

Jesus preached faith and repentance, or perhaps one should say repentance and faith (v. 16). They go together in our Lord's preaching. Let us follow his example.

We read in verse 2 that the hearers were astonished because he spoke with authority. They had been accustomed to hearing the lawyers dispute on the basis of the authority of the law, now the law-giver himself stood in their midst. He did not set aside the law, but he gave it an interpretation and direction which surprised them.

II. Calling Disciples (vv. 16-20).

The orderly development of any work calls for the choosing and training of associates. Moody is said to have observed that "it is a greater thing to put ten men to work than it is to do ten men's work." Our Lord was no mere human leader, but he desired and used fellow-workers and he committed to them the carrying on of his work after he departed.

God still calls men into his service. Would that grace might be given to each one to whom such a call may come to respond "straightway," as did the disciples. The writer has just read the letter of a heart-broken man who has refused to answer God's call for four long years, and now comes with a broken body which may hinder his usefulness for life. Such tragedies may be averted by prompt and willing obedience.

III. Healing the Demoniac (vv. 23-28).

Three things stand out in this story. The first is that the Son of God has power over the demons of Satan. Any effort to "fight the Devil" in our own power is foredoomed to failure. But in the name of Jesus Christ we may bid him depart from us. Thank God, it works!

The other thought is also of vital import. The demons recognized Jesus, they knew that he was "the Holy One of God" (v. 24), and they bore public testimony of that fact. And yet they were demons, the enemies of God. Saving faith in the Lord Jesus Christ is more than a knowledge of his claims, a pious repetition of his name even though it be done in public. Let us make sure that we have a living faith in the Son of God.

Our final observation is that our Lord did not permit the demons to testify concerning him. Christ and his church do not need the flattering words or the financial support of unbelievers. Every time we accept them we weaken our testimony and make ourselves ridiculous before the world. If unbelievers think well of Christ let them show their sincerity by seeking him as Saviour and Lord. Then both they and their gifts will be acceptable and to his glory.

POET'S CORNER

At a Concert

Listening to this
Sweet harmony of sounds,
The world becomes less dull,
And man less clay.
While all about us
Things of everyday
Acquire an ageless grace,
Here, spun upon a web
Of fragile song,
Drift dreams we thought
Forgotten, long ago—
Faint ghosts of younger days,
Before the earth's Acute disharmonies
Assailed the ear.
Swift, anodyne
For tortured hearts, in this,
Music—of beauty's forms,
The ultimate bliss.

Some Comparisons with Electric Service Costs

Factual evidence submitted by spokesmen for the electrical industry discloses that the total cost of electricity to all of the families in the United States is less than the motorist pays annually in taxes on gasoline—not for the gasoline, but just for taxes. It is also pointed out that the average American householder does not realize that what is spent on movies in the average home amounts to a great deal more than the money spent on electricity, and that what the average American home pays for bread alone, to say nothing of other foods, is more than all the twenty-six million American homes pay for electricity.

The federal tax on liquor and the federal tax on tobacco together amount to one and one-half times as much per year as the entire bill for domestic electricity to all the homes in the United States.

Automobile Club Warns of "Hitching On" Dangers

The Lancaster Automobile Club calls attention to the dangers of persons on sleds, bicycles or roller skates holding on to or hitching on to automobiles, trucks, or other moving vehicles. The practice not only is hazardous, the Club points out but is in violation of the State law.

The Pennsylvania Vehicle Code provides that "no person shall hang on to, or ride on, the outside or the rear end of any vehicle, and no person on a bicycle, roller skates or any similar device, shall hold fast or hitch on to any moving vehicle." The penalty is $5.00 fine and costs, or three days in jail.

In several Lancaster county communities arrests have been made recently for hitching sleds or wagons on to automobiles, or for holding on to moving vehicles while riding a bicycle or roller skating. In Lancaster city the police are instructed to take violators into custody and to confiscate the sled, bicycle skates or other device.

"This provision of the law and these steps taken by the authorities to enforce it are for the protection of bicyclists, sledders and skates," said S. Edward Gable, president of the Club. "They should realize this and guard against these dangerous practices."

"In these days of heavy traffic and fast-moving vehicles, skating, sledging and even bicycle riding on streets and highways is fraught with danger. Boys and girls, and older persons as well, who do this should take every possible precaution. Motorists should co-operate with them by driving with the utmost care and caution but, on the other hand, should not hesitate to report anyone who holds on or hitches on to their vehicles."

