If you're reading this article, chances are you like pixel art and would like to build something amazing in creative mode on Minecraft. Thought I'd make a little basic tutorial to get you started with creating your own custom design. Copying other pixel template designs is all well and good but its always good idea to be original to stand out from the crowd. This tutorial will not teach you how to draw nor how to come up with creative ideas, but will show you how to get started.

There are millions of players who play Minecraft and chances are if there's a pixel art template out there then it's been created. So rather than just trying to build something in Minecraft let's start by designing our template with pixel image software. Fire up your favourite app of choice, there are lots to choose from if you don't have one. For example: Pixel Art or just Google pixel art creator, you don't have one to use this type of software, Photoshop or Gimp will do just fine. Step 1; The Outline Ok so you have an idea. Start by doing a black outline, I'm using 20x20 pixel image. Note: be sure to keep your image symmetrical. If your start with a black outline no amount of polishing will save you. Pixel art outline tutorial Fill in the outline with basic colours making sure the colours are bright and vivid enough but keep in mind the available Minecraft blocks. Pixel art basic colour tutorial For each basic colour pick a darker or lighter version for shadowing and texturing. Try to image a directed light source. Pixel art basic colour shadow tutorial To finish up colour the black outline keeping in mind the light source. Normally light on top and darker the lower you go but keep it darker than the base colour. Pixel art basic outline colour tutorial Actual size of pixel template Minecraft Steve Now we have our pixel art template we can finally fire up Minecraft. Carefully pick the Minecraft blocks that suit your template colours. Now just build away. Minecraft in game pixel art building Hope this helps you, enjoy and have fun, see you soon.
