ABOUT BLOND VIPER

A BAND ROOTED IN MELODY, STORYTELLING & CLASSIC ROCK

Blond Viper is a classic rock band from Sioux Falls, South Dakota, built on memorable melodies, honest storytelling, and timeless guitar-driven rock. Formed in 2020 by songwriter and multi-instrumentalist Todd Magnuson with vocalist Terri Lawrenz, the band blends influences ranging from Tom Petty and John Fogerty to AC/DC and the Traveling Wilburys.

Their music spans energetic rock anthems, acoustic folk rock, and heartfelt ballads while always staying rooted in classic songwriting.

Before Blond Viper, Todd and Terri spent nearly a decade producing and hosting the television series Nature Adventures with Terri and Todd. They later produced award-winning independent films, including Sometimes Yesterday, whose soundtrack featured Blond Viper music and received recognition at multiple film festivals.

Since their debut, Blond Viper has released multiple albums showcasing the band's wide musical range, while remaining committed to authentic songwriting rather than chasing trends. Every release is built around songs meant to stand the test of time.