Unemployment Filing

Third Claims

Local jobless filed original, second and third claims for unemployment compensation at the city offices with the men registering at 214 North Duke street and the women at 47 South Duke street. A total of 1,443 were eligible to file second or third claims today.

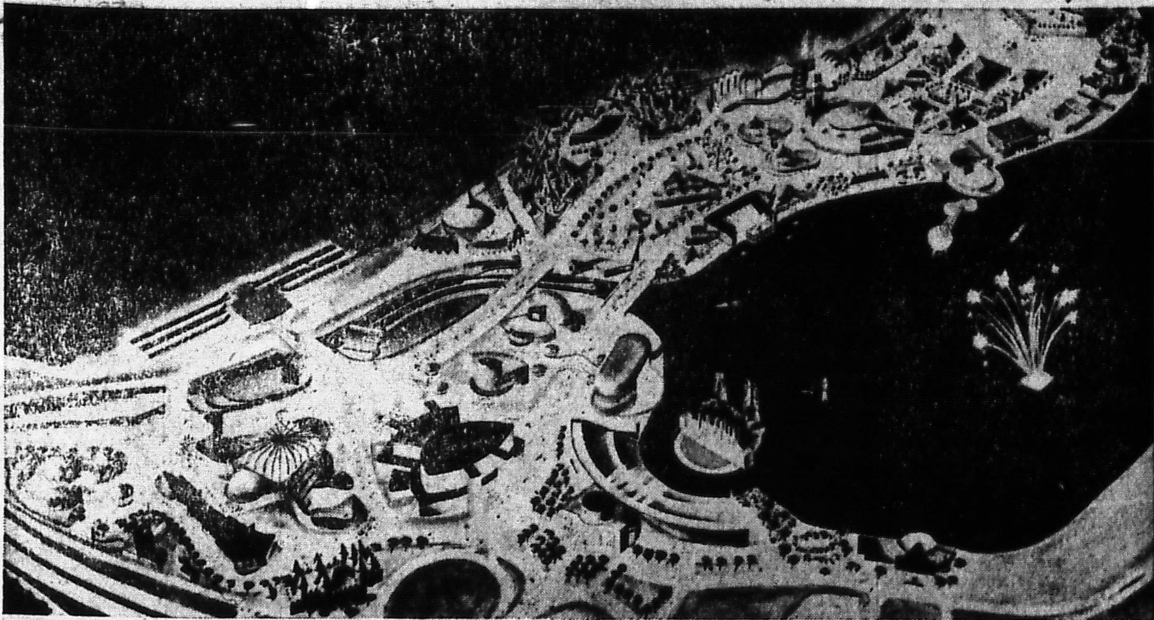

A total of 5,512 jobless filed claims for the benefits in the first two weeks, ending Saturday, S. S. Bard, director announced. More than 1,200 filed original claims during the past week.

Bard again pointed out that every jobless person who filed an original claim must report once each week during the following three weeks before he will receive his first check, and the report to the office must be made at the end of each week's unemployment period. He also pointed out that the checks will be mailed from the Harrisburg office, none before February 1.

Brecknock Property Sold

Good and Clayton W. Good, executors of W. F. Good. The sale price was $2,280. John L. Hamaker, attorney for the estate, reported.

TWO MILES OF AMUSEMENT FOR NEW YORK FAIR

NEW YORK—The largest amusement park in the world, with every conceivable safe and respectable entertainment device and show, will be a part of the New York World's Fair exposition. The 280-acre amusement zone is shown above in an artist's sketch made from the architects' plans. It will form a two-mile loop. So modern is the type of construction that the drawing looks "futuristic."

Lesson for January 23

MINISTERING TO PHYSICAL NEEDS

LESSON TEXT—Mark 1:29-45.
GOLDEN TEXT—And he healed many that were sick.—Mark 1:34.
PRIMARY TOPIC—When Jesus Went to Peter's House.
JUNIOR TOPIC—When Jesus Went to Peter's House.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Helping the Sick.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christianity's Concern for Physical Health.

"The Mystery of Painlessness" is the title of a book published some years ago, in which the author pointed out that instead of bemoaning the physical ailments of man we should thankfully recognize that much of life is without pain. There is point to the suggestion, but one who has reached the years of maturity and who has stood shoulder to shoulder with suffering mankind is very conscious of the never-silent cry of those whose bodies are in need.

