HOSKEN'S HUDDLE

1

EMU PLAINS VS ST CLAIR

If this match is even half as good as last season's prelim, fans are in for a treat at Leonay Oval.

Among a host of big-name recruits, look for former NRL star Nathan Davis to lead the premiers' attack, while Jesse Poulsen can impress on debut for the hosts, and wipe away the pain of last year's heartbreaking exit.

2

COLYTON VS RIVERSTONE

With their stocks ravaged in the off-season, a revamped Colts team will be on display at home against last season's wooden spooner, Riverstone.

A new face for Colyton, Kyle Whitton is expected to make an impression in the No.1 jersey. Eager to score more points, new Razorbacks signing Ruakapanga Henare can anticipate plenty of ball out wide.

3

CAMBRIDGE PARK VS WINDSOR

Watch out, Windsor - Cambo loves nothing more than setting up an ambush at home, especially in the first round.

Last season, Kodah Karipa's men had Allsopp Patterson rocking when they pulled the rug out from under Emu Plains. You can bet they'll be employing the same tactics against a Wolves lineup eager for redemption after last season's grand final loss.

4

ST MARYS VS BROTHERS

In the only game on Sunday, it's the battle of the new coaches as Saints host Brothers at St Marys Leagues.

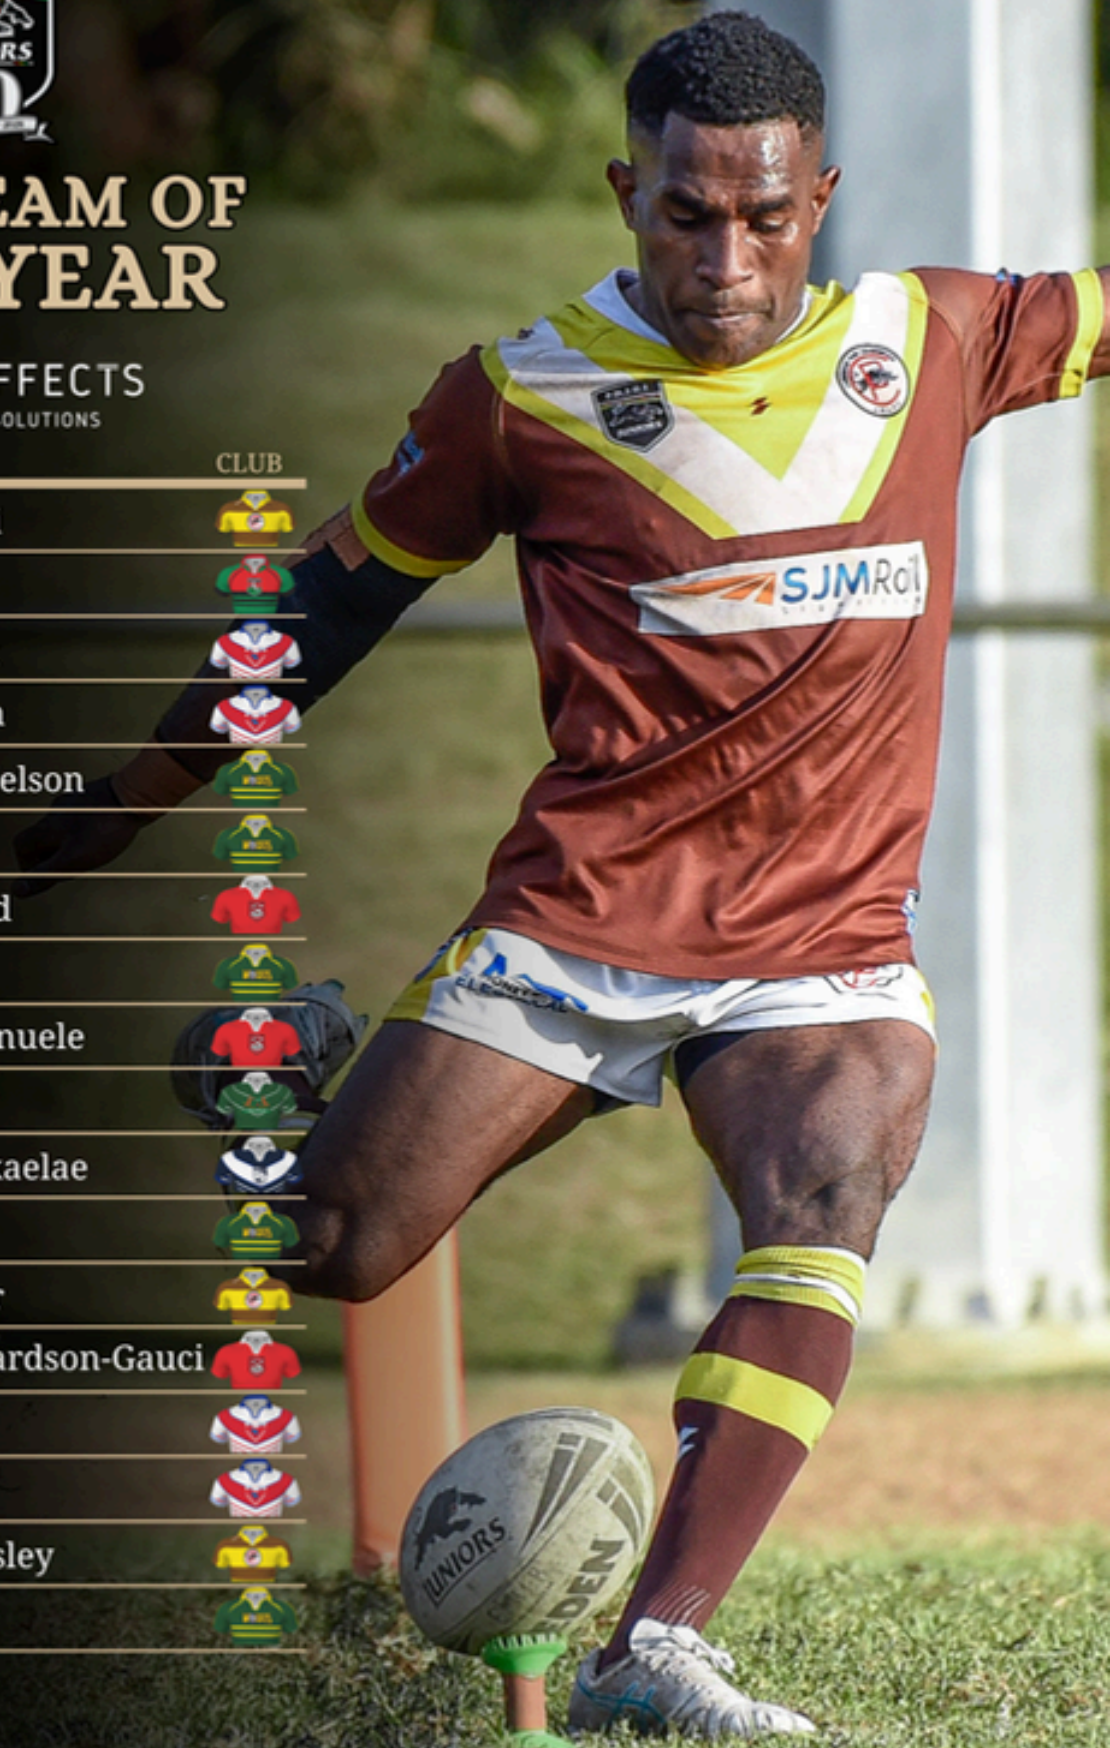

For St Marys, Grant Mitchell will be eager to see how his side kicks off the new season following a modified training program. Meanwhile, Nik Savage will be aiming for a perfect start to his tenure as Brothers' head coach.
