Frequently Asked Questions

Regular Real Estate Auctions
(not applicable to tax sales)

“Winners don’t dawdle, dither, or delay. Winners Act.” John Bippus

- If I win the bid, when is the ten percent down payment due?
Live auction: The down payment is due, and the contract is signed at the conclusion of the bidding.
On-line auction: Immediately after the bidding ends the auction company will contact you by phone and email to confirm and congratulate you on being the winning bidder. We will make arrangement for you to deliver in person or overnight mail the down payment and the signed contract to us.
- Why is the property being sold at auction instead of using the ordinary listing method?
Some owners require an accelerated sale for various reasons including, foreclosure, divorce, bankruptcy, estate settlement, transfer, surplus disposal or corporate liquidation. Our Clients need to know when their property will be sold.
- Why sell at auction?
To sell on a known date, with the maximum number of interested parties present, and prepared to purchase on the day of the sale.
- What is the minimum or starting bid?
If the property is designated as an absolute property: the property will be selling to the highest and last bidder regardless of price. The bidders will start the bidding.
If the property is not designated as an absolute property: the sale is subject to seller confirmation. In the event there is no minimum bid, and/or no suggested opening bid: the bidders will start the bidding. The final bid is subject to seller approval and or probate court approval.
The seller is very motivated, and APEX AUCTIONS & REAL ESTATE expects to sell the property on auction day.
(NOTE: the seller reserves the right to make the sale absolute day of sale.)
- What will the house/property sell for?
It is not possible to give a correct answer. It all depends on the bidders on the day of auction.
- How much will the house/property bring?
There is no way of predicting the selling price prior to the day of sale. Neither APEX AUCTIONS & REAL ESTATE nor any Realtor is able to accurately predict the outcome of a sale.
- How much is the house/property worth?
A current appraisal or the last list price may give a guide.
- What is S.E.V.?
State Equalized Value and Assessed Value are essentially the same thing. They are calculated at 50% of market value by the tax assessor.
- What about title? Will I buy a property with unpaid taxes or liens? What is the mortgage?
The properties are sold with insurable title, no liens, judgments, mortgages or back taxes. If the title cannot be cleared and insurable title delivered the down payment will be refunded to the buyer. There are no assumable mortgages on auction properties. If a property has a mortgage, and the price comes in below the mortgage, the seller will bring cash to closing to pay off the mortgage.
- If I can't be present at the auction can someone bid for me? Can I bid by telephone?
Yes. You may appoint a representative to bid on your behalf or APEX AUCTIONS & REAL ESTATE offers remote bidding by telephone for both live and on-line auctions.
- Can I make an offer before the auction?
You will have to ask the auctioneer about the specific property you are interested in. You must be prepared to tell the auctioneer the price you are willing to offer when you ask. We will not provide you a price. We will write the offer and present it to the owner for acceptance.
Terms and Conditions of the auction should be followed. We recommend that you make your best offer at this time.

- What happens if the high bidder fails to close?
APEX AUCTIONS & REAL ESTATE may notify the back-up bidder to secure a new purchase agreement. The property may also be made available to other registered bidders and the open market.
- What guarantees are there?
The seller provides title insurance and a warranty deed at closing, guaranteeing insurable title, clear of liens.
The real property is sold "as-is". Any inspections must be completed prior to the auction. You are relying on your own inspections and determinations to bid. Personal property is not included in the sale and may or may not be removed prior to closing. In most cases personal property that remains after the closing becomes the property of the new owner.
- What is the Buyer's Premium?
The buyer's premium becomes part of the purchase price. Ten percent will be added to the bid to become the total cost of acquisition.
- Is there any financing?
No. The buyer is responsible for their own financing. Many of our buyers close with financing. If you win the bid and plan to close with financing let us know. We will work with your lender to aid them in getting the transaction to closing.
- Who is responsible for municipal inspections?
It is the buyer's responsibility to pay for and obtain all required municipal inspections, make required repairs, and obtain any certificates of occupancy, including payment for the same.
- This is my first auction, what should I do?
First, we recommend that you call your lender and pre-qualify. Then check out the values in the neighborhood and inspect the property. Set a range of value or limit for your bidding and be prepared to bid up to that limit.
For a live auction: Arrive early at the auction-site to register and get to know the auction staff. Get comfortable and relax. Listen closely to the Auctioneer. Raise your bid card to signal a bid. The Auctioneer will use his rhythmic "chant" to call bids. Bid assistants will be available to help you. Don't be bashful or you may miss a great opportunity.
- How long will the auction last?
Live auctions take only a few minutes and start precisely on time. It is advised that bidders arrive 15 to 30 minutes before sale time.
- How big is the response to auctions? How many people show up or bid on-line?
There is no way to predict this. You never really know how many bidders will participate.

AUCTIONEER'S NOTE:

If you are interested in an advertised property, whatever price you have in mind, BippusUSA.com strongly encourages you to participate in the auction. The process doesn't take long and it can be fun. We are not in this business for practice, at the end of the sale someone will be the lucky winning bidder.

Why shouldn't it be you!

“Winners don’t let what they can’t do get in the way of what you can do.” John Bippus

Disclosure Regarding Real Estate Agency Relationships

DUAL AGENTS

A real estate licensee can be the agent of both the seller and the buyer in a transaction, but only with the knowledge and informed consent, in writing, of both the seller and the buyer. In such a dual agency situation, the licensee will not be able to disclose all known information to either the seller or the buyer. As a dual agent, the licensee will not be able to provide the full range of fiduciary duties to the seller or the buyer. The obligations of a dual agent are subject to any specific provisions set forth in any agreement between the dual agent, the seller and the buyer.

TRANSACTION COORDINATOR

A transaction coordinator is a licensee who is not acting as an agent of either the seller or the buyer, yet is providing services to complete a real estate transaction. The transaction coordinator is not an agent for either party and therefore owes no fiduciary duty to either party.

DESIGNATED AGENCY

A buyer or seller with a designated agency agreement is represented only by agents specifically named in the agreement. Any agents of the firm not named in the agreement do not represent the buyer or seller. The named "designated" agent acts solely on behalf of his or her client and may only share confidential information about the client with the agent's supervisory broker who is also named in the agreement. Other agents in the firm have no duties to the buyer or seller and may act solely on behalf of another party in the transaction.