Our Lord was tender and solicitous of man. It was to him that the great host of impotent folk—the lame, the halt, the sick, and the blind—came for healing, and they came not in vain. Note, however, that in the midst of his works of mercy he did not forget his real objective, which was to deal with man's sin.

I. Healing (v. 29).

First, we find our Lord tenderly sharing the sorrow of the home of a friend. One can picture the anxious hush that hovered over the home as distressed relatives and friends sought to alleviate the suffering of the one with a fever. They knew the possibility of a serious outcome of the illness. Many of us have gone through that dark valley. All at once there was new hope, and soon there was joy. Jesus had come and had brought healing. Many of us have also had that blessed experience.

Note that the healing was instantaneous and the restoration complete. She arose to serve. This typifies God's healing of the sickness of the soul. If you are saved you are ready to stand up and serve.

Christianity is not a selfish faith, if it follows its Lord. We see in verses 32 to 34 that all the city came to his door with the diseased and demon-possessed, and he healed them all. The account of the kindly and intelligent care of the sick is written large on the pages of the history of the Christian church.

II. Praying (v. 35).

The Son of God sought out a place and a time for prayer communion with his Father. How often we who profess to follow him fail to pray at all. Certainly we need the grace and power that prayer can bring far more than Jesus did. But, we say, we are so busy. So was he. We are tired. So was he.

III. Preaching (vv. 36-39).

Jesus said, "Let us go . . . that I may preach . . . for therefore came I forth." It bears repetition in this age when men magnify the doing of mighty deeds, that while Jesus did many miracles (and not for a moment would we detract from their worth and glory) yet he repeatedly, by word and act, emphasized the importance of preaching.

Foolish though it may seem to the natural man (read I Cor. 1:18-25), preaching the gospel in the power of the Holy Spirit is now, as it has been through the centuries, God's chosen means of turning the world upside down (Acts 17:6). What a pity that churches and pastors are forsaking it for book reviews, dramas, social hours, forums, community centers, and what not! God give us a revival of great, humble, and fearless preaching of the Word!

IV. Cleansing (vv. 40-45).

There is a sense in which the cleansing of the leper was another act of healing, but leprosy is such a striking type of sin that the incident calls for special consideration.

Leprosy is like sin in that it is a destructive malady that pursues its insidious way without revealing its true nature until it is far advanced. It renders a man unclean, loathsome to himself and dangerous to others. At least such it was in the days of our Lord.

Is there no hope for the leper? Yes; Jesus has come. The smitten man, cries out, "If thou wilt thou canst make me clean."

So, also, may the sinner be cleansed, for "whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved" (Rom. 10:13). He will not turn the vilest of sinners away.

The Feeling of Power

He knows that power is unborn, and, so perceiving throws himself unhesitatingly upon his thought, instantly rights himself, stands in the erect position, commands his limbs, works miracles; just as a man who stands on his feet is stronger than a man who stands on his head.

Beauty

This is what we want—we want the vision of a calmer and simpler beauty to tranquilize us in the midst of artificial tastes.

PACIFIC FIR GOES TO NEW YORK FAIR

NEW YORK (Special).—"Good old Douglas fir" from the Pacific Northwest will provide the foundations for the most spectacular of wonders at the New York World's Fair of 1939.

This was learned when the Fair Corporation offices in the Empire State building announced the purchase of more than $100,000 worth of fir pilings from the National Pole Treating Company. This particular lot of fir sticks will be driven into the ash fill of the 121 1/2-acre exposition site to guarantee the support of the two unique structures forming the Theme Centre of the "Nation's Fair." These are the 200-foot Perisphere, a globe seemingly supported on the waters of fountains, and the Trylon, a 700-foot triangular needle or beacon and broadcasting tower.

Shipments of the 1200 sticks, 95 to 99 feet in length, are taking place this month, after creosote treatment has been accorded them either at the National Pole and Treating Company's plant at Hill-yard, Washington, or at the Minneapolis yards.

This is the Fair's second purchase of fir from Northwest sources. An order for 770 sticks of similar length was filled early this year from Oregon cuttings. This earlier shipment of piling supports the Fair's $500,000 Administration Building already erected on the grounds.

