

Policy

Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts (Blue Cross*) reimburses contracted health care providers for covered, medically necessary mental health telehealth services.

This payment policy describes reimbursement for telehealth (telemedicine) and other electronic communication services in line with Chapter 260 of the Acts of 2020: The Patients First Act, which occur when the physician or other qualified health care professional and the patient are not at the same site. Examples of such services are those that are delivered via the telephone or using other communication devices. Any and all parts of this payment policy may be changed to comply with regulations or guidance from the Division of Insurance.

Blue Cross providers must deliver telehealth and telephone services via a secure and private data connection. All transactions and data communication must comply with the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA). For more information on HIPAA and electronic protected health information (EPHI) compliance, please see: <https://www.hhs.gov/hipaa/for-professionals/index.html>

Telehealth services are reimbursed when:

- The provider is contracted with Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts or is providing services through a telehealth vendor contracted with another Blue Cross Blue Shield Plan and meets all terms and conditions of the applicable contracts, including credentialing and licensure.
- The provider renders care from the location listed in his or her contract with Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts or other appropriate location(s), in a professional, non-public space.
- The provider must be licensed in accordance with applicable state law in the state where the member is physically located during the telehealth visit. It is up to the provider to comply with Federal and state legislative rules on telehealth.

Documentation requirements for telehealth:

- For an initial appointment with a new patient, the provider must review the patient's relevant medical history and medical records with the patient before initiating the delivery of any service.
- For existing provider-patient relationships, the provider must review the patient's medical history and any available medical records with the patient during the service.
- Before each appointment, the provider must ensure that the provider is able to deliver the services to the same standard as in-person care and in compliance with their licensure regulations and requirements, programmatic regulations, and performance specifications related to the service (e.g., accessibility and communication access).
- If the provider cannot meet the appropriate standard of care or other requirements for providing requested care via telehealth, then they must make this determination before delivering treatment. They must also notify the patient, and advise the patient to seek appropriate in-person care.
- To the extent feasible, providers must ensure patients the same rights to confidentiality and security as provided in face-to-face services, and providers must inform patients of any relevant privacy considerations before providing services via telehealth.
- Providers must follow consent and patient information protocols consistent with the protocols followed during in-person visits.
- Providers must inform patients of the location of the provider rendering services via telehealth (i.e., distant site) and obtain the location of the patient (i.e., originating site).
- Providers must inform the patient how to see a clinician in-person in the event of an emergency or otherwise.
- Evaluation and management documentation requirements must be met as outlined in the Evaluation and Management payment policy.
- Telehealth services including evaluation and management services must meet the documentation standards to support the level of service provided.
