ENTERING TODAY'S GAME

Erie's bullpen game worked again as Brant Hurter continues to dominant in long relief. Brendan White, Gerson Moreno, and Adam Wolf all grinded through tough innings with the game-tying or go-ahead run at the plate to preserve the victory. Reese Olson makes his 26th appearance (25th start) and looks to throw some quality innings to give the SeaWolves relievers some much needed rest. Olson is coming off back-to-back wins for the second time this season. The Tigers #9 prospect has been one of the best pitchers in the Eastern League, ranking second with 159 strikeouts and eight wins, fourth with a 4.15 ERA, and seventh with 115 innings pitched. Olson has a 1-1 record in five career starts against Richmond along with a 3.86 ERA over 23.1 innings. Landen Roupp makes his fifth start for the Flying Squirrels. He has struck out 29 and walked nine in 21.1 innings of work, pitching to a .200 BAA and a 1.17 WHIP.

LAST GAME

The first place Erie SeaWolves gutted out a 5-3 win in 11 innings on Wednesday night against the Richmond Flying Squirrels at The Diamond. The win, coupled with a Bowie win over Akron, keeps Erie with a one-game lead in the standings (with a tie breaker) over the Baysox and gives them a three-game lead over the RubberDucks.

The SeaWolves took the lead in the third against Richmond starter Kyle Harrison. Harrison retired the first eight batters of the game before Danny Serretti singled to extend the inning with his first Double-A knock. Dane Myers doubled home Serretti for a 1-0 lead. Spot starter Elvis Alvarado gave Erie two scoreless innings before handing it over to Brant Hurter. Hurter kept Richmond off the board hurling 4.2 scoreless. Hurter got into trouble in the seventh and left the game with runners on the corners with two outs. Brendan White struck out Ricardo Genoves to get Erie out of the jam. Erie grew the lead to 2-0 in the top of the eighth. Daniel Cabrera led off with a single against reliever Evan Gates and moved to second on a Myers walk. Parker Meadows doubled home Cabrera with his second of three hits on the night.

Richmond tied the game in the last of the eighth. Shane Matheny singled off of White with one out. White induced a flyout from Tyler Fitzgerald for the second out. He then worked to an 0-2 count on Diego Rincones before yielding a game-tying two-run home run. Rincones has now homered in consecutive games in the series. White stayed in the game and struck out the side in the ninth, sending the game to extra innings. The SeaWolves could not plate a run in the top of the 10th and turned the ball to Gerson Moreno in the bottom of the 10th inning. Genoves attempted to bunt the free runner to third but popped out to Gage Workman at third. Pinch-hitter Riley Mahan singled and advanced to second on a throw putting runners on second and third for the Squirrels. Moreno then struck out Fitzgerald and Rincones to strand the bases loaded.

Richmond summed reliever Clay Helvey for the top of the 11th. Andrew Navigato led off and grounded out to second, advancing the free runner Myers to third. With the infield playing in, Meadows singled to center with his third hit of the night to plate the go-ahead run. Helvey struck out Quincy Nieporte for the second out bringing up Josh Crouch. Crouch clobbered his first Double-A home run to straight away center, giving the SeaWolves a 5-2 lead. Adam Wolf worked the bottom of the 11th inning for Erie. He retired Will Wilson for the first out before giving up a single to Casey Schmitt putting runners on the corners. Tristan Peters grounded out, plating the free runner in Rincones to make it 5-3. Wolf induced a game-ending groundout from Carter Aldrete to earn his fourth save. Moreno (4-2) earned the win after throwing the scoreless 10th. He allowed one hit with an intentional walk and a pair of strikeouts. Moreno has earned the win in each of the first two games of the series. Helvey (1-2) took the loss allowing three runs, two earned, on two hits with no walks and two strikeouts.

Crouch played under Whitecaps skipper Brayan Pena, who caught nearly 450 games in the bigs. Pena is extremely proud of the work Crouch has put in this season and said that he has never seen anybody as passionate or as dedicated to study the game. Crouch mentioned that he is being held accountable by Pena, which has allowed him to play at his best. He's lost 10-12 pounds since the season started, eating healthy food whenever he has the chance and receiving postgame meals from his host family. At the plate, Crouch he eliminated his stride when he gets into his batting stance, adjusted to off speed and breaking pitches, and his mechanics as a hitter...featured in an article by Lynn Henning of The Detroit News on August 7. Crouch has worked with West Michigan development coach Nick Bredeson on receiving more strikes at the bottom of the zone and on the edges. Bredeson also said his game-calling has improved. Whitecaps hitting coach CJ Wamsley also had a high praise for the young catcher. Wamsley said he can hit velo, spin, righties, lefties, beat out shifts, hits with intent, focuses on improving his swing, and understands game situations.

Featured on the Road to Detroit YouTube series on August 23. Meadows was told he could move to Erie in Spring Training if he had a hot start in West Michigan. Meadows said the adjustment hasn't been too bad to Double-A, it's just that the misses are closer to the strike zone. His improvement at the plate is thanks to hitting earlier in the offseason, shortening up his swing, and looking at videos of his swing since Spring Training. Erie skipper Gabe Alvarez said he has had more repeatable and consistent at-bats at the plate, is an uber-talent, and will be a big leaguer for a long time... in an article written by Fansided a week before his Double-A callup, was described as a "toolsy outfielder" who has been given similar comps to San Diego's Trent Grisham. Beck said that Meadows worked with an old coach in Georgia for a quicker, more repeatable swing and developed a toe tap as a timing mechanism...Ranked as the Tigers #18 prospect...2022 stats in West Michigan: 14 G, .230/.288/.525/.813, 4 HR, 7 RBI, 4 BB/18 K, 16 R, 4 2B, 1 3B...2021 stats between three games in Single-A Lakeland and West Michigan: 97 G, .210/.292/.331/.623, 8 HR, 45 RBI, 52 R, 16 2B, 2 3B, 37 BB/102 K, 9/17 SB...spent the entire 2019 season with the WhiteCaps in Single-A, hit 7 HR, 40 RBI with 14 SB in 22 chances in 126 games...In 2018 between GCL Tigers West and Low-A Connecticut, he batted .290 with 4 HR and 20 R in 28 games...drafted 44th overall out of Grayson High School in Loganville, Georgia — the younger brother of Austin Meadows, who also went straight from high school to professional baseball (Class of 2013)...born in Atlanta, Georgia on 11/2/1999

2022: Featured in The Detroit News by Lynn Henning on August 21. Gabe Alvarez said "He's an elite defender at multiple positions...very good outfielder and can play Gold Glove defense at first base. Alvarez also mentioned that he is a line drive hitter that is able to leave the ballpark. The Erie skipper discussed what he needs to work on too such as his swing and miss tendencies which can contribute to the lack of professional at bats since his transition back to a hitter. Ryan Garko, who directs the Tigers player development, mentioned you can live with a little swing and miss when there's power. Garko also said, " He's a little bit older, and the clock's ticking, but he's put himself in position next year at Toledo. And once you perform there, (Triple-A) there's only one team above that...Myers was interviewed by Erie Times writer Tom Reisenweber in June...said he's happy with his position switch to a hitter as he gets to play everyday and he didn't like waiting so long in between starts... before he asked the organization to become a hitter, Detroit called him first to see if he would do the position change...called this "a blessing from God" ...Gabe Alvarez admires his dedication to the game and said his hitting ability and versatility makes him "a complete player"...