POET'S CORNER

House of Long Ago

O little house
I used to know
Are you still there
At even glow?
Do you still raise
Your gray roof high
Against a bright
And laughing sky?
Are flowers blooming
At your feet,
Quaint lavender
And lilacs sweet?
Do folks go in
And out your door,
Through which my feet
Will pass no more?
The dusty path
Across the hill,
Does it climb past
Your windows still?
The well, the trees,
The creaking gate
Are they still there,
Do they still wait?
And then when night
Falls all around,
The same old stars,
Do they look down?
I probably
Will not return,
To see you, though
My heart will yearn
Across the years
To yesterday,
When you were young,
And youth was gay.
Change to all things
Comes at last,
It may be
That you have passed.
Perhaps, dear house
Of long ago,
My heart would rather
Have it so.

Teacher Threatened

Thomas Houston, an itinerant sign painter, charged with disorderly conduct and assault with intent to kill, was arrested by Policeman Imhoff and Constable Weaver, of New Holland, and held for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Styer, New Holland.

He is alleged to have invaded the Martindale school last week, threatening Miss Helen S. Wenger, teacher in the primary room, as she was preparing to dismiss the class. Lyndon Hess, a teacher in the secondary room heard the disturbance and put the intruder out of the building. Houston later was apprehended in the barn of Allen Martin, one mile from Martindale.

Improved Highway Lighting Reduces Night Accidents

The effectiveness of improved highway lighting in decreasing night accidents is shown at Rochester, New York, where more than one hundred safety units provide illumination on a four mile stretch of St. Paul Boulevard, connecting Rochester with Lake Ontario. Traffic accident records one year before this safety lighting was installed showed 12 night accidents—one fatal—and eight day accidents. Statistics one year after safety lighting show but four night accidents, none fatal and six day accidents—a decrease of 67% in night accidents and a decrease of 25 % in day accidents. Assuming that the factors which decreased day accidents 25% also had the same effect on night accidents it would leave 42% as the decrease resulting from improved highway lighting.

New 5-Cent Piece Will Be Minted

A new five-cent piece to supplant the Buffalo nickel will be minted this year, the Treasury announced.

The new coin will be placed into circulation under a law that authorized the government to change the design of its metal currency once every 25 years.

On Feb. 21, the Buffalo nickel will have been in circulation for a quarter century. It was preceded by the "Liberty Nickel."

The new five-cent piece will be known as the "Jefferson nickel" and will be the likeness of Thomas Jefferson on one side, and a representation of Monticello, the third, President's home at Charlottesville, Va., on the other.

To obtain the best possible design for the coin, the Treasury will conduct a national competition among American sculptors for coin models. A prize of $1,000 will be given the winner.

Members of the association set out approximately 200,000 plants last year and harvested about 9,000 bushels of tomatoes, for which they received around $18,000. The crop was produced early before tomatoes glutted the markets and the yield brought premium prices.

Join Forum Being

Repeated this Year

Last year a large number of County people attended the lectures sponsored by the Joint Forum of Lancaster. Formed for the sole purpose of presenting to the community the best available speakers of national and international note, the Joint Forum is a non profit-making organization which seeks to offer opportunities for educational and cultural expansion.

On February 8, Rubil Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland, internationally known orator, will speak on "Some Aberrations of Our Day." He will be followed in March by Dr. Howard W. Haggard, Associate Professor of Applied Physiology at Yale University, who will discuss the "Pageant of Medicine"; reputed in the medical profession as a distinguished scholar. Dr. Haggard has always been interested in bringing to the attention of the general public the facts and problems of health work that he feels should not be confined to the realms of scientific theory alone. On April 26, Rev. John Haynes Holmes, Minister of the Community Church in New City and already popular with Lancaster audiences, will deliver a lecture on "Communism, Fascism, and Democracy." Of special interest to the County will be F. J. Schlink President and Technical Director of the Consumers' Research and co-author of the "best-seller" book, "100,000,000 Guinea Pigs." Mr. Schlink's address will be on the subject "Farmer, Consumer Get Gyped."

All lectures are held at 8:30 P. M. at Martin's Auditorium, Y. M. C. A. Building, North Queen and Orange Streets, Lancaster. Series tickets for all four speakers may be bought at the door for a nominal fee. It is hoped that the response will be as enthusiastic this year as it was last year in order that the Joint Forum may continue its civic undertaking.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—
Christianity's Concern for Spiritual Health.

