The Washington County Historical Advisory Committee is seeking nominations for the Annual John C. Frye Historic Preservation Awards. These awards are intended to strengthen the preservation ethic by honoring outstanding groups and projects in Washington County, MD, that further the mission of historic preservation.

Since 1978, more than 75 awards have been presented to a wide variety of preservation projects to recognize outstanding achievement and excellence in the field of historic preservation.

It is hoped that these awards will enhance awareness of excellence in historic preservation in Washington County, promote and expand understanding of historic homes and sites, and educate both tourists and residents about their role in preserving the overall "power of place" that drives this region's attractiveness.

The public is encouraged to nominate any individual, business, organization, building, or project that it feels deserves recognition under the following three categories. All nominated projects must be located in Washington County, MD.

Preservation Award

This award recognizes excellence in the preservation and restoration of historic buildings. Projects should include architectural integrity and compatibility, quality of construction, and craftsmanship, or technical excellence.

Advocacy Award

This award recognizes outstanding achievement in and support for furthering the aims of historic preservation in Washington County, including education, research, development, planning advocacy, and community leadership.

Adaptive Reuse Award

This award recognizes successful adaptation or reuse of a historic structure without compromising the original architectural integrity. Project must display compatibility, quality of construction, and craftsmanship, or technical excellence.