Man is so constantly concerned with his physical nature, the needs and interests of his body, that he is prone to forget that there is within him a spiritual nature which is in fact his real self. The body which is the temporary dwelling place of the soul is most important—but relatively it is of but slight significance when considered alongside of the spiritual life of man.

Our lesson presents the Lord Jesus as being rightly concerned with the needs of the palsied man's body, but his act of healing was incidental to the infinitely more important act of forgiving his sins. Consider him, man, for he was still in his sins. No man was able to heal his body, only God could heal his soul. He was indeed hopeless until he met Jesus.

He knows no hopeless case. With God all things are possible, and Jesus Christ is God.

We are even as was this man,
for without God we too are without hope (Eph. 2:12). Let us face the facts and admit that unless we are saved through Christ we are eternally and completely lost.

II. Impossible Conditions (vv. 1, 2, 4).

We say that the circumstances surrounding this man were such as to make it impossible for him to reach the Lord, for so they would have been apart from the spirit of divine urgency which impelled his helpers to cut through every excuse and brush aside every hindrance.

"Where there's a will there's a way." Had these men been controlled by convention they would never have put their friend at the feet of Jesus. But note that before taking up the roof they tried the door. They tried to use the proper entry, but it was blocked. It often is—sometimes by customs, sometimes by religious ceremony, often by vain philosophy.

III. Immediate Conversion (v. 5).

At once Jesus sees their faith and forgives the man his sins. God always welcomes and honors faith.
Note that Jesus—who as God had the power to forgive sins—immediately cleansed him from all unrighteousness.

This man's affliction proved to be his greatest blessing. If he had not had the palsy he might never have met the Lord. Suffering properly borne may be a means of grace.

IV. Secret Criticism (vv. 6, 7).

What a serious thought it is that the unspoken word which we think we have hidden away in the heart or mind is known to God. "All things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do" (Heb. 4:13). "There is nothing hid that shall not be known" (Luke 12:2). What does the Lord

see when he looks into your heart and mine?

Their theology was faultless—their reasoning was logical, but their premise was wrong. They were right in saying that only God could forgive sin. But they were wrong in assuming that Jesus was not God, and therefore a blasphemer.

V. Miraculous Confirmation (vv.
8-12).

Forgiving sins was harder than healing the body, but these enemies of Jesus lived so much in the realm of the physical that they missed that important truth. He meets the challenge of their unbelief by going into their own limited field of observation. They were not able to test the effectiveness of His forgiveness of sins. They did not believe in Him, hence they would not receive it by faith.

Let us remember that the incident took place in the early days of our Lord's ministry. While we do not condone their hostility to the tender and loving service of our Lord to humanity, we can understand their slowness to accept his claims to divine power. In our day we have no such excuse, for all gospel history is available to us.
God help us that we may not sit in the seat of the scornful and "demand a sign" before we will believe.

Pineapple

Prosper

ONLY prosperous people could afford to eat pineapple before the invention of canning. Poets used it as a symbol for the rare and luxurious—but kings and millionaires ate it. Balzac devised a scheme for getting rich by raising pineapple under glass, in the Paris suburbs, but the pineapples let him down. They preferred Hawaiian sunshine.

Today, however, pineapples have become so prosperous that they can afford to contribute their gold to all—the gold of health and appetite. On the sunny salt-breeze isles of Hawaii they ripen in such abundance that canners can afford to gather only the very best of the fine crop, pack them in cans and send them to us at exceedingly low cost.

Share Their Wealth

To keep pace with the prosperity of pineapple, dietitians are devising new ways to use them, so that they may continue to bring their wealth to our table. Perhaps you will say, "They are so delicious just as they come from the can—why bother to prepare them otherwise?"

The answer is—variety. Use them just as they come from the can for breakfast fruit, and you will find that, prepared in one of the delicious new forms, you will be ready for them again in a dinner salad, with meats, or as a dessert.

Two Top-Notchers

There is an East Indian Shrimp Salad, for example, which combines crushed pineapple with shredded cabbage, moistened with mayonnaise and seasoned with curry powder—all neatly stuffed in ripe tomatoes, over the edge of which fresh or canned shrimps are hooked. Add this to your pineapple repertoire and see how rich you feel!

There's a dessert, too, that's quick as a wink to prepare—and so good. Just sauté sponge cake to a nice brown, add drained diced pineapple and sugar to the pan, sauté a few moments longer and when slightly golden in color, pour it over the sponge cake, topped with plenty of whipped cream. It's extraordinary!
